Admit Black Sea Port Falls.

MOSCOW, Sept. 12 [Saturday]—(AP).—Russian troops defending Stalingrad under a "fight to the death" order were reported officially today to have stopped the Nazi tide in one of the greatest struggles of history, but the Red army of the Caucasus has abandoned Novorossisk on the Black sea coast.

Courageously holding their ground under constant artillery and dive bomber charges, the Red army west and southwest of Stalingrad beat off constant German infantry charges, destroying 31 more Nazi tanks and killing hundreds of the enemy, the communique said.

Death at Russian hands was promised for any Red exhibition of cowardice in the epic struggle on the western bank of the Volga river.

First Halt of Nazi Drive.

It was the first time the Russians had stopped the Germans west of the city after the Nazis really began moving in from that direction this week. The soviets had withdrawn four times in the previous four days.

Soviet troops even counterattacked southwest of Stalingrad in one sector to throw the Germans "back to their initial positions" after several Nazi assaults had carried the enemy into Russian defenses, the communique said.

The Germans had claimed the capture of Novorossisk last Sunday. The withdrawing soviet units apparently retreated into the mountains which sweep close to the sea between Novorossisk and Tuapse, 65 miles farther south along the coast.

Resume Fight in North.

Continued Russian success was reported at Mozdok on the Terek river, 60 miles west of the Grozny oil fields. Still fighting against German units which had crossed the river, the Russians were reported to have killed 2,000 Germans and destroyed 90 tanks in the last five days.

The communique reported a resumption of fighting on two sectors far to the north, the Volkhov river sector in the Leningrad defense area, and also west of Moscow. Several inhabited localities were captured in the Volkov region, and the Germans lost 26 tanks in an unsuccessful counterattack, the Russians said. West of Moscow several enemy strong points also were reported taken.

Biggest Battle of War.

But one of the biggest battles of this war and of history was the fight for Stalingrad.

[The Vichy French radio said in a broadcast that street fighting was raging in the southern suburbs of Stalingrad, where advance German elements had penetrated.]

Battle dispatches said the total armies involved exceeded the 1,000,000 men who fought on both sides in the battle of Moscow last year. They said, too, that the most powerful army that the Germans ever assembled in Russia, more than 500,000 men, 1,000 planes, and many hundreds of tanks, had orders from Hitler to take Stalingrad, immediately, at any cost.

This, said the army organ Red Star, was revealed by captured German documents.

[The German high command said the attacking forces had penetrated to the Volga river both above and below Stalingrad, and captured more fortified positions south of the city.]

TELLS OF MURMANSK RAIDS

Miami, Fla., Sept. 11 (AP).—An American merchant marine captain who lived thru 195 air raids in 41 days while German planes were attempting to destroy Murmansk expressed confidence today in the Russians' ability to hold out until their foe is beaten.

"The Russians are great fighters. Every man, woman and child is filled with the spirit to win," related Capt. A. W. Pearsson of Brooklyn, N. Y., who went to the far northern port to carry out an assignment for the American Maritime commission.

Pearsson's adventures started in May when the British ship carrying him to Murmansk was sunk. The only casualty was the captain's interpreter, who was killed by the explosion.

Pearsson was picked up by one of the naval vessels escorting the con-

PILOTLESS SHIP EXPLODES INSIDE PLANT; 43 HURT

Test Flyer Is Saved by Parachute.

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 11 [Special].—A new airplane burst into flames high over Buffalo late today and, pilotless, plummeted thru the roof of a building at the Curtiss-Wright Airplane division plant, killing six workers and injuring 43 others. The ship, a Curtiss-Wright, was being flight tested before being accepted by the army. The cause of the fire has not been ascertained.

The pilot, J. Bertrand Purnell, 33 years old, a veteran test airman and a Curtiss flyer since May, bailed out after unsuccessfully fighting the flames at an altitude of about 15,000 feet. He parachuted to earth about two miles from the plant, but is in a serious condition from burns on his face and body.

Plane Plows Into Roof.

The flaming ship soared about the sky, zigzagging earthward after the pilot left it, and plowed into the roof of a one story structure about as high as an ordinary three story building.

As it dropped to the floor of the building, the gasoline tanks exploded in a thunderous, rending blast that showered burning gasoline and pieces of metal over the men at work.

The dead are Frank A. Ryan, 37 years old, of Kenmore, a suburb of Buffalo; Lester Glenn, a civilian employed as a United States army inspector; Martin Till, Frank Warda, Carlson Rauh, and a man whose body was so badly burned that it was said identification would have to await an examination of his fingerprints. Ryan and the unidentified man were killed instantly, the others died in hospitals a few hours after the accident.

Emergency wards in six hospitals were jammed as fleets of ambulances brought in the victims. Of the 43 injured, hospitals listed 19 as in critical condition and 21 as serjously hurt.

Workman Tells Story.

From his hospital cot, Winston J. Dandrew, 24, a workman who was in the building when the plane crashed thru, told of the sudden destruction in which he narrowly escaped death.

"We thought at first it was a bombing," he related, "but there really wasn't time to think of anything—everything happened so fast. First there was the crash of the plane thru the roof. Then, almost simultaneously, it seemed, a blinding flash occurred as the plane exploded.

"Just where it exploded—whether on the floor or between the roof and the floor—I couldn't say. But I do know the plane was torn to pieces by the explosion. Flames and bits of metal were shot in all directions.

"I couldn't have been more than a foot or two to the side of the edge of the hole above me. It is hard for me to understand how I escaped alive. A piece of metal hit me in the arm, but aside from that the flying pieces seemed to miss me.

Men's Clothes Burned Off.

"One badly burned man was on his hands and knees and screaming constantly. Others had their clothes all burned off them. However, rescue workers did a wonderful job in getting to and treating the injured as soon as possible. The fire was put out in short order."

William Davey, general manager of Curtiss plants here, said damage to the building into which the ship plunged was "very slight" and added that production continued.

John J. Kenneth, a taxicab driver, said he saw the plane when it was aflame high in the sky. He saw the pilot roll the plane over and fall out of the cockpit, then watched as the ship skipped thru the air currents as it dropped toward him.

Too Scared to Move.

"I wanted to run but I couldn't—I was scared stiff," he said. "The plane swept over the Curtiss roof and crashed, sending up black smoke 30 or 40 feet high."

Pilot Purnell began flying in Philadelphia when he was 13 and has more than 3,500 hours in the air. He helped found the Montgomery, Ala., School of Aeronautics, flew the first plane on the American Eagle line between Omaha, Neb., and Wichita, Kas., and was an instructor at the Mississippi Institute of Aeronautics at Jackson, Miss., before joining Curtiss.

YANKEE BOMBER SINKS U-BOAT; IT MOVES HIM TO 'TOP OF THE CLASS'

ALEXANDRIA, Egypt, Sept. 11 (AP).—A United States bomber recently sank a U-boat in the eastern Mediterranean. The pilot radioed the information to his base, then gave his approximate position and added, for confirmation, "Where am I?"

The answer came back:

"At the top of the class."

WAR BABY MUST LEARN TO WALK; FEW PRAMS MADE

New York, Sept. 11 (AP).—Now it's a shortage of baby carriages that is threatened by the war.

As the birth rate climbs like the war debt and use of automobiles declines, demand for baby carriages becomes heavier. But their best business in years finds manufacturers least able to supply their customers. The WPB has held output to a quota based on the year ending July 1, 1941.

More drastic is the restriction on use of steel. Only six pounds may be used per carriage, and only steel already cut by June 12 may be used. Several manufacturers have simply quit making carriages. Others are bringing out models made largely of wood.

Retailers, so far, have plenty of the prams on hand and will receive some wooden types soon. But stocks are being depleted rapidly.

The wartime baby may have to stay home until it can walk abroad.

SCOTLAND TOLD BOMBS WON'T GET ITS WHISKY

LONDON, Sept. 11.—Scotland can now rest assured that its big supplies of whisky won't go up in flames if populous centers are bombed.

The possibility of fire had caused some anxiety in Scotland, but the house of commons was told today that most of the whisky and other inflammable materials had been moved out of the vulnerable areas.

Anxiety of another sort, however, may crop up as a result of an announcement by the ministry of food that no more cereals will be available during the coming season for the manufacture of grain whisky.

Hints Freedom for 'Reformed' 1924 Fugitive

Ormund Westgate, who escaped from the Joliet penitentiary in 1924, fled to New York, rehabilitated himself, married and became the father of a son only to be caught when his finger prints were taken to permit him to work in a war plant, stood a good chance last night of being allowed to continue the exemplary life he has been living.

Gov. Dwight H. Green, who was in Du Quoin, said he was unfamiliar with the Westgate case and would not commit himself until he had studied the record and conferred with prison officials, but that it has been his policy to refuse to issue warrants for the return of escaped prisoners who have rehabilitated themselves.

Two Others Left Free.

Gov. Green has established a precedent for permitting rehabilitated fugitives to continue their lives with their families. Two escaped prisoners were found last winter, one of whom had been a fugitive for 20 years, and neither was returned.

After being notified by the Federal Bureau of Investigation that Westgate was in New York, E. M. Stubblefield, warden of the Joliet prison, issued a routine request for his arrest and detention.

In New York yesterday Westgate was paroled in the custody of the Rev. E. Harold Smith, who officiated at his marriage 10 years ago. Father Smith obtained the parole after telling Judge Jacob G. Schurman Jr. in General Sessions court that Westgate and his wife were devout churchgoers and persons of good character.

Lawes Urges Parole.

Lewis E. Lawes, former warden of Sing Sing prison in New York, said that, if the facts were as represented, "It would be only common sense for the state of Illinois to allow Westgate his full freedom. Westgate probably has accomplished by irregular means what prison officials hoped to accomplish by regular means. Why throw his family on relief? I believe this man could be paroled by Illinois and the best interests of justice would be served."

The New York News, in an editorial entitled "A Modern Jean Valjean," urged that Westgate be speedily granted his liberty.

After his escape Westgate changed his name to Patrick James O'Brien. Westgate said yesterday he had become an electrician by developing a knowledge he had gained in prison. He said he took a chance of being exposed by his finger prints in order to continue his earnings of $100 a week so that he might pay indebtedness caused by recent illnesses of his wife and their son, 9 years old.

A New York assistant district attorney has pronounced Westgate's recent life exemplary.

REPORT H. J. KAISER WILL GET CONTRACT FOR A CARGO PLANE

Washington, D. C., Sept. 11 [Special].—Indications that Henry J. Kaiser, west coast contractor, will be authorized to construct at least one large scale cargo carrying plane as a result of conferences with Donald M. Nelson, chairman of War Production board, grew here tonight.

Nelson's aviation advisers are reported to have recommended construction of one or more large cargo carriers on an experimental basis be entrusted to Kaiser and that he be authorized to employ Howard Hughes, millionaire aviation enthusiast who has been working with Kaiser, to design the new type ships.

Asked if he would accept an experimental order for one or two ships, Kaiser said he would, altho he naturally preferred to get an order for several hundred planes.

Nelson's aviation advisers have contended, according to reports, that the public airing of the controversy over whether Kaiser was qualified to build cargo planes has served to nullify the good work he has done in stimulating interest in the cargo plane and its possibilities.

Moral: Don't Use Dog's Name for a Ration Card

TORONTO, Ont., Sept. 11 (AP). — Verney Harrop of Toronto was fined $100 and costs with the alternative of a month in jail in police court today for false representation on a ration card made out to "William, aged 6." The wartime prices and trade board brought the charge on discovery that "William, aged 6" was a dog.

GET REVENGE IN SOLOMONS; STORY OF A NIGHT PATROL

How Americans Killed Foe; 25 Yanks Land on Beach, Only 3 Return.

Two dramatic dispatches from Guadalcanal, one of the Solomon Islands captured from the Japanese by United States marines, were released for publication yesterday. One story, written by a combat correspondent, describes a fight between a night patrol of 25 marines and a superior number of enemy troops on a beach. Only three Americans survived. The other dispatch tells how American troops have started "to pay back the Japs for Wake Island."

BY SERGT. J. W. HURLBUT.

GUADALCANAL, Solomon Islands, Aug. 14 [Delayed]—(AP).—This is the story of a night patrol which fought in the Solomons. There were 4 officers and 21 enlisted men in this group. Their mission was to penetrate Japanese territory and locate the main center of enemy resistance.

They proceeded in a small boat to a remote beach on Guadalcanal. After establishing a beachhead they pushed forward into the jungle to seek the enemy.

Deep in the defenders' territory one group of the patrol ran into a burst of machine gun fire. Only two of the men returned to the beach, one of them badly wounded.

Fight Hand to Hand.

Other members of the patrol engaged in hand to hand struggles with enemy outposts. Badly outnumbered, they fought their way back to their comrades.

Soon their beachhead was surrounded and the Japanese opened up with machine guns on the left flank. The order was given to dig in. With canteen cups and helmets the men dug fox holes in the sand. They sent volley after volley into the darkness, and the cries of many enemy wounded were heard.

Slowly the marine patrol was being cut to pieces. Sergt. Charles C. Arndt of Okolono, Miss., was sent to swim and crawl his way along the shoreline to get help. He had not gone 200 yards when he was heard shooting it out with an enemy. Believing him killed, the officer in charge later sent back a second man, Corp. Joseph Spalding of New York City.

Help Arrives Too Late.

Both of these men, exhausted and badly cut from crawling over coral reefs, got thru safely, but help could not be sent in time to save the gallant men who stayed to fight it out on that lonely, bullet torn beach.

Sergt. Arndt told how he got his man. He swam for some distance, clad only in field shoes and helmet. His pistol was tied to the chin strap of his helmet.

Coming in to the shore, he spied two Japs who evidently were waiting for him. He unstrapped his pistol, took careful aim and knocked down one Jap. The other "ran off like a scared rabbit." Arndt stole a rowboat from a small Jap camp near by and got in safely.

Spalding swam to the same camp at which Arndt had obtained the rowboat. Thinking it a marine outpost he walked to within 20 feet of it before coming face to face with a Jap soldier. Being unarmed, he turned and dived back into the water. The Jap fired at him without success.

Eats a Candy Bar.

Farther on Spalding came to a mile long beach which he was unable to swim around. He took his waterproof wrapped iron ration candy bar out of his pocket and began eating it. Nothing happened.

Of the other members of the party who stayed behind only one returned. He was Sergt. Frank L. Few, Oklahoma City, Okla. Sergt. Few swam four miles to a white sandy beach.

"I climbed out of the water," he related, "and ran like hell to the main body."

Sergt. Few said that after Spalding left the others dug into fox holes on the beach.

Early in the morning the tide began to come in and washed out the fox holes.

By this time many other members of the patrol had been hit. Sergt. Few, seeing further resistance was futile, headed out into the ocean.

As he looked back over his shoulder, Few said, "I could see the Japs back on the beach using their bayonets on our wounded."

BY CLARK LEE.

WITH THE UNITED STATES MARINES ON GUADALCANAL ISLAND, Aug. 24 [Delayed]—(AP).—"We've started to pay them back for Wake Island," I was told today by American marines. They occupied Guadalcanal and Tulagi Islands in the southeastern Solomons two weeks ago in the first stages of the American-Japanese land, sea, and air battle.

Gen. A. A. Vandegrift.

The marines, who since Aug. 8 successfully have fought off one large landing attempt and numerous air attacks, reported they had found on Japanese bodies rings and other possessions belonging to American marines who had been stationed at Wake Island.

Evidently these shock troops were among the 800 Japanese annihilated by the marines last week after a strong Japanese force which landed secretly on the coast of Guadalcanal was intercepted by the marines and wiped out by tanks and machine guns.

Japs Take to the Hills.

At his headquarters, which until Aug. 7 were occupied by the Japanese, Maj. Gen. Alexander A. Vandegrift said that the marines under his command met far less opposition on Guadalcanal than had been expected.

"The Japs took to the hills like rabbits when our airplanes attacked on the morning of Aug. 7 and our ships started shelling," Gen. Vandegrift said. "Army planes had raided them during the preceding several days and they thought it was just another raid.

"We came ashore here almost without opposition since they had fled to the hills instead of manning the beaches."

Thereafter the Japanese, who were cut off from their supplies, were unable to do much more than snipe at the marines until Aug. 18 when they landed in force. The marines, however, cut them off in a coconut grove several miles from the air field and wiped them out.

Kill 150 Japs in Water.

"In addition to the 670 bodies you've seen in the coconut grove," Gen. Vandegrift said, "some 150 more were killed attempting to swim away. Their bodies washed ashore and the Sealark channel and the Tenaru river were red with their blood. We believe no more than 30 Japs escaped and fled to the hills."

It was evident the American attack Aug. 7 couldn't have been better timed. The majority of the Japanese on Guadalcanal were work battalions with a relatively small number of regular soldiers.

The air field on the island had just been completed and Japanese planes probably would have moved in within a few days. American planes now are using the field.

Americans Eat Jap Rice.

The Japanese had completed construction of steel hangars, telephone and water systems, and had large quantities of heavy materials such as dynamos, steam rollers, and trucks. Tents and wooden barracks also had been set up.

The United States marines are using these materials. They also are eating Japanese rice, drinking Japanese beer and saki, driving Japanese trucks, utilizing their gun emplacements, wearing enemy raincoats, and smoking Japanese cigarets.

Visiting the prison camp in the coconut grove, I saw some 300 prisoners of whom only seven were regular troops. The others were workers—small, scrawny and scared. They have been surrendering in small groups since Aug. 7, either thru natives or by approaching marines with their hands raised. The captives said they were hungry.

Two frightened Japanese emerged from the woods only 50 yards behind our parked plane this morning and surrendered to the marines who were eating breakfast. Simultaneously, marine sharpshooters knocked a Jap sniper out of a tree a few hundred yards down the runway.

Japs Use All Their Tricks.

The marines reported that the Japanese were using all the tricks of fighting they had employed in the Philippines.

They said the Japanese on Tulagi used Japanese nurses as human decoys. When the marines approached a hospital, a group of Japanese girls in white uniforms came out. The marines went over to them and Jap soldiers opened fire with machine guns from the hospital windows, cutting down both the marines and the Japanese nurses.

A typical Japanese trick that worked only once resulted in the death of some 20 marines. A Jap major came out of the wood on Guadalcanal and reported that 70 soldiers wished to surrender. He offered to lead the marines to them.

The marines followed him into ambush.

Japs Play Dead.

Japanese frequently played dead, then threw grenades when the marines were not looking. Others, their hands raised in apparent surrender, would throw small pellets of explosives when the marines came near them.

Now the marines make certain that dead Japs are dead.

The marines aren't the least bit awed by the reputed fighting ability of their enemies. They said that with the exception of at Tulagi and Tanambogo the Japanese showed no signs of courage and intelligence.

When the Japanese lose their leadership or something goes wrong with their plans, the marines said, they become confused and do not know what to do except to stand and be killed or try to run or swim away.

American marines, from the foot soldiers to the aviators, and from privates to generals, are the most impressive body of fighters I've seen in this war.

SMASHES TWO SUBS

BY CLARK LEE.

AT SEA WITH THE UNITED STATES FLEET OFF SOLOMON ISLANDS, Aug. 25 [Delayed]—(AP).—Ensign Glenn Estes Jr. of Franklin, La., surprised a pair of enemy submarines on the surface today and attacked one of them with a bomb and damaged the other by strafing.

On patrol in his dive bomber, Estes sighted the two submarines about a mile apart. He flew between them and one crash dived, but the other remained on the surface apparently not seeing the plane.

Estes said, "I could hardly believe my eyes when he kept steaming along at 12 knots while I got lined up for a dive. I glided down from 2,000 feet and released a bomb.

Saw Japs on Deck.

"The submarine immediately slowed to three or four knots, then seemed to lose all headway. I circled and made three strafing attacks and on the second one I saw two Japs running from aft to forward along the deck. My rear gunner also fired.

"The submarine began to settle very slowly and within five minutes it disappeared completely. The last I saw was the top of its periscope and the stanchion on the bow, both going under water simultaneously, indicating the sub was tilted far up by the bow.

"I went back to the ship and reported, then returned and saw an oil slick."

Sub Springs Leak.

Estes looked around and saw the other submarine again. It had surfaced about five miles away.

"I made two strafing runs and saw my tracers and incendiaries bounding off the sides of the sub," he said.

"He crash dived leaking oil, but I don't believe he was sunk."

Estes has a sharp eye for submarines. Two days ago he attacked one on the surface with his machine guns and saw it leak oil.

ENGLAND TAUNTS DUCE FOR MISSING THE BUS IN AFRICA

LONDON, Sept. 11 (AP).—Twitting Mussolini for his failure to attack the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan with his far greater forces in 1940, the war office commented today that "any Italian general who looks back at that time must feel inclined to kick himself for the waste of those precious weeks."

Il Duce's costly procrastination at a time when he had 300,000 troops to throw against only 7,000 imperials in the Sudan was related in a 150 page booklet, "The Abyssinian Campaigns." This account of the 18 month campaign which cost Italy her East African empire set forth that Mussolini was in strong position by the end of August, 1940, for simultaneous drives from Ethiopia, Eritrea, and Libya.

"There was nothing to stop him sweeping up thru the Sudan," the booklet said. "If he had only known it, resolute and coördinated attacks might have closed the jaws and Italy might have contributed Africa as Germany was contributing Europe to axis spoils." But the attack never came and the British soon launched their own successful campaign.

Pittsburgh Newspaper Raises Price to 4 Cents

Pittsburgh, Pa., Sept. 11 (AP). — The morning Post-Gazette tonight announced it was increasing the price of its paper 1 cent a copy to 4 cents, effective Monday. The rising costs of operation and war service made the step necessary, the newspaper stated.

COOLIES HAUL JAP SUPPLIES ACROSS PEAKS OF GUINEA

Invaders Import Coreans to Do the Job.

BY E. R. NODERER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SOMEWHERE IN AUSTRALIA, Sept. 11—[Passed by military censor].—Coolies imported from Corea are being used by the Japanese to carry supplies over the jagged peaks of the Owen Stanley range to troops fighting their way down the trail toward the allied base of Port Moresby in New Guinea, according to reports from the combat zone.

Mules are used as long as possible, then strings of coolie bearers take over the burdens. It is said the coolies drop their loads and run under aerial strafing or mortar fire, but being in a strange country, they eventually return to the job. One of the problems in using natives on their home ground is that they take to the bush at the first roar of a bomb and never return.

The British found this out in Singapore, where airdromes became unusable because native laborers employed to fill up craters fled and were not seen again.

Coolies have been able to haul up the New Guinea trail and over the 6,500 foot gap two 37 millimeter rapid fire weapons weighing hundreds of pounds. Presumably they are dismantled every time it is necessary to shift them very far.

Paint Faces Green.

Australian troops say these weapons are not very effective since the trees and heavy brush make it difficult for them to get a clear field of fire.

The Japanese troops are about 5 feet 7 inches tall and of stocky build, with heavy shoulders and legs. Some Australian soldiers describe them as "fat" types.

As in all other areas where supply is a problem, the Japs enjoy an advantage in having lighter ammunition. The .256 caliber rounds used in their rifles and machine guns weigh less than the .303 caliber bullets used in Australian weapons.

The allied combat troops are Australian units, but there are American air forces, anti-aircraft, and engineering troops on the island.

Brush Covers Mountains.

The Owen Stanley range consists of a series of very steep ridges, often rising at angles of 60 degrees, with a rocky escarpment at the top. The mountains are heavily covered with trees and thick brush five or six feet high, which, while affording good cover, is not difficult to move thru. The brush is not the vine clutching, root tripping, impenetrable type of undergrowth found in some jungle areas, thru which a way must be hacked with a machete.

The Australians use flanking movements similar to the Japanese tactics, but the enemy executes a wider envelopment, often spreading out several miles on either side of a trail.

Most of the fighting goes on in the daytime. During the night flanking patrols of both sides are active, opening fire wherever contact is made at daybreak.

Fight at Close Quarters.

Nearly all the combat has been at close quarters, since it is impossible to see the enemy from any great distance.

Each side has its own way of preventing cooking fires from drawing the attention of snipers. The Australians do not build any. The Japs build hundreds of them, 90 per cent of which are phonies with nobody in the vicinity. They cook on the remaining 10 per cent.

DECORATE THREE YANK AIRMEN IN BRITISH FORCES

LONDON, Sept. 11 (AP).—Squadron Leader Gregory [Gus] Daymond, 22 years old, former Hollywood makeup man now flying with an Eagle squadron, was awarded a bar to the British distinguished flying cross today. He was credited with seven air victories and was cited for valor in the Commando raid on Dieppe.

At the same time, the distinguished flying cross was awarded to Flight Lieut. Frederick E. Green, 26, who was born in Petersburg, Va., and now is flying with the royal Canadian air force. His citation said he was credited with three victories and "has invariably displayed high skill and great determination."

Acting Squadron Leader Chesley Peterson, born in Salmon, Idaho, and who already has been awarded the distinguished flying cross, was awarded the distinguished service order. His citation said that while flying with an Eagle squadron during the Dieppe raid he destroyed a JU-88, bringing his victories to six, and always had "displayed high qualities of leadership and courage."

JAPS HAVE MET MATCH AT LAST, FORRESTAL FINDS

Inspection Shows Yanks 'Equally Tough.'

Washington, D. C., Sept. 11 (AP).—Just back from an inspection of the Pacific fighting area, James V. Forrestal, undersecretary of the navy, said today it would "be a tough job" for the Japanese to recapture Guadalcanal in the Solomon Islands.

"In the marines," he added, "they have met equally tough and alert people for the first time."

The undersecretary described his experiences at a press conference held jointly with Secretary Frank Knox. The conference produced information that Knox will visit Rio De Janeiro within the next two months and inspect American outposts en route.

Japs Outmatched in Air.

Forrestal highly praised American planes and their crews. The Japs were outmatched in the air, he said, both in the quality of planes and the skill and courage of the men who fly them.

The Jap Zero fighter is light and highly maneuverable, he added, but one hit was enough to finish it because of its lack of armor. He called it "very vulnerable" and expressed the opinion that it would soon be armored, which would decrease its maneuverability.

He reported, too, that American airmen in the Pacific were of the opinion that the quality of the Japanese aviators is deteriorating. Both their flying skill and their determination are below the grade of what our fellows met earlier in the war, he said.

Pearl Harbor Normal Again.

Pearl Harbor, he said, looked "perfectly normal again," and Midway Island was in "good shape." The American garrison there, he added, is "looking for the Japs any time they want to come back."

Forrestal told a story of a marine in a battle area who picked up a wounded Jap to carry him to a hospital. The marine "suddenly felt a sharp pain," he said, "and found that the Jap was biting him."

Jap Suicide Tactics.

To this Knox added a story told to him by Lieut. Gen. Thomas Holcomb, commandant of the marine corps. A wounded Japanese lay on the ground, with a hand grenade clasped beneath his body. When a marine approached, the Japanese pulled the pin and killed both himself and the marine.

"This happened at least twice," Knox said.

Forrestal also said that army, navy, and air corps are operating in the closest harmony and utmost coöperation.

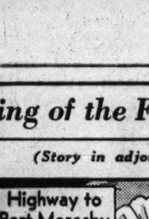
"Red tape doesn't exist out there," he said. "Bullets cut thru that in no time."

Mexico Bans Some Types of Gambling to Curb Spies

MEXICO CITY, Mexico, Sept. 11 (AP).—The government banned certain forms of gambling today in a decree which explained the action was taken to prevent enemy agents from using gaming rooms to obtain secret war information. Exceptions were made for the national lottery, raffles by stores and newspapers, and horse racing, in which bettors are now required to obtain special government authorization to participate.

CANADIAN PROPOSES F. D. R. AS DICTATOR OF U. S. AND BRITAIN

OTTAWA, Ont., Sept. 11 [Canadian Press].—The united nations cannot win the war until the English speaking people unite under one leader, and that leader should be President Roosevelt, Maj. William Duncan Herridge, former Canadian minister to Washington, D. C., declared here today.



William Herridge.

Speaking "as a Canadian and a British subject," Herridge said that Prime Minister Churchill, representing the British empire, should nominate Mr. Roosevelt for the allied leadership, and that the President should have dictatorial powers and a great general staff—half British and half American—to advise him.

"We must purge democracy of its peacetime weakness. We must build the English speaking people into one great engine of destruction," Herridge said. "For that purpose we must have one leader for the English speaking people. That leader must have the power of a dictator."

REPORT ITALIAN SOCIALIST PARTY IN ACTION AGAIN

BERNE, Switzerland, Sept. 11 (AP).—The Socialist party in Italy, which Benito Mussolini's followers in early days beat down with clubs, castor oil treatments, and assassination, was reported today to be raising its head against Fascism.

A Delmonte Democrate dispatch from Zurich quoted Swiss Socialist circles as declaring that the Italian Socialist party in recent months had been reorganized with "illegal units" multiplying in factories in the greater part of Italian territory. The socialists, the newspaper said, recently helped in a strike at the Fiat works where they suddenly quit their jobs and demanded an increase in pay. Six hours later, according to this account, company officials acceded to the demands and the strikers went back to work.

Altho strikes are prohibited in Italy, the newspaper said, "not a single policeman or soldier showed himself" during the strike."

8 French Priests Reported Seized for Hiding Children

New York, Sept. 11 (AP).—The British radio today said eight Jesuit priests have been arrested at Lyons, France, for defying German demands for surrender of several hundred Jewish and non-Jewish children sought by the Nazis for deportation. The BBC said the priests sheltered the children at their own society and then transferred them to other hiding places.

HERRIOT RESIGNS FROM FRANCE'S LEGION OF HONOR

LONDON, Sept. 11 (AP). — The "Fighting French" press service said tonight that Edouard Herriot, former French premier, had resigned from France's Legion of Honor because the Legion cross had been awarded posthumously to two French officers killed while fighting at the side of the Germans in Russia.

"This thing seemed to me intolerable for the French conscience and future generations will judge it severely," Herriot said in his letter of resignation.

"I was decorated in 1917 as mayor of Lyons and received the chevalier's cross from the hands of Clemenceau. I would betray his memory and the example of ardent patriotism which he left us if I were to keep this decoration."

JAP DESTROYER SET ON FIRE BY ALLIED BOMBERS

Planes Raid Enemy Base in New Guinea.

GEN. MacARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS, Australia, Sept. 12 [Saturday]—(AP).—Allied bombers fired a Japanese destroyer and left her sinking off eastern New Guinea and also blasted Buna, the enemy's supply base for the overland drive toward Port Moresby, big allied base, a communique said today.

"The enemy has made no further advances," the communique said, in the Efogi area, 44 miles from Port Moresby, where bayonet-wielding Australians were fighting the invaders.

A "very near miss" was scored on a second Japanese destroyer which was probably damaged, the communique said. Both ships were encountered off Normanby Island which is north of Milne bay, scene of a frustrated Japanese invasion.

All Planes Return Safely.

"Allied heavy bombers," the announcement said, "attacked two enemy destroyers, obtaining a direct hit on one which was observed afire and sinking by the stern.

"Rafts and personnel were seen in the water.

"Our medium bombers scored a very near miss on the second warship, probably damaging it. All our planes returned."

Both Australian and Japanese troops fighting at Efogi on the southern slopes of the Owen Stanley mountains were believed to be reorganizing their positions.

Allied airmen continued to strafe the Japanese, but also streaked across the mountains to make two heavy raids on the airdrome at Buna where the Japanese first landed late in July for the cross-country strike at Port Moresby.

Bombs Start Big Fires.

"All bombs hit in the target area," the communique said of the attack on Buna. "Three grounded aircraft and a number of trucks were destroyed; several fires were started. Heavy anti-aircraft fire was encountered. There was no interception."

Buna is 76 air line miles behind the Japanese salient at Efogi, and considerably farther by jungle trail thru some of the roughest country in the world.

Allied bombers concentrated mainly on New Guinea, but some units operating over the seas northwest of Australia attacked a building and a small vessel "with unobserved results" at Teoen [Teun], an island of the Damar group of the Dutch East Indies northeast of Timor.

The Australian navy minister, Norman Makin, declared that the allies would hold New Guinea. Speaking at Newcastle, he said:

"We shall hold New Guinea. We have sufficient power there to resist any approaches the enemy may make to our chief centers."

Report Chile Senate Votes for Break with Axis Nations

SANTIAGO, Chile, Sept. 11 (AP).—The newspaper Ultimas Notocias reported tonight that a large majority of the Chilean senate voted at a private session in favor of breaking relations with the axis after President Rios returns from his projected visit to the United States and other American republics. The session began yesterday afternoon and continued well into this morning. Chile and Argentina are the only American republics maintaining relations with the axis.

NUTS AND JOLTS — By Bill Holman

BRITISH ADVANCE IN MADAGASCAR; LAVAL HITS U. S.

Assails American Backing of Island Invasion.

LONDON, Sept. 11 (AP).—The British advanced quickly into the interior of Madagascar against light opposition today, while the island government denied it was used as a secret axis base. Pierre Laval in Vichy protested America's endorsement of the British campaign to take the French possession out of the sphere of axis intrigue.

Vichy dispatches said the British forces, which landed yesterday on the west coast from Mozambique channel, were advancing on the inland capital, Tananarive, with the inhospitable terrain as their most serious barrier. Earlier the British forces had captured the west coast ports of Ambanja, Majunga, and Morondava.

French dispatches from Madagascar to Vichy said the British had crossed the Betsiboka river some 90 miles inland from the coast and were east of Maevatanana, less than 130 miles from Tananarive. The occupying forces apparently broke thru light opposition.

[Another dispatch from Vichy reported a British motorized column was advancing on the rail terminal of Antsirabe, as well as on Tananarive. The force moving on Tananarive was said to be pushing thru the mountains up the Ikopa river valley, while the troops approaching Antsirabe, 80 miles south of the capital, were said to be moving along the Mahakilo river. From Antsirabe a railroad leads directly to Tananarive and the principal east coast port, Tamatave.]

United States Accused by Laval.

The French told of a fourth major approach to the west coast with the arrival of British warships off Tulear, southernmost big port on the Mozambique channel.

Laval said the defending forces were "very insufficient—and I regret it," and the French on the island were described as putting up mere token resistance "to save our honor."

The French chief of government said the United States had "equal responsibility" in the British undertaking, a statement which only repeated the announcement by Washington, D. C., yesterday saying the United States was in full agreement on the necessity of securing Madagascar against axis machinations.

Laval then read a cable from Gov. Armand Annet of Madagascar denying British charges that the island had supplied Japanese submarines for raids in the Indian ocean and Mozambique channel; that German spies had operated there with the connivance of Vichy French officials, and that Japanese planes had made reconnaissance flights over the southern part of the island.

Several allied ships have been reported sunk near Madagascar.

British Capture Island.

While Laval read the American statement without much comment and the British unofficial charge of axis intrigue with some heat, he added:

"That the occupation was due to military necessity [as stressed by Washington] is a thesis that may be supported or not. But that the British should try to justify their aggression by raising false pretexts is something I cannot support."

The main British landings were at Ambanja, 120 miles southwest of the Diego Suarez naval base captured by the British in the initial operation on Madagascar last May; Majunga, 200 miles down the coast, and Morondava, 370 miles farther south.

COMMONS TOLD GANDHI IS INDIA'S 'ARCH SABOTEUR'

Disobedience Campaign Called Sabotage.

LONDON, Sept. 11 (AP).—Mohandas K. Gandhi was denounced today as an "arch saboteur" by L. S. Amery, secretary of state for India, because of his civil disobedience campaign launched while Japanese invasion forces stood at the threshold in Burma.

L. S. Amery.

He declared the campaign for immediate independence was a "scheme of sabotage" which imperiled the safety of the great subcontinent.

Amery said the British intended to reconquer Burma from Indian bases to insure safety of the country and afford relief to China, which the Japanese have all but cut off from supplies.

Want India to Be Free.

"We want India to be free," Amery said. "We want her to take her place as a freely associating member in the partnership of the commonwealth which is destined to play an even greater part in the world in future years than it has played in the past. That is the policy to which we are committed and to which the prime minister committed himself yesterday, a policy which all patriotic Indians equally believe in."

Speaking in the commons debate on India about the arrest of Gandhi and other Congress party leaders, Amery declared the government of India saved the country from disaster by nipping the campaign in the bud.

Urges Conciliation.

The government, he said, "took the only action which any self respecting government could take."

Arthur Greenwood, Labor party leader and former cabinet member, urged a further attempt at conciliation.

"We have to remember there are nations which do not look kindly on our attitude toward subject peoples," he said. "The United States, I fear, does not yet know the difference between a dominion and a colony."

Immediate Cut in Driving Urged to Conserve Rubber

All drivers of rubber tired vehicles must conform immediately to an unprecedented program of driving to comply with the rubber saving program recommended by the Baruch committee, public officials warned yesterday. Control of speed, tire rationing, and safety measures will be tightened, they said, and the group riding program pushed.

Judge John Gutknecht of the Municipal Traffic court cautioned motorists that the 35 miles an hour speed limit on Chicago boulevards will be enforced strictly. The law provides maximum fines of $100 and costs.

Michael F. Mulcahy, metropolitan area director for the Office of Price administration, announced installation of a new double checking tire inspection system to halt abuse and neglect of tires by operators eligible for new or recapped tires.

Charles E. De Leuw, Office of Defense Transportation coadministrator for transportation, estimated that gasoline rationing will increase the passenger load on Chicago transit facilities about 6 per cent. He said traffic on suburban railroads may increase 10 per cent. Existing facilities will be able to carry the extra load, he believes.

Benjamin Weintraub, president of the Chicago Motor Coach company, said that the ODT soon may order elimination of motor coach service on Sundays to conserve rubber. He said that such an order is expected any day in New York and similar action in Chicago undoubtedly would follow. He expects gasoline rationing will increase coach traffic here 10 per cent.

John C. Weigel, OPA regional administrator, urged motorists to start saving tires by halting Sunday driving, and by walking to stores, church, movies, and other places over the week-end.

Warning against gasoline hoarding as an evasion of the rationing program was issued by John Plant, chief engineer of the city fire prevention bureau. Gasoline filling stations were warned by Bradley M. Provis, president of the Gasoline Retailers' association, against illegal sale of gasoline to motorists.

"As a conservation measure," Provis said, "the association is urging the closing of gasoline stations on Sunday and 7 p. m. to 7 a. m. daily."

9 STORY BUILDING SKELETON TO GO INTO SCRAP HEAP

North Side Structure Contains 220 Tons.

The nine story steel skeleton of a building at 4735 Winthrop avenue that was left unfinished because of the 1929 depression soon may go into the metal scrap heap for bullets, guns, and other war uses, it was learned yesterday.

The framework was offered to William L. McFetridge, Chicago area salvage director, by G. W. Kunstman, a real estate broker at 30 North La Salle street, who owns the property. It is estimated that approximately $2,000 in legal and other fees may be involved in addition to dismantling costs.

"If the costs are too high, the government may step in and requisition the steel skeleton," said a spokesman for McFetridge.

Long Regarded as Eyesore.

The framework contains 220 tons of good structural steel, valued at nearly $19 a ton. It would be distributed among various steel mills. The framework was erected in 1928-'29 for a projected apartment house. The depression halted further work, and bondholders lost $220,000. For years the tall skeleton has been considered an eyesore in its neighborhood.

David Herbst, executive assistant to McFetridge, said the salvage office is on the lookout for other unfinished buildings whose steel framework will help in the scrap drive.

In that drive 20,000 civilian defense block captains were called upon by Mayor Kelly to collect more scrap. Each one was urged to establish a scrap depot. "The next two weeks are crucial in this undertaking," said Mayor Kelly.

Circulars to School Children.

Probably next week, Chicago school children will be given circulars to take home to their mothers. The circulars will call for the saving of tin cans. Also, circulars will be distributed among 10,000 janitors for posting in their respective buildings.

Participating in the drive are the Illinois Manufacturers' association and the Chicago Association of Credit Men. Tomorrow the Rogers Park post of the American Legion will give two 75 millimeter cannons for the scrap pile in a ceremony in Anthony Wayne park. The village of Kenilworth will also give two 75 millimeter guns.

CHINESE STILL BATTLE NEAR KINHWA, LANCHI; REPULSE JAP ATTACK

CHUNGKING, China, Sept. 11 (AP).—Fighting continued today in the outskirts of Kinhwa and Lanchi, in Chekiang province, the Chinese high command said. The communique said the Japanese attacked Chinese positions west of Tangyang five days ago but were pushed back.

A government spokesman said that "China has enough soldiers for five more years of war." He said more than 1,000,000 men had been conscripted since 1936, while the same number had volunteered.

It was pointed out that China thus has enough soldiers for five more years of war without affecting agricultural and industrial labor.

KILLED BY STREET CAR.

John Sullivan, 35 years old, 1332 Madison street, a laborer, was fatally injured yesterday when he was struck by a street car at Madison and Des Plaines streets.

ALIEN RESIDENCE CALLED A PRISON CAMP BY JUDGE

A south side home maintained by the government to house enemy aliens awaiting investigation yesterday was labeled a "concentration camp" that is "discommoding" to the surrounding neighborhood by Circuit Court Judge Benjamin P. Epstein.

Judge Epstein made the remarks after he had stayed the execution of an injunction issued Sept. 3 by Circuit Court Judge Philip Finnegan to restrain the Delde Machine works, 2305-07 Lake street, Melrose Park, from operating. The petition for the injunction, submitted by four property owners, was based on the plea that the area near the plant was zoned for residential and store purposes.

Judge Epstein ordered the stay when John B. Bishop, a War Production board counsel in Chicago, said the firm was doing vital war production. He asked that the plant be permitted to operate.

"If there has been a little noise from the plant thus far," said Judge Epstein, "the surrounding property owners should not mind. In my neighborhood [on the south side] the government has a concentration camp and armed guards and lights are on all night long. But if the government wants this, we will not interfere, altho it is discommoding."

EXPANSION OF INDIA'S WAR FACTORIES URGED BY AMERICAN MISSION

Washington, D. C., Sept. 11 [Special].—Erection of industrial plants in India to improve the production of war materials was recommended in the final report of the American technical mission to that country made public tonight by the governments of the United States and India.

The expansion of existing plants, increasing the efficiency of others, and improving port services and railways were among other proposals of the mission which was under the chairmanship of Dr. Henry F. Grady.

Some of the recommendations already are being implemented with equipment and material from the United States and Great Britain, it was announced, and American construction engineers will be sent to India.

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Sept. 11.—The number of victims of the last flying fortress raid on Rouen is expected to rise from 140 to 160 as more bodies are being found under the debris of destroyed buildings, it was reported tonight from Paris.

REPORT GERMANS ARE REFUSED O. K. ON DAKAR CONSUL

New York, Sept. 11 (AP).—The Germans have asked Vichy, France, officials to allow them to establish "a German consul" at Dakar, strategic French West African port, but the French have declined for the moment, reliable European informants said tonight.

The matter still is not decided definitely, but it was believed that the Germans were not exerting heavy pressure at this time, it was said.

The United States has a consulate at Dakar, approximately 1,600 miles across the South Atlantic from Brazil, and the Germans used that fact for a talking point of "equal privilege," it was understood.

Vichy officials, obviously fearing a possible British or United States attack on Dakar, have denied reports attributed to London and Moscow that the Germans had technical missions at Dakar.

PRO-AXIS FRENCH ASK RETALIATION AGAINST ENGLAND

VICHY, France, Sept. 11.—Pro-axis Frenchmen today demanded a "blow for blow" reprisal against Britain in the Mediterranean in retaliation for Britain's new invasion of the French island of Madagascar.

The most vocal call for counteraction came from Jacques Doriot, leader of the collaborationist French Popular party. His party, meeting in Rouen, demanded strong action, "notably an active policy in the Mediterranean."

voy, and was landed at Murmansk just as the Germans started a determined drive to knock out the port.

Never Hit Docks.

"They blew up Murmansk, but they never hit the docks for which they were aiming," he declared. "There was some damage to the city when I arrived, but it was mostly intact. When I left there was nothing standing except the docks.

"The Russians destroyed hundreds of the attacking planes. One day the Germans sent over 121 planes set to blow Murmansk off the map. They didn't do it that time, and the Russians got 40 of the bombers.

"Those Russian airmen are real fighters. If they run out of gasoline, they try to ram the German planes. They don't care about their own lives. And what an anti-aircraft barrage those Russians could put up!"

Dogs, Goats Dash for Shelters.

"German assaults with huge bombs were so bad," the veteran mariner said, "that even the dogs and the goats ran for the shelters when they heard the alert.

"There isn't a rat hole in Murmansk that I haven't been into," Pearsson said. "When that alert went off, you had to go somewhere quick.

"Russians were so anxious for the supplies," he added, "that soldiers on furlough came to Murmansk to help unload the ships. Women and children turned out and helped. An American skipper laughed at me when I told him how soon his ship would be unloaded. But I won the bet."

The captain also saw one air raid at Archangel, which, he said, was little damaged. He went by train to Moscow and to Kuibishev, from where he started a 14,000 mile air journey to the United States.

Pearsson exhibited a log book in which he recorded all of the raids during his stay in Murmansk. On three occasions, there were 14 raids in one day. German planes were grounded by the weather for six days, in all.

He told of one incident when a ship bringing tanks to Murmansk was attacked from the air, and the Russians used the anti-aircraft guns on the tanks against the enemy.

British Warned They Must Save on Coal Till It Hurts

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Sept. 11.—Minister of Fuel Maj. Gwilym Lloyd George told a meeting of South Wales miners last night that unless every section of the community economizes in the use of coal, war production will suffer. "Either we are going to inflict hardships on our people or some factories are going to be closed down this winter," he said.

U. S. FLYING FORTRESS CRASHES AND BURNS IN SPAIN, FRENCH REPORT

LONDON, Sept. 12 [Saturday]—(AP).—Reuters news agency today quoted the Vichy news service as reporting an American Flying Fortress bomber crashed between Algeciras and Tarifa, Spain, yesterday. Reuters said the Vichy agency reported the bomber's gasoline tanks exploded and the machine burst into flames.

Four members of the crew were said to have burned to death. The bodies were reported taken to Algeciras.

The Vichy agency said the report was in a message from Algeciras. The Vichy report also said the bomber was one of a group which recently arrived at Gibraltar.

OPA TO GIVE TAXI OWNERS BETTER RECAPPED TIRES

Washington, D. C., Sept. 11 (AP).—Better quality recapped tires and some new tires were made available for taxicabs today by the OPA. It said the action followed new regulations by the Office of Defense Transportation sharply curtailing less essential uses of such vehicles.

Previously, taxis were eligible only for the lower grade of recapping material which is used for private passenger cars, and could not obtain new tires under any circumstances.

Officials said the chief purpose in providing cabs with better grade recaps was to reduce the frequency of recappings which eventually ruin tires. Also, the additional tire mileage resulting will mean less frequent lay up of cabs while tires are being repaired.

AUSSIES RAID TOBRUK; EGYPT FRONT IS QUIET

CAIRO, Egypt, Sept. 11 (AP).—Australian bombers attacked Tobruk and nearby Libyan targets last night, while the Egyptian desert front remained relatively quiet. The coast road was strafed and fires were started among port installations.

On the land front yesterday, only patrol and artillery activity was reported by the British. A British torpedo plane was reported to have set afire an axis merchant ship in the Mediterranean on Wednesday night.

CHURCH-STATE FIGHT FLARES IN ARGENTINA

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, Sept. 11 (AP).—A church-state fight developed for the first time in Argentina's history today when Bishop Carlos Hanlon of Catamarca banned from all religious services for five days the members of the Catamarca provincial legislature who had voted a Roman Catholic cleric guilty of contempt.

The legislators ordered a 10 day detention yesterday of the Rev. Arturo Melo, editor of the religious journal La Union, who had attacked the lawmakers in connection with a campaign to prevent operation of a gambling casino at Catamarca.

Catholicism is the state religion in Argentina, and church officials here said the bishop acted within his rights and was answerable only to the Vatican.

BRITISH BOMBERS RIP DUESSELDORF INTO FIERY RUINS

Germans Admit Raiders Set Off Many Blazes.

LONDON, Sept. 11 (AP).—Duesseldorf on the Rhine lay pockmarked today in a pall of smoke left by hundreds of British bombers last night.

The 50th attack on the city cost the British 31 bombers, but the price was considered small compared to the destruction left in the metal, machinery, and chemical industries center. It was the seventh large RAF attack on Germany in 10 nights.

Other objectives, which the air ministry did not name, were attacked in western Germany. Fighters made offensive patrols over occupied areas.

Great Destruction Hinted.

The destruction at Duesseldorf, 24 miles from devastated Cologne, must have been enormous, because the Berlin radio broadcast this admission from the German high command:

"Numerous conflagrations, as well as damage to material and buildings, were caused, particularly in the residential quarters of Duesseldorf. The civilian population suffered losses."

Returning Canadian pilots described the Duesseldorf destruction as "one of the best concentrations of fire" yet seen. The first raiders ran thru a wall of anti-aircraft fire, but as the last bombers arrived to deliver their individual loads of eight tons of explosives, the flak and searchlights were dying down.

"The city was well alight with smoke or smoke haze which rose to about 1,000 feet," Flight Sgt. Jim Clarke said.

Drop 100,000 Fire Bombs on City.

The air ministry said more than 100,000 incendiaries were dropped and they "did the work of the moon." Flares and fires made the landmarks and factories conspicuous and one pilot said Duesseldorf soon became a furnace.

"All indications were that last night's raid will have done damage on a vast scale," the air ministry said.

The "powerful force" of attackers numbered perhaps 500 to 600 bombers.

There was little enemy air activity over England today, altho German raiders bombed two places near the south and southeast coasts, causing some damage and a few casualties.

U-BOATS BLAST 2 JUGO-SLAV SHIPS IN INDIAN OCEAN

Washington, D. C., Sept. 11 (AP).—The navy announced today that two Jugo-Slavian merchant vessels were attacked by submarines in the Indian ocean early in June and that survivors have landed at a United States east coast port.

Fifty-nine crew members reached African ports and 27 arrived later at an east coast port preparatory to joining other Jugo-Slav ships.

The survivors of one ship were rescued after a day in a lifeboat by a Greek vessel and taken to Portuguese East Africa. The others reached the eastern coast of South Africa.

VISCOUNT DENIES ANTI-SEMITISM GROWS IN BRITAIN

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Sept. 11.—Charges that anti-Semitism is spreading among government officials, the judiciary and the British public were denied yesterday in the house of lords by Viscount Cranborne, secretary of state for the colonies, on behalf of the British government.

Lord Wedgwood, Labor peer, had protested the attitude shown here toward Jewish refugees from Nazi oppression, "particularly in the upper governing classes." Wedgwood complained "when Jews come up against officials, they find dislike instead of sympathy." The earl of Listowel blamed "popular prejudice" for growing anti-Jewish tendencies.

Cranborne in refuting the allegations maintained "there is no country in the world where there is less discrimination against the Jews than in Britain."

CAPITAL TO GET FLOATING HOTEL IN HOUSING CRISIS

Washington, D. C., Sept. 11 (AP).—Washington's newest housing wrinkle to provide quarters for thousands coming here for war work will be a floating hotel.

H. G. Bulkley, head of the company owning the hotel, which he described as a craft with five decks, three containing 75 rooms 15 by 15 feet, said it would be moored at a pier on Maine avenue, southwest, in two weeks.

The top deck is a sun deck and the lower deck has a dining room and dance floor. Each of the rooms on the other three decks has a telephone, running water, and other modern conveniences.

RATIONING OF GAS WILL TAKE SOME TIME, SAYS F. D. R.

Rubber Administrator to Be Named Monday.

BY WILLIAM STRAND.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 11.—Recommendations of the Baruch committee which investigated and strongly criticized the handling of the nation's rubber supply problems will begin to go into effect Monday with the appointment of a rubber administrator to assume complete control over the entire program, President Roosevelt said today.

The President added, however, that it will take some time to set up the local machinery for national gasoline rationing urged by the investigators as a rubber conservation measure necessary to avert disaster to the war effort.

The report, assailing the conflict of authority, indecisions, lack of understanding, and overlapping agencies which has disrupted the program in the past, also recommended a nation-wide speed limit of 35 miles per hour, a reduction of 25 per cent in the average annual mileage of passenger cars and trucks and an increase of 205,000 tons in the synthetic rubber program.

Findings Are Praised.

It was prepared by Bernard M. Baruch, as chairman, Dr. James B. Conant, president of Harvard university, and Karl T. Compton, president of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. President Roosevelt, transmitting the report to congress, praised their findings as excellent and said the recommendations would be carried out as rapidly as possible.

In a statement praising the frankness of the report and the speed with which it was prepared compared to the "unconscionable delays" of regular government agencies, Sen. Harry F. Byrd [D., Va.] called for the immediate dismissal of the "incompetents and bunglers" responsible for the present rubber situation. Byrd recalled that, months ago, Baruch urged an over all price control such as that proposed earlier this week by the President. This and results of the rubber investigation, he said, should demonstrate to the President the wisdom of employing Baruch to eliminate inefficiency and overlapping authority in other war agencies.

Farm Bloc Critical.

One of the few criticims of the report in congressional circles came from members of the farm bloc whose members expressed regret that more consideration was not given to the making of synthetic rubber from agricultural products. Several senators said they are "reserving the right" to seek to override the President's veto of a bill setting up a separate authority to handle an expanded program of rubber manufacture from grain and other farm commodities. The measure was passed after members from farm states charged that the War Production board was favoring the petroleum interests in formulating the program.

Meanwhile, spokesmen for the Office of Price Administration disclosed today that the gasoline rationing on a national scale will be patterned after the system which has been used along the Atlantic seaboard for several months. Details of the plans are still being worked out, they said, and probably will be announced next week. These will include the amounts to be allowed the nation's 20 million motorists for essential driving, it was indicated, and the date when they will begin registering for their coupon books.

Calls it "Mileage" Rationing.

Discussing the report at his press conference, Mr. Roosevelt said he does not like the term national gasoline rationing because it is inaccurate. Actually, he said, it is mileage rationing which the committee recommended.

Asked how the mileage [illegible]ions would be handled, the Pres[illegible]said, O. there are all kinds of wa[illegible]. One way would be by not giving any more gasoline than necessary to cover the allotted mileage. He indicated that the periodic reading of speedometers as another method had been discarded because too many people know how to turn back their mileage gauges. He also said a fellow's neighbor was a pretty good judge of whether he was using his car properly.

When reporters continued to press him for further details, Mr. Roosevelt declared nothing could be decided until the local machinery had been set up.

Mr. Roosevelt then began describing an experiment he had made the other day while at his ancestral home in Hyde Park. He said he drove 12 miles on the main highway at an even speed of 35 miles per hour. When he started there were no cars behind him, but when he got to the front gate of his estate there were 22 cars which had caught up with him but were prevented from passing by the secret service and state troopers. In other words, the President concluded, those cars were driving faster than 35 miles an hour.

Mr. Roosevelt said this was an illustration that the people were not living up to the request of the governors of their states and the President to limit the speed of their driving voluntarily and the thing would have to be enforced somehow.

CONGRESS HEADS AGREE TO DRAFT INFLATION CURB

Wage Fixing Included in Price Bill.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 11.—After a 75 minute conference with President Roosevelt late today, eight congressional leaders reached an agreement to draft legislation authorizing the chief executive to combat inflation by controling both farm prices and wages.

Acting as spokesman for the group, Senate Majority Leader Alben W. Barkley [D., Ky.], said a meeting would be held tomorrow to frame similar bills to be introduced in both houses. It is the hope to introduce these measures next week and to get action as speedily as possible. Barkley said he thought final action could be taken before the Oct. 1 deadline set by the President, but other members expressed doubt concerning this possibility.

Reduction Demanded.

Mr. Roosevelt, in a message to congress Monday and in a radio address to the nation, criticized congress for fixing the ceiling on farm prices at 110 per cent of parity [the actual average has been 116 per cent, according to government experts] and demanded a reduction to 100 per cent of parity. If congress didn't act by Oct. 1, he asserted in a manner which aroused indignation among the legislators, he would take action himself.

The President didn't ask congress for authority to stop wage increases but promised he would "stabilize" wages. He was told today by the eight senators and representatives who met with him that any bill with a chance of passage would have to contain authority for wage fixing as well as for reduction of parity prices. The President apparently accepted this advice.

Those attending the conference with the President in addition to Barkley were Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas; Senators Robert F. Wagner [D., N. Y.], chairman of the senate committee on banking and currency, and Prentiss M. Brown [D., Mich.]; Rep. Henry B. Steagall [D., Ala.], chairman of the house committee on banking and currency; Representatives Brent Spence [D., Ky.], Wright Patman [D., Tex.]; and Albert E. Gore [D., Tenn.].

Opposes "Simple Resolution."

The presence of Gore was significant. He led the unsuccessful fight for overall control of farm prices and wages a year ago in the house and his arguments then are now being accepted as valid by the administration which worsted him at that time. Moreover, Gore has expressed his unalterable opposition to the "simple resolution" of authority which Speaker Rayburn proposed should be given the President to deal with living costs.

This "simple resolution," it was noted, would permit the President to control more than farm prices and wages. He would have unlimited authority, also, to regulate profits, interest rates, transportation charges, and utility rates, all of which effect living costs.

The Rayburn plan therefore seemed to be on the way out altho Mr. Roosevelt was not averse to it.

ROBBER ORDERED RELEASED FROM ALCATRAZ PRISON

San Francisco, Cal., Sept. 11 [Special].—Philip Dimenza of Chicago, sentenced in 1936 to serve 22 years for the $16,000 robbery of the National bank of St. Charles, Ill., "should be released" from Alcatraz prison, the United States Circuit Court of Appeals ruled yesterday.

The ruling followed Dimenza's appeal that his 22 year sentence actually should have been seven years—two for conspiracy and a total of five years on four counts involving robbery and jeopardizing of life. With time off for good behavior, Dimenza contended, he is entitled to immediate freedom. In imposing sentence in Chicago, Federal Judge Philip L. Sullivan treated the four counts separately with a five year sentence for each count.

The United States' attorney's office said the court's ruling will be transmitted to Washington, D. C., thus delaying Dimenza's immediate release pending a possible appeal by the government.

119,343, A DECLINE OF 9,000, ENROLL IN HIGH SCHOOLS

Elementary Total Is Lowest Since 1937.

Only 119,343 students, 9,000 fewer than a year ago, have enrolled in Chicago's public high schools this week, the board of education announced yesterday. Enrollment in the elementary schools was 267,355, a drop of 6,630 from the 273,985 in September, 1941, and the lowest total since 1937.

Dr. William H. Johnson, superintendent of schools, attributed the decline in high school enrollment to increased job opportunities for youth, especially in industry, and to enlistments in the armed forces.

An increase in applications for ROTC training was noted by Col. W. F. Morrison, professor of military science and tactics for the Chicago schools. Col. Morrison said 8,029 boys have requested the training but he has uniforms for only 7,879. The other 150 students will be permitted to train with the freshmen [nonuniformed] corps, he said.

Most in Two Decades.

Counting both freshmen and upperclassmen, Col. Morrison expects to have 10,435 cadets in his brigade this year, the highest number in more than two decades.

Dr. Johnson announced the schools are introducing a new course to develop reading skills. He said the course is a result of a national conference of school superintendents in Washington, D. C., last month, during which army and navy officers said two-thirds of the air corps applicants rejected were unable to read what was expected of them.

"We're keeping the good things we've developed in reading courses," Dr. Johnson explained, "but in addition to teaching pupils how to read for pleasure—that is, literature, newspaper, and magazine reading—we'll teach them how to read scientific matter."

Special Material.

Special material dealing with science, social studies, and mathematics will be supplied for the course, he said. Pupils will get their first taste of the new subject matter in fourth grade and by the time they complete high school they will have practiced following directions, looking for specific information, scanning for topics, and outlining.

The superintendent's office said instructors' applications for wartime leave are coming in so fast that it is impossible to dispose of them quickly. It is estimated that more than 300 public school teachers have joined the armed forces or have taken other specialized jobs.

WARNS BRITAIN'S ARMY READY TO QUIET N. IRELAND

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Sept. 11.—Britain's army is ready to maintain order in Northern Ireland if necessary, Maj. Arthur Henderson, parliamentary undersecretary to the war office, told the house of commons today.

Prof. D. L. Savory, Tory, drew attention to the disturbance at Culloville county, Armagh, where men from Ireland armed with tommy guns and automatics wounded a police sergeant and seized a constable. Savory asked whether a protest was made to Ireland. Emrys Evans, parliamentary secretary for dominion affairs, said no representations were made.

"How many more of these raids are going to take place before any protest is made?" Savory asked. No reply was forthcoming.

Identify 3 Yanks Killed in Canadian Plane Crash

CALGARY, Alta., Sept. 11 (AP).—Three student pilots of the royal Canadian air force, killed Wednesday when their training plane crashed near High River, were identified officially today as leading Aircraftmen Russell John Wicklem, 23 years old, of Minneapolis, Minn.; Gillous S. Miracle, 23, of Loyall, Ky., and W. S. Lucas, 23 of Mount Carmel, Pa.

COURT TO RULE ON DILLING PLEA FOR TRIAL HERE

Commissioner's Decision to Be Appealed.

The way was cleared yesterday for Mrs. Elizabeth Dilling, author, who has been indicted on charges of conspiracy to lower the morale of America's armed forces, to carry her fight for trial in Chicago to the Federal District court.

Edwin K. Walker, United States commissioner, who heard the plea of Mrs. Dilling and two other Chicago defendants against being taken to Washington for trial, indicated that he would rule in favor of the government's choice of the District of Columbia. He agreed, however, to a request of William Scott Stewart, attorney for Mrs. Dilling, that the formal entry of the removal order be withheld until next Friday so he might prepare an application for a writ of habeas corpus.

Others Withdraw Protest.

The other defendants, Dr. Donald J. McDaniel, dentist, and George Otto Brennemann, an artist, withdrew their protest against removal. Their counsel, Maximilian St. George, said he thought the matter over and was convinced a more effective presentation of their case could be made in Washington. He said they had been assured they would not have to appear in the capital until the trial date—probably in late October.

Commissioner Walker, in discussing the case of Mrs. Dilling, said his powers were limited and the question raised—as to whether she was entitled to a trial here — touched on points of law that only the courts could decide. He added that while there was no evidence that Mrs. Dilling was in conspiracy with "all the other" 27 defendants, Stewart's arguments were not sufficient to overcome, in view of his limited jurisdiction, the fact that an indictment had been returned.

Arranges for Surrender.

Stewart said that when the formal order is entered his client, who is at liberty on bond, will surrender to the United States marshal and he will immediately file his writ. William Power Maloney, special assistant attorney general who represented the government in the hearing, agreed to this arrangement.

It was the contention of Mrs. Dilling, who was a militant anti-Communist before the war, that she has a constitutional right to be tried in the federal court in Chicago, where the alleged illegal acts occurred.

On the stand she asserted that she knew only a few of the other defendants, and was not a member of any of the organizations named in the indictment, and that she was an active foe of some of them, including the German American bund and the Silver Shirts.

When Maloney told Commissioner Walker that the government had not disclosed all its evidence against Mrs. Dilling, she retorted disdainfully: "Phooey."

RUSSIAN MOVIE HOUSES BID FOR AMERICAN FILMS

New York, Sept. 11 [Special].—After nearly a decade in which few American films have reached soviet Russia, negotiations were begun this week between Artkino, Inc., soviet film distributor in the United States, and the major producing companies here whereby the flow of American movies to Russia will be greatly increased.

It is understood that Russia is interested in getting films depicting great figures of America's past and those dealing with our war program. This does not exclude musicals and comedies, it was explained.

Few American feature films have been shown in Russia, altho shorts of Charlie Chaplin and Walt Disney have been extremely popular. At present an American musical feature, "The Great Waltz," is playing to large audiences in Moscow and other Russian cities.

U. S. TO HELP SET UP WAR CONTROL BOARD IN BRAZIL

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil, Sept. 11 (AP).—A central autonomous authority, to be organized with aid of United States experts, will be announced shortly by the Brazilian government in a move toward stricter control over all phases of the nation's wartime activity, official sources said today.

The authority is expected to be completed following arrival of an 11 man United States technical mission headed by Morris J. Cooke, who is expected by Sept. 20. Cooke's group will aid in establishing coördinated control over war and civilian production, prices, transport, and foreign commerce.

Brazil's emergency wartime economy "czar" will be Joao Alberto Lins de Barros, veteran member of President Getulio Vargas' regime, who left his post as minister to Canada recently to assume direction of the country's war effort.

ASSAIL SEPARATE MAINTENANCE AS WEAPON OF SPITE

Judges and Sociologists Condemn Illinois Law.

Cook county judges and authorities in sociology united yesterday in condemning Illinois' archaic separate maintenance law, enacted in 1877 and unamended since then.

The issue, which has been before the Illinois legislature three times in the last seven years, was revived Thursday by the case of Sol Reifman, 46 years old, 4432 Madison street, a sign dealer. Reifman, suing his wife Esther, 43, for divorce, charged acts of cruelty numbering 453—the number of days her separate maintenance decree has been in effect.

The separate maintenance law was assailed before Judge Joseph Sabath by Dr. Ernest W. Burgess, professor of sociology at the University of Chicago, who appeared as a witness for Reifman. Dr. Burgess declared in effect that separate maintenance is immoral, since it forces a man to choose between a life of celibacy or immorality. He added that in a changing world, the law is outmoded.

Other Sociologists Agree.

Cook county judges asserted the evil goes much further. Many of Chicago's leading lay sociologists are out of the city, but those who could be reached agreed heartily with Dr. Burgess.

"I am opposed absolutely to separate maintenance," said Miss Edith Abbott, dean of the school of social service administration at the University of Chicago. "The only fair thing a woman can do—if she's not going to make a home for her husband—is to give him a divorce.

"The court has full control of a divorced husband, in the matter of alimony, so that that is no longer a reason for separate maintenance. Unless there is a religious consideration, I would advocate divorce."

N. U. Professor Assails Abuses.

Dr. Paul Meadows, of the department of sociology at Northwestern university, assailed the widespread abuses under the law. He added:

"We have been developing a new set of ideals for marriage. Straitjacketing marital arrangements with an institutional practice that is obsolete is nothing short of senseless."

On the religious issue, Rabbi Louis Binstock of Temple Sholem declared that religious customs never designed to destroy human happiness. Further, said Rabbi Binstock, separate maintenance tends to encourage rather than discourage divorce, because the period intended for reconciliation often results in recrimination and accustoms the couple to the conditions of actual divorce so that actual divorce eventually follows.

"It is an artificial relationship that destroys normal living for all members of the family," he continued. "Whenever reconciliation appears impossible, the separation should be made clear cut and become a divorce."

Burgess Enlarges Statement.

Dr. Burgess enlarged upon the statements he had made to the court Thursday to assail separate maintenance as against sound public policy. He said:

"In effect, it is like limited divorce, which takes away the right of cohabitation without destroying the status of the two parties concerned as legally married. Prof. C. C. Vernier, in his authoritative work, 'American Family Laws,' quotes James Kent, an eminent commentator on American law, as saying the situation of limited divorce 'throws the parties back upon society in the undefined and dangerous character of a wife without a husband and a husband without a wife.' Separate maintenance, in fact, when used as a punitive method by the wife, does the same thing."

Cook county judges were even more vehement and charged more material wrongs that did the sociologists. And they accused divorce court lawyers as well as vindictive wives.

Desort Calls It "Shakedown."

"Separate maintenance is a weapon used by hundreds of women who are insincere and seek only to extract more money from their husbands," said Judge Rudolph F. Desort, who is now in Criminal court, but who spent many years on the Superior bench handling divorce cases. "Lawyers in many cases suggest separate maintenance bills to their women clients. It is a legal shakedown and should be stopped. The legislature apparently is willing to pass a suitable bill and one should be introduced."

"Separate maintenance can be a terrible thing if used by an unscrupulous woman," said Judge Philip J. Finnegan. "There should be a remedy. I am not sure, however, that the legislature should supply it. Discretion and common sense used by judges on the bench would go far toward correcting this admitted evil."

"I am unalterably opposed to separate maintenance," asserted Judge Oscar F. Nelson. "In the few cases in which women are motivated by religious principles, I have nothing to say. But in my experience, 95 per cent of the women who sought separate maintenance were acting thru spite. They want to prevent their husbands from remarrying. Theirs is a dog in the manger attitude.

"For those who say they want their children protected financially, there is an answer—divorce. The court can force a divorced man to support his family just as it can a man held by a separate maintenance decree. I have signed very few."

The oldest separate maintenance decree in Cook county that is still in effect was granted as the result of action started in 1917 by Mrs. Rose Labadie, 1011 Thomas street, Oak Park, against Harry H. Labadie.

It became effective in 1923. Mrs. Labadie now is 68 years old and her husband is 69. She declined to discuss the case yesterday except to say there is no reason why she should ask a divorce. In 1939 it was estimated Labadie had paid her more than $50,000. Labadie indicated yesterday he would like to forget the whole thing. Twenty-one judges have held hearings on the case and six lawyers, now dead, have argued it.

DASH FROM CAFE SPURS SEARCH IN RAPE SLAYINGS

Missing Car Believed Seen in Minnesota.

Minneapolis, Minn., Sept. 11 [Special].—The search for the rape slayers of two women near Tomah, Wis., was concentrated in Minnesota tonight following a report the green Oldsmobile coupe owned by one of the victims was believed to have been seen in Anoka, 30 miles north.

A man in a soldier's uniform entered a café in Anoka shortly after noon and asked for a cup of coffee. While serving him, a waitress remarked:

"It's too bad they don't seem to be able to catch those fellows from Wisconsin."

The waitress said the man jumped up, dropped a nickel on the counter, and ran to his car, a green coupe. Anoka authorities were told that the first three numbers of the license plate tallied with those on the missing Wisconsin automobile—311-789.

Car Heads West.

The sheriff's office said the car headed west out of Anoka but could have doubled back to Minneapolis.

This was the third incident indicating the car of Miss Neil Pietrangeli, one of the victims, was driven to this area. A Chippewa Falls, Wis., soldier told of riding from Tomah to Eau Claire, Wis., with another soldier who drove an Oldsmobile club coupe which had women's clothes in the back.

At Kenosha, home town of the two women, funeral services were held today for Miss Baun, who was 32 years old. Nearly 100 friends and relatives of the young woman, who was a welfare worker employed by the state parole board, filled St. Mary's Lutheran church. An additional throng attended the ceremony at the Green Ridge cemetery. Funeral services for Miss Pietrangeli, who was 25, will be held at 9:30 a. m. tomorrow in the Holy Rosary church in Kenosha, with burial in the St. James cemetery.

QUIZZED BY FBI AGENT.

An agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation from Chicago yesterday questioned the Kenosha man held in Elgin as a possible suspect in the slaying of two women welfare workers in Wisconsin. The man, about 22 years old, was wearing an army sergeant's uniform but admitted he was not in the army.

Chief of Police J. G. Huber of Elgin said the FBI agent would report the matter of the uniform to his office and would decide whether to make a charge against the man on that count. The government agent did not question him about the slayings, inasmuch as that investigation is being conducted by Wisconsin state authorities, Huber said.

2 SEIZED AS AIDS OF MECARTNEY IN SEDITION CASE

Elmer Hartzel, 51 years old, 21 West 110th street, a statistician, and Elmer W. Soller, 39, of 4233 North Moody avenue, a mimeographer, were arrested yesterday by federal bureau of investigation agents on warrants charging sedition, conspiracy, and sending libelous and scurrilous matter thru the mails.

FBI agents said the men were associated with Attorney Newell Mecartney, arrested last week on similar charges. United States Commissioner Edwin K. Walker, continued the cases of Hartzel and Soller until Sept. 29 when Mecartney's case also will be heard.

Hartzel, according to the agents, admitted he wrote the pamphlets and Soller said he made copies of the mimeograph machine in Mecartney's office. FBI agents quoted Hartzel as telling them: "In my opinion Hitler was right in invading other countries. The Germans are the only people qualified to rule Europe."

Hartzel, according to the agents, was formerly a statistician for the Pullman Standard company, the Illinois State Unemployment compensation division, the aviation division of the Buick company here and the Packard Motor Car company in Detroit.

Agents said they traced the literature thru an analysis of the type.

Friend of the Yanks

[The Friends of the Yanks department will answer questions about the draft and military service, both in the daily columns and by mail, if stamped, self-addressed envelopes are sent with the inquiries.]

E. M. O. writes: "I have a brother in training with the marine corps and he has written to me asking that I purchase a knife suitable for hand to hand fighting. He says he wants to use it in training and for cutting ropes, etc. Would it be alright if I send him one?"

ANSWER: We do not think it advisable for you to attempt to comply with your brother's request. When the marine corps feels he and his troop are ready to receive instruction with such a weapon the commanding officer will issue the order and your brother, along with the rest, will receive a better and more satisfactory knife than you could buy. In addition, you might be innocently involved in breaking both the postal laws and military regulations. If your brother wants a utility knife and is permitted to have one, he can buy one at the post exchange.

M. K. writes: "The husband of a friend of mine went for a walk in 1937 and never came back, and she wonders if there is any way she could locate him thru the draft?"

ANSWER: There is no way of locating him thru selective service system, because there is no central filing system maintained on a city-wide basis, nor for the county, state, or national administration. Even if you had a vague idea of his whereabouts on registration day, you still might not be able to locate the draft board thru which he registered.

M. T. asks: "What are the possibilities of a man with a 3-A classification being inducted when he has an elbow which is 45 per cent disabled as a result of an injury some time ago?"

ANSWER: He would not be subject to induction until men in his draft board with the same classification are to be inducted. The army examining physician at the induction station would have to determine whether his physical disability warranted a deferment. When the time comes he may be inducted for limited service.

W. B. V. asks: "Does 'free postage' for men in service apply to packages or just to letters?"

ANSWER: Free postage for soldiers covers ordinary letters and postcards.

J. W. S. asks: "Do commissioned officers receive the 20 per cent increase for oversea service like noncommissioned men?"

ANSWER: No. Commissioned officers receive only a 10 per cent increase in their base pay.

O. C. asks: "Why is a high school graduate who started his flight training in 1941 given the rank of flight sergeant, while one who started in 1942 is commissioned second lieutenant?"

ANSWER: In order to be commissioned a second lieutenant the candidate was required to have completed a college education or its equivalent. The high school graduate may receive the rank of "flight officer," which is nearly equivalent to that of second lieutenant.

18-19 YEAR OLD DRAFT 'OUT' TILL AFTER ELECTION

Call Roosevelt's Remarks Rebuke to Stimson.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 11.—Twenty-four hours after Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson had emphasized the "growing need" for young men in the army, President Roosevelt today announced that it will not be necessary to draft 18 and 19 year old youths for active military service before early in 1943.

The President's remarks were interpreted in some quarters as a rebuke to Secretary Stimson for his outspoken stand on a subject which is extremely delicate in this election year. Congress has shied away from legislation lowering the minimum draft age because of the protests of thousands of mothers and fathers, and the President in effect indorsed the congressional stand. Nothing is to be done—until after the November elections.

Committee Plans Hearings.

It was the first White House pronouncement on the question since it was announced that hearings will be held soon by the house military affairs committee on a bill to lower the fighting age to 18. Present age limits for conscription into combat ranks of the armed forces are 20 to 44 years inclusive. Those who are 18 and 19 years old are required merely to register.

Asked if he thought boys of 18 and 19 will be in the draft by Jan. 1, the President answered at his press conference that he didn't think so. The army is taking in under the draft law about as many men as can be trained up to the first of the year, he said. When inquiry was made about obtaining enabling legislation on the subject, Mr. Roosevelt replied that he was discussing the matter with the war department.

Warns All Able Bodied.

Stimson declared yesterday that "stepping up of the intensity of combat and the growing need for enlarged forces make it clear that all young men" able to serve their country in the armed forces "are destinated for that service."

The senate measure lowering the draft age to 18 years was introduced by Sen. Chan Gurney [R., S. D.] a veteran of the World war who does not come up for reëlection until 1944. The bill in the house was introduced by Rep. James W. Wadsworth [R., N. Y.] co-author of the original conscription measure.

Rep. Andrew J. May [D., Ky.], chairman of the house military affairs committee, said his group probably will start hearings next week. He announced he has asked Gen. George Marshall, chief of staff; Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, director of selective service, and other officials for recommendations on the legislation. May said the committee will hear "every one who wants to testify."

Discuss Halt in Navy Drive.

Told of reports that draft boards may request a halt in navy enlistments so the selective service system can have full control of combat man power, Mr. Roosevelt said there has been some discussion of the matter in the navy. The navy's enlisted personnel is up to approximately 700,000 men and has had a very large officer increase, he explained.

Later in the day, Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox said the navy expects to continue its present policy of voluntary enlistments "as long as we can get the men." They are being inducted "in very satisfactory numbers," he added.

Tonight the army and navy in a joint statement formally announced they will refuse to accept volunteers deemed of greater use in their jobs in essential war industries.

Adoption of the new policy reflected complaints that some industries are being crippled by loss of men to the armed services.

The new policy announcement said that "except in furtherance of definite mobilization plans" no persons will be commissioned or enlisted and then permitted to retain their civilian employment on an inactive military status. Students in recognized institutions were excepted.

VOTE TO INDICT EX-POLICEMEN IN SHAKEDOWN

The Cook county grand jury was reported yesterday to have voted true bills charging conspiracy to obstruct justice and accessory after the fact of robbery against James Loye and Bruno Lakomski, ousted county highway policemen. The former policemen are accused of shaking down and sharing in the loot of three bandits who robbed a war plant worker. True bills charging robbery were reported to have been voted against the accused bandits, Victor Malek, Orville Arbuthnot, and Tony Laurie.

Accused of Praising Hitler, Insulting President; Fined

Thomas C. Bryant, 41 years old, 934 Sheridan road, who was arrested on complaint of his aunt that he used scurrilous language in talking about the President and had expressed the hope Hitler would win the war, was fined $50 yesterday by Judge George L. Quilici in Town Hall court. Bryant, who was charged with disorderly conduct, said he had political arguments with his aunt, Mrs. Charles Brogran, 4438 Clarendon avenue, but that he did not mean all the things he said.

Navy to Name 25 New Vessels After War Heroes

Washington, D. C., Sept. 11 (AP).—The navy announced today that 25 escort vessels now under construction would be named in honor of 25 heroes of the first and second World wars. Eighteen of th heroes were victims of the Japanese attack at Pearl Harbor. One Illinoisan is on the list—Lieut. [J. G.] Richard Bull of Macomb, Ill. The vessel will be christened the Bull.

Progress of the "Fly for Navy" recruiting drive and the army air cadet recruiting drive.

James H. Siljestrom, 18 years old, Highland Park, who worked out all summer as an iceman to warm up for the rôle of a navy fighting pilot, passed all tests with flying colors before the Chicago naval aviation cadet examing board yesterday.

James H. Siljestrom.

About the time he graduated from the Highland Park High school his family was informed that his brother, Gordon, a navy gunner's mate, third class, was missing in action on Corregidor. Another brother, Donald, is in the army air forces.

Siljestrom was one of 55 men enlisted by the board yesterday in its "Fly for Navy" drive to recruit 2,000 in August and September. The total enlisted to date is 1,326.

Elmer Anderson, 2432 Winnemac avenue, world's professional speed roller skating champion, was one of 39 men who qualified before the Chicago army aviation cadet examining board. The latest group of volunteers raised the total of enrollments since Sept. 1, 1941, to 10,117. The board plans to enroll 20,000 by Jan. 1.

'WHAT HAPPENED TO ME SHOULDN'T HAPPEN TO A DOG'

Porky, a part-police dog owned by Oscar Dahl Jr., 13 years old, of 10145 Oglesby avenue, has decided views on red toenail polish for dogs.

When Oscar's sister, Irene, 12, decorated Porky's front claws with crimson polish while the family was visiting relatives in Elkhart, Ind., on Labor day, he took one startled look and bounded out of the house.

When attempts to find Porky failed, the family returned to Chicago without him. Soon neighbors reported seeing a big dog with red toenails in a cornfield just outside Elkhart. He refused to be coaxed out. Yesterday Mrs. Dahl and her son drove to Elkhart. At Oscar's shrill whistle, Porky, his views on toenail polish moderated by four foodless days, emerged. Last night he was home again.

Woodlawn All for You Club Meets to Aid Service Men

Members of the All for You club, an organization of 1,000 Woodlawn citizens formed to aid morale of men in the armed services, met last night in St. Cyril's auditorium, 64th street and Blackstone avenue. Howard Hoffman, who broadcasts over W-G-N as "The Deacon," was the principal speaker. The club sends mail regularly to Woodlawn service men and sees that all their birthdays are remembered with gifts.

USO Needs More Money Than Announced in Goal

Three to 5 per cent more than the goal of $1,750,000 will be needed to take care of new entertainment needs of service men in the city, it was announced yesterday at United Service Organization headquarters. The city's fund total stood at $1,729,885 yesterday.

Unidentified Target Causes Air Alarm on West Coast

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 11 (AP).—Southern California's defenses went on the alert for an hour and five minutes at dawn today until the army made certain an unidentified target was friendly. Radio stations went off the air.

55 Picked Out

Two lawyers, an oil salesman, a newspaper man, and a student represent the Chicago area in the group of 55 student naval officers at Tower hall tentatively selected by Lieut. Comm. John D. Bulkeley, torpedo boat hero of Bataan, for training as patrol torpedo boat commanders, the navy reported yesterday.

Commander Bulkeley took Gen. Douglas MacArthur across the sea from Bataan to Australia in a torpedo boat similar to that in which the 55 will receive their training at the navy's P-T boat training center, Melville, R. I.

The lawyers are Ensigns C. F. Everett, 4445 Jackson boulevard, and J. L. Mee, 1229 Chestnut avenue, Wilmette. Lieut. [j. g.] C. H. Jackson Jr., River Forest, was a Purdue university student when the navy called him. Ensign Franklin Snyder, 938 Belden avenue, sold oil. The newspaper man is Ensign Martin E. O'Shaughnessy, 4443 North Ashland avenue, a former United Press correspondent at Springfield, Ill.

NAVY DOES AWAY WITH OLD TIME CLOTHING ISSUE

Washington, D. C., Sept. 11 [Special].—The navy today announced discontinuance of the traditional clothing issue to newly enlisted men and substitution of a cash allowance from which sailors may buy clothing as needed.

Enlisted men will get precisely the same value as before—$133.81 for an initial outfit—but instead of receiving the entire lot of clothing making up this allowance, they need buy only the uniforms immediately needed. After a year's service an enlisted man will be granted $8.75 every three months for replacements.

Chief petty officers will receive grants, upon promotion, of $250 to cover the cost of their uniforms, plus $18.75 each quarter for maintenance. While the sums seem small in relation to the size of necessary wardrobes, they are based on the low prices at which clothing is purchased and distributed by the navy.

LIMIT VOLUNTEER OFFICER TRAINING TO COMBAT UNITS

Washington, D. C., Sept. 11 (AP).—Draft deferred civilians who volunteer for army officer training must choose one of the fighting branches, a war department order disclosed today.

Officials said full quotas of applicants had been accepted for training schools in such services as the adjutant general's and finance departments and the quartermaster corps.

Schools of such arms as the infantry, field and coast artillery, and the signal corps are open to men from the 3-A draft classification who volunteer for officer training.

Sale of 431 More Service Pins Boost Total to 86,599

Four hundred service pins were sold yesterday over the counters of THE TRIBUNE'S public service offices at 1 South Dearborn street and in Tribune Tower. An additional 31 pins sold thru the mail brought the total of the sales to 86,599. The gold plated emblems, touched with red, white, and blue, indicate the relationship of the wearer to a man in service. All profits will be given to the United Service organizations.

ARMY DEVELOPS 'TOP-OFF' CREWS AT CAMP TYSON

Turns Out Balloon Teams in 6 Weeks Course.

BY WAYNE THOMIS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Paris, Tenn., Sept. 11.—The army's "top-off" crews—men who fight airplanes with a mile or more of steel cable as their weapon—are training here at Camp Tyson in what is the only training center of its kind now operated. Fat, silvered captive balloons that hang day and night over the post identify the camp as the barrage balloon training center.

The expression "top-off" which the men of this school have added to army slang since Pearl Harbor, refers to the operation barrage balloon crews most often are called upon to perform. That is the hauling down of their bags and the adding of more light gas to bring their lifting capacity up to army standards. By inference the expression has come to refer to this whole new branch.

Only Part of Defenses.

Officers and men of the school are most careful to explain that while they are part of the anti-aircraft defenses they represent only the "bottom third" of the army's current air defensive arrangements. These consist of the barrage balloons, of anti-aircraft fire from high velocity guns on the ground, and finally of pursuit aviation in the air.

Furthermore they say that in a balloon barrage the balloons themselves are of secondary importance.

"The real weapon is the steel cable that the balloons lift into the air," Lieut. Col. William H. Kendall, plans and training officer for the entire training center, explained.

Balloons are so large, so visible, and in most cases so vulnerable that they constitute no particular hazard to enemy airplanes, he said. But the heavy steel cables they lift into the air are each invisible knives ready to shear the wing off any plane that hits them.

Tested by British.

While this point was taboo in discussions here it may be noted that the English found balloon barrages invaluable in the defense of vital factories, docks, power stations, and other inviting targets for bombers. While the presence of the balloons cannot prevent high altitude horizontal bombing they do make things so hot for dive bombers that this form of attack is never tried when they are used.

Altho it is only one year old—construction here was commenced on Sept. 4, 1941—this camp is functioning smoothly with a large personnel. A new class of trainees go from the school to operational barrage balloon battalions every six weeks. Members of the camp's first classes have been on the nation's active fronts for many months.

From its inception the barrage balloon branch of the army has been drawing trainees and its enlisted personnel from middle western states. Many have come from Illinois, and in particular, Chicagoland.

Give Specialist Courses.

Brig. Gen. John B. Maynard, who commands the camp and entire training center, said today that efforts at this time are centered on developing rounded crews as rapidly as possible. In order to accomplish this the trainees who come here are placed in specialist courses which fit them for duties with operational units. The individuals are detailed into balloon teams when their initial training period is finished and they go on learning how to operate their peculiar static weapons in operational battalions. These are stationed here for a short time but may be sent to an active "front" whenever needed. Specifically, the courses given the men require about 25 per cent of their time in classroom study and 75 per cent in practical work.

Men are trained as motor winch operators, as members of "maneuvering crews" [eight or more men to a bag], as communications specialists, as mechanics, as balloon riggers who inspect, repair, and even rebuild balloon bags and lines, and finally as balloon "chiefs" who command crews in the absence of commissioned officers.

Approximately a dozen men are needed for each balloon team, and because of the nature of their duties a particularly reliable and self-reliant type of individual is required.

DR. WYNEKOOP SUES TO EXPUNGE RECORD OF INSANITY HEARING

A petition charging that Dr. Gilbert H. Wynekoop, now committed to the state hospital at Menard, never was insane and asking the insanity record of the physician to be stricken was filed in County court yesterday by Attorney Herman P. Haas.

Dr. Wynekoop is a brother-in-law of Dr. Alice Lindsay Wynekoop, sentenced to 25 years imprisonment for the murder of her daughter-in-law, Rheta Wynekoop. He was declared insane Jan. 14, 1937, by Judge James M. Corcoran of Evanston, then sitting in the psycopathic branch of the County court. Wynekoop had been arrested Dec. 31, 1936, on the complaint of Effie B. Smith, 24, colored, that he attempted to attack her when she answered an advertisment for a servant.

Haas said yesterday that the petition on the Smith woman's complaint was faulty and said his petition to expunge the record was prepared because a mere application for Dr. Wynekoop's release would admit the insanity. A hearing was set for Sept. 26.

CHICAGO TELLS GOOD-BY TO BOY GOING TO WAR

Farewell Fete Goes Awry, but Nobody Cares.

BY EDWARD WILSON.

Another Chicago boy went away to war yesterday. His farewell was planned by press agents. It was to have been a formal affair in front of the city hall attended by a dozen army and navy officers, Mayor Kelly, a 70 piece band and thousands of Chicagoans.

The farewell was held, but before it was over the press agents were about the most harried looking group of publicity men ever seen. Their formal plans had gone awry but what resulted was an honest straight-from-the-heart Chicago farewell party. Of the many similar affairs which have been held at the city hall since the war began it was without doubt the most impressive.

Crowd Cheers and Weeps.

The crowd cheered and many in the crowd wept. Mayor Kelly stuck his carefully prepared speech into his pocket and told the honored youth and 150 other boys who were being inducted:

"We need guys like you to lick the Japs."

At exactly 11:45 a. m. the mayor, Brig. Gen. Henry S. Aurand, who has just arrived to head the 6th service command in Chicago, other officers, and 50 boys who have enlisted as aviation cadets mounted a speakers' platform in La Salle street. In front of the platform were 100 other newly enlisted aviation cadets or machinists. There also were the 70 piece air force band and thousands of spectators.

But the principal had not arrived. He is William Cullerton, 19 years old, and he was the principal because he was the 10,000th aviation cadet to be enlisted here. He is a grand-nephew of the late Edward F. Cullerton, who war a Chicago alderman from 1871 to 1920.

Mayor Decides to Start.

"We'll start anyway," said the mayor, and he gave a short talk.

Still no Bill.

The mayor saw his friend Morton Downey, Irish tenor, in the crowd and asked him to fill in the time with a song. Downey obliged.

Still no Bill.

Several of the army officers fidgeted. They were standing in a row flanking the newly arrived Gen. Aurand and they were waiting for a boy who was not yet a private. It was undoubtedly the last time Bill would keep such a distinguished group waiting.

Finally Bill showed up. Two army officers were in charge of him. They said they had been told the affair started at noon.

Mayor Kelly introduced Bill as honorary mayor for the day and Bill read a proclamation naming the day Army Air Forces day. It was the usual press agent's proclamation, but read by a 19 year old boy going away to war it brought tears to the eyes of hundreds of the spectators.

Mother Is Proud of Him.

Bill's mother and father were introduced. Mrs. Cullerton said, "I'm proud Bill is going away with this crowd of boys."

Then Bill's pretty sister, Jean, was introduced to the crowd. She just said good-by to all the inductees and kissed her brother. That again brought cheers and tears.

Then the girl Bill is to leave behind, pretty Elaine Stevens of Oak Park, stepped forward for an introduction. Elaine did not say anything—she just kissed Bill—and the crowd cheered louder.

ANSWERS KELLY SLUR AT LOYALTY OF SEN. BROOKS

Ferre Watkins Tells of Belleau Woods.

An attack on the patriotism of Sen. Wayland Brooks, made by Mayor Kelly of Chicago in his speech at the state Democratic convention in Springfield Thursday, was answered in Chicago yesterday by Ferre C. Watkins, Chicago attorney who was commander of the Illinois department of the American Legion in 1926 and 1927.

Ferre C. Watkins.

In published portions of Mayor Kelly's speech he was quoted as saying that Sen. Brooks' defeat in the Nov. 3 election would "bring consolation thruout Illinois and the nation, rather than a celebration in Berlin."

More Quotes from Kelly.

Kelly was also quoted as declaring that the nation was "deluded by sugar-coated sentiments of the Munich-minded men like Senators Wheeler, Nye, Brooks, and Congressmen Fish, Hoffman, Sweeney, and Day. These men and others on the front lines in Washington gambled with America's destiny . . . they were satisfied to sell their country short."

"I know little about the war service of most of the men Mayor Kelly included in his tirade, and nothing at all about the mayor's own war record," Watkins said.

"I am familiar with Sen. Brooks service in the armed forces, however, I know that there is no man in Illinois whose loyalty to his nation and devotion to his government has undergone a keener test.

Record of Self Sacrifice.

"Sen. Brooks fought honorably and well with the marines in Belleau Woods, for which he was decorated by a grateful government. As a souvenir of his participation in the attack on Soissons, the senator's body bears the indelible marks of his selflessness and loyalty. This record of self-sacrifice, written on his body by the enemy's steel, cannot lightly be written off by a political opponent. Nor do I feel that Sen. Brooks' loyalty has undergone any change since he offered his life, if necessary, in defense of his home land.

Watkins, like Brooks, is the holder of a distinguished service medal, won for his gallantry as a soldier in the Meuse-Argonne offensive in the last war. He managed the campaign of Gov. Dwight H. Green when he ran for mayor in 1938.

Other friends of the senator reported that examination of all available records fails to show what active part, if any, Mayor Kelly played in the first World war, either in the country's armed forces or the Red Cross. Thruout that struggle he was assistant chief engineer of the sanitary district of Chicago.

PAIR SEPARATED 21 YEARS, WIFE DENIED ALIMONY

A petition for separate maintenance was denied yesterday by Judge Oscar F. Nelson to a wife who has not seen her husband in 21 years. The hearing was on the divorce petition of Louis J. Sherland, 67 years old, 1456 East 69th street, a retired automobile salesman who receives old age compensation because a heart condition makes it impossible for him to work. His wife, Anna, 65, lives in Los Angeles.

Thru her attorneys, Joseph H. and Norman Becker, Mrs. Sherland told the court her husband had sent her to California with four children in 1921, telling her that he would join her. He never did and never sent any money, she testified. On Sept. 1 she said, she was notified that her husband was seeking a divorce.

"I want to rejoin him, unless another woman has succeeded me in his affections," Mrs. Sherland said. When Sherland indicated this might be the case and his attorney, Martin J. Loeff, asserted Mrs. Sherland has been self-supporting since 1924, Judge Nelson denied the separate maintenance plea.

Appointment Notices Sent to Whitewash Probe Group

The four judges and lawyers named by Mayor Kelly as a committee to review the so-called whitewashing of four policemen by the civil service commission were sent formal notices of their appointments yesterday. They are Federal Judge William J. Campbell, Justice Francis S. Wilson of the Illinois Supreme court, Judge Kickham Scanlan of the Appellate court, George E. Q. Johnson, former federal judge and former United States attorney, and Lloyd D. Heth, former president of the Chicago Bar association.

Match Lighting Ceremony Is Tried by Army Show Audience

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

View of the darkened Soldiers' field last night when the crowd of 88,231 lighted matches in the novel ceremony first introduced at the Chicagoland Music Festival.

Closes Tonight

A new attendance record was set last night at the Army War show in Soldiers' field with a crowd of 88,231. This brought to 703,183 the total number of persons who have seen the great exhibition during its 10 night run in Chicago thus far. The last performance will be given tonight.

The crowd last night was introduced to Philip Maxwell of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, who originated the audience match lighting spectacle which has been a nightly feature of the show. Maxwell directed the first mass match lighting at the Greater West Side Music festival in 1939. It has since been a regular feature of Chicagoland Music Festivals.

After the mass participation in the spectacle, Maxwell stood alone in the center of the field and held a lighted match. The purpose of this was to illustrate to the 88,000 persons what only one lighted match might mean to an enemy aviator.

OLD MORMON CITY IS HOST AT UNIQUE GRAPE FESTIVAL

Wine-Cheese Nuptials Draw Thousands.

BY RITA FITZPATRICK.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Nauvoo, Ill., Sept. 11.—The shades of French adventurers, martyred Mormons, and sturdy pioneers are abroad this evening in this almost legendary city, which slumbers on a bend of the Mississippi river. Nauvoo has flipped back the pages of its history.

Almost a century ago a colony of French Communists, whose dreams of Utopia were mingled with those of their native land, planted grape vines in this fertile river valley. Today the grapes hang heavy with rich ripeness on the rolling knolls, and Nauvoo is paying homage to its purple harvest and its traditions.

This evening the little hamlet, with its population of 1,100, opened its fifth annual grape festival, a colorful celebration expected to attract 25,000 visitors in the next two days.

Flock in from Countryside.

An ancient ceremony, the wedding of the wine and the cheese, which originated on the sunny slopes of southern France, marked the opening of the festival in the city's tiny, leaf shadowed park. From miles around came aproned women and barefoot children, prosperous farmers, vineyard owners and sophisticates from the cities to witness the ceremony and sample the ingredients.

This verdant spot with its mysterious dark caves is the only place in the United States where the ceremony is appropriate. Here in the caves not only does the wine age to its full rich flavor but the blue cheese is cured with its man made mold. The cheese, that sharp delectable product so close to the famous roquefort of the old country, is a recent industry in Nauvoo, but it goes hand in hand with its venerable neighbor, the winery.

Youngsters Perform Rites.

The wedding ceremony performed by two of the town's comeliest youngsters, Nadine Buckert, 13 years old, and Ernest [Teddy] Tedford, 12 years old, symbolizes this harmony. The bride blushed as red as the wine she represented—and held in her hand—when her young groom placed a mound of blue cheese next to it within a golden circlet before an audience of many thonsands.

Presiding over the ceremony was a modern Ceres, a goddess of the harvest, the festival queen, Mary Leininger, 20 years old. Mary works in her father's vineyards during the harvest, but she earned her title by winning the most votes in a war bond sales contest which raised $10,000. On her crown sparkled a gemmed V for victory.

'I put it there in tribute to my three brothers who are in service and the 100 other boys who have gone from our town," she explained simply.

TEXAS ENTRANT FAVORITE TO BE MISS AMERICA

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 11 (AP).—"Miss Texas," 18 year old Jo Carroll Dennison of Tyler, tonight stepped out as high favorite to win this year's Miss America crown.

The judges, boisterously abetted by 4,000 spectators, declared her the most charming of 10 bathing beauty contestants who appeared in bathing suits here tonight. She had previously been declared the most talented in her group, having "wowed" the audience with a song-and-dance rendition of "Deep in the Heart of Texas."

"Miss Cincinnati," Barbara Patterson, 18, won tonight's talent contest among another group of 10 girls. She impressed the judges with a staccato dance routine.

5 WOMEN FLYERS PASS FIRST TEST AS WAFS PILOTS

Army to Use 50 in Ferry Command Service.

Wilmington, Del., Sept. 11 [Special].—The women's auxiliary ferrying squadron, formed only yesterday to supplement the work of male civilian pilots in ferrying training and liaison planes from factory to field, took off with a flying start at the Newcastle army air base today as five women applicants passed ground tests for the new service.

The first five women to pass their tests for the WAFS were Mrs. Betty Huyler Gillies of Syosset, N. Y., former president of the Ninety-nine club of women aviators; Miss Cornelia Fort of Nashville, Tenn.; Miss Aline Rhonie of New York; Mrs. Catherine Slocum of Bryn Mawr, Pa., and Mrs. Helen Mary Clark of Englewood, N. J.

Proposed Women Pilots.

Mrs. Gillies, candy heiress and wife of an aviation executive, turned from nursing to flying 10 years ago and has frequently urged the use of women pilots for ferrying planes.

Miss Fort, formerly an aviation instructor in Hawaii, was in the air with a student pilot on Dec. 7, when a plane whizzed by her in violation of air traffic rules. Miss Fort turned and saw that the insignia on the plane was the red sun of Japan. She grabbed the stick from the student pilot and made a quick landing as the Japanese plane headed for Pearl Harbor.

Miss Rhonie is a painter who created a flying mural at one of the hangars at Roosevelt field. She was in Europe at the outbreak of the war and drove an ambulance in France before returning to make an air tour of the United States to raise funds for allied war pilots in France.

Headquarters in Delaware.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Nancy Harkness Love, "commander" of the squadron, emphasized that applications for the women's flying service should not be sent to Washington but addressed to the commander of the second ferrying group of the air transport command at Newcastle.

Classes for training about 50 women in army procedure in the ferrying of planes will start in about a week, Mrs. Love said. The course will continue for four weeks. Applicants must be between the ages of 21 and 35 and must have had 500 hours of flying and ratings for the flying of planes of at least 200 horsepower.

THE RUBBER REPORT.

The Baruch committee's report on rubber recommends a national speed limit of 35 miles an hour. That should be adopted promptly; the proposal will have all but universal approval. Where necessary, the legislatures and city councils can be summoned in special session to enact the appropriate laws and meanwhile the public will need little urging to accept 35 miles an hour as the rule of the road.

The committee proposes nation-wide gasoline rationing as the only practical means of conserving tires. It is said that the rationing powers already conferred upon the President will be sufficient to permit him to impose such a plan. However that may be, it would be better if congress were to study the proposal and enact whatever laws may be found desirable.

The committee said the administration has been unmindful of the need of the citizens for rubber to recap worn tires. The committee recommended that the allocations of rubber for such repairs be increased. The existing regulation proves that the administration is still unaware of the importance of automobiles in production and distribution. The people's representatives, knowing the circumstances in their districts, can work out a system that will take account of special needs and circumstances. If the matter is left to the burocrats they can be expected to establish rules which, to save a very little rubber, will hamstring the national economy and work needless hardship on many individuals.

The great value of the report lies in its constant stressing of the necessity for obtaining an adequate supply of synthetic substitutes. The need is imperative and it is, therefore, to be regretted that the committee did not seize the occasion to recommend that every encouragement be given to every one who wishes to go into the business and can give evidence that he knows what he is talking about. The committee has underestimated the capacity of private initiative and has vastly overestimated the capability of the burocracy to produce. It is a capital blunder to leave the matter solely to the burocrats, who have so often failed, and leave nothing to private enterprise which has a long record of conquest over just such problems as this one. The question is not whether we can afford to divert some relatively scarce materials to the enterprising people who want to make rubber; the fact is that we can't afford the risk of not doing so. As matters stand, we are putting all our eggs in one basket and it isn't a very strong one.

No one can read the report and retain any doubt about the validity of the criticism that has been directed at the administration for its fumbling. The committee purposely avoided placing the blame for past failures, but the facts it brought out are altogether damning. The Russians offered their proved methods and the help of their experts, but the proffer was ignored. The formulæ for compounding synthetic rubbers in the making of various articles were not given immediate distribution for no better reason than that burocratic red tape had to be unwound. The administration failed to accumulate an adequate stock pile, and endless delays and confusion have been encountered in getting the synthetic program under way.

The whole record is one of appalling executive incompetence. The recommendation for the appointment of one man of experience and proved capacity to serve as rubber administrator is obviously sound; but why wasn't that done within a fortnight of Pearl Harbor, if not before? The answer, of course, lies in Mr. Roosevelt's limitations as an executive. Instinctively he seeks for more power for himself and resists conferring any considerable part of his authority upon others.

EAST IS 60 PER CENT AND WEST IS 90.

Easterners continue to talk a good war and to tell us that out here we don't seem to know there's a war on. Ask the next one who pulls that stuff how the war bond drive is going.

The government has just reported that for the country as a whole sales in August amounted to 85 per cent of quota. New York sales equaled 60 per cent of quota and Illinois sales 90.3 per cent of quota. It's New York's lagging interest in war bonds that is dragging down the nation's average. But for New York's poor record in August the country would have attained 91 per cent of the objective.

The determined effort being made to arouse the country to the necessity of buying bonds has been in progress since May. In that period sales in the whole country amounted to 89 per cent of what was asked. The achievement in Illinois was a little better than the national average. New York produced only 75.9 per cent of quota.

In August, after four months' effort, the people of New York invested less in war bonds than they had in May when the campaign started. In the four months, war bond sales in the United States were 353 millions less than expected. New York's failure alone amounted to 149 million of this deficiency. Entertainers from Broadway who are touring the country had better stay home. There is a job to be done in their complacent home state.

September is "Pay Roll Savings Month," and Norman B. Collins, administrator of war bond sales in Illinois, has been given the task of adding 169 thousand workers to the number of those making monthly pay allotments for bonds. Seven hundred firms in Illinois are already operating on the pay roll plan. Others are denying their employés a privilege which is being accorded to workers by progressive employers all over the country—the privilege of saving systematically and investing in the safest of all investments. The government this month is calling upon every employer in Illinois to help his employés to provide for the rainy day by regular weekly purchases of war bonds.

THE ARMY SHOW AND ARMY GUNS.

The best testimonial to the entertainment value of the army show now concluding its run at Soldiers' field is the enthusiastic attendance of somewhere around three-quarters of a million Chicagoans despite the bad weather. But when one begins to look at the weapons displayed, in the cold light of their usefulness in battle, there is much good to be seen and not a little bad.

The most interesting weapon on exhibit is the .50 caliber machine gun, which has turned out to be the best airplane arm in this war. It can penetrate any armor that has been built into an airplane and its power is enough to give it some value against light tanks or reconnaissance cars at close range.

The moral effect of this weapon on infantry will be tremendous and should not be overlooked. Men know, or soon learn, in battle that wounds from weapons of .30 caliber or less are not likely to be serious unless a vital spot is struck, but a blow from a .50 caliber machine gun would be terrible, far surpassing in power even the deadly slug of the old army .45 pistol. When men hear these bullets about them, even the bravest of soldiers will be very apt to take cover.

Of the cannon under 4 inches [100 millimeters] in diameter, the best that we can say is that we are ready to be shown. They were obsolescent in the last war, when horses were used to haul the guns, and it is hard to see how they can compete in this one with the much heavier guns now being turned out and moved quickly by trucks and track laying machines. It may be possible, of course, to find subsidiary uses for some of these guns, which have long ceased to be useful for the purpose for which they were originally designed. The 3 inch anti-aircraft gun, for instance, is of most dubious value against planes. It may, however, make a useful anti-tank weapon, certainly a better one than the obsolete 75 mm., which it is still proposed to use for that defensive purpose.

THE TRIBUNE years ago urged that the obsolete 75 gun be replaced with the modern and vastly more effective 105 millimeter howitzer. It was a source of the greatest satisfaction to us when our army finally admitted that the older weapon, perfected in 1897, had passed its usefulness. Now we begin to wonder if the same factors which made the 105 vastly more useful than the 75 are not forcing an early obsolescence on the 105.

It is, of course, a great improvement over the old field gun that it superseded and may still take its place in reconnaissance. But for heavy combat the 155 millimeter and 8 inch weapons will be as great an improvement over the 105 as it was, in turn, over the 75. It was possible to go to the 105 because it became unnecessary to depend on horses to move guns. The 75 was the heaviest gun that a 6 horse team could handle. So long as mechanized traction is available, why stop at the 105 when bigger and more powerful tractors and self-powered mounts can move heavier guns about with great facility?

One welcome sight at the show is the large dependence which the corps of engineers is placing on a wide variety of power machinery and pneumatic tools to do quickly what a few years ago had to be done laboriously by hand. As was said in these columns more than a year ago, once the ingenuity of American road builders and tool makers was put at the disposal of army engineers, they would speedily get the best equipment in the world for demolition and fortification work.

NO BETTER THAN SAVAGES.

Ambassador Joseph Clark Grew, upon his return from Tokio, told his countrymen that before their repatriation Americans held in Japan had been "subjected to the most cruel and barbarous tortures." He said that this treatment is what is to be expected by any one who finds himself at the mercy of the Jap militarists. Mr. Grew recalled the terrible excesses when Nanking fell to the Japs. He said it was true that captive British soldiers had been bayoneted to death at Hongkong. He asserted in conclusion that the world is not big enough to contain both Jap barbarity and American civilization.

Since Mr. Grew spoke, the Japanese government has refused safe passage for a neutral ship to carry food, clothing, and medical supplies to American prisoners of war in Japan. Japan has even refused to furnish the Red Cross with a list of the names and addresses of prisoners, in defiance of international convention. At the same time, repatriated medical missionaries have disclosed that the Japs have systematically destroyed most of the 300 hospitals built by American philanthropy in China and Manchukuo.

In their entire conduct the Jap militarists show their hatred of the occidental—a hatred the more virulent because the Japs are driven ever further into excesses in an attempt to rationalize the dishonorable way they brought war about.

The Japs may believe now that they can commit acts of barbarity with impunity. The early stages of the war went all their way and few Japanese were taken prisoner. All that will change. Perhaps if the Japs are given to understand that any mistreatment of our soldiers will be repaid in the same measure they may see fit to alter their ways. In any event, the Jap war lords who bear responsibility have made themselves answerable when we achieve their final defeat. Retribution has been promised, and it will come.

FREE PRESS CASE.

[Indianapolis News.]

Another skirmish in the unending battle of the people against the courts to protect American liberty is indicated in the petition of the American Newspaper Publishers' association for reconsideration of the free press case of last June.

The case involved the right of a city to require vendors of religious literature to obtain a peddler's license. Cities in Arkansas, Alabama, and Arizona used such ordinances to forbid the sale of religious tracts. They refused to license the vendors, which enabled the police to arrest them for violating the peddler's license ordinance.

By a 5-to-4 decision, the United States Supreme court held that the ordinances did not infringe any right guaranteed by the Constitution. . . .

The majority opinion was noteworthy for its omission of reference to the fact that the license could be denied, which gave the city the privilege of barring the sale, and for its failure to distinguish between an article of commerce and the issue of a religious press.

Chief Justice Stone and Justices Murphy, Black, and Douglas dissented. The weight of their dissent, and their notice of the press freedom guaranty of the Constitution, are among grounds that offer hope for a more enlightened consideration of the case.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may. Reg. U. S. Pat. Office

MR. PEPYS STAGGERS ALONG.

12th Sept.—And so another week passes into history, which is what I say on Friday evenings when I slam down the roll-top. Spent a dull Labor day week-end by staying home to rehearse for gasoline rationing, and worked on the holiday in my office whence all but me had fled, finding it an excellent time to make progress on my Line Book.

Walked around the town several evenings and found the streets boiling with people on account of the army war show. Went to a new playhouse frolic and came out trying to sing its best song, which is "Buckle Down, Winsocki," and when people complained, as usual, that I missed the tune, I told them, "No matter; tunes are out of fashion."

Dined at one or the other of my clubs every night to quiet and enjoyable discourse among old cronies, and not a word said about the war except once, when a young crony remarked casually, "I'll be going into the army about Oct. 1." So we talked about what to do with his dog.

Interviewed Bob Becker, the nature expert, about the migration of birds from this region, and learned the night hawks are starting out on short flights which will take them all the way to the Argentine, an amazing journey. This is one of the commonest birds in American city life, but the average citizen knows little about them, and if he happens to notice one, will call it a bat because it is a twilight flyer.

Went to the Tavern club last night to dedicate a new place of rendezvous called the Mural room, gayly designed, and came to the conclusion that my favorite cocktail was named after the Martini-Henry rifle, with which the British army used to mow down the Zulus and Fuzzy-wuzzies.

WINGS OF THE EVENING.

At evening swallows skim the air,
Their grace and freedom wondrous fair;
The shackled spirit craves such gift,
The wings so light, so swallow swift.
See how they soar and need no rest,
The wingéd fancy all their quest;
They course thru the deep azure light,
Are gone and then return to sight;
We watch their hawking in amaze,
Their flight so sure in airy ways.

At even when the light is spent,
Swallows are in their element.

S'Amuser.

The End of Chantecler.

When I was 10 years old I had a pet rooster which we called Morning.

I could not remember the time he had not been with us, and the years of a rooster are fewer than those of man. So when I was 10 he was well along in years. He slept in a bushel basket in the woodshed, and every night we took him and placed him in his basket and covered him with a warm blanket. We did this summer or winter, and in the morning we would go to him, remove the blanket and let Morning out.

He was a beautiful white Leghorn, with golden feathers drooping across his wings, lovely yellow legs and feet, and a fine ruddy countenance. He was in excellent condition despite his years, the leader of the barnyard, and could outstare any impertinent young rooster who dared to come his way. He not only could, he did.

Then we gave up farming, and came the day of the Last Dinner on the Farm. There was chicken stew, a large plate of it. "But," I said, "I thought we sold all our chickens. That couldn't be Morning, could it?"

There was no answer from any one around the huge dining room table. The room was a well of silence. Then mother said she "guessed she wouldn't eat any chicken, but would take some vegetables." The others said they would do the same. Then mother changed her mind and said she really wasn't hungry at all, and left the table. There was a sound of chairs scraping, as one by one they rose and left the room.

Ten year old me sat alone at the great farm dining table, staring at a large platter of chicken stew, my eyes round and unblinking, full of the tears I tried so desperately to conceal.

There was a room, and it was full of silence.

Knights at the War Show.

There is much to be said for the perfect timing and step of the infantry; we can praise the speed and efficiency of the engineers; the tank troops never fail to thrill us with their solid, massive strength and thoroness; we are warmed to the soul with a sense of security and protectiveness when we watch the anti-aircraft, the cannon, the heavy tank guns roll across the scene. But can anything match the romantic appeal of the cavalry, flying down the field with gold-tipped lances, re-creating the image of an ancient age when knights clad in shining armor rode the countryside, slaying dragons and rescuing maidens in distress? No, regardless of all the destructive weapons invented by man, in spite of the huge war machines, the modern methods of combat, we can still thrill at the sight of a warrior on horseback.

Amateur Essayist.

The late Harrison Grey Fiske was an unassuming man who encouraged his wife, Minnie Maddern Fiske, to take all the bows for the family. But he produced 104 plays and published an excellent weekly magazine of theatrical news and comment, the Dramatic Mirror. He left the manuscript of an autobiography, ending in 1912.

Any department of understatement should hastily seize, as a prize item, the recent confession of a burocrat to the effect that the delay in synthetic rubber production was due to "momentary confusion."

"BOILED" HANDS AND FEET —PINK DISEASE.

ALTHOUGH our children are far safer today than they were a few decades ago, every now and then some baffling malady will exhibit itself. A curious ailment—characterized by marked wasting and red, raw, beefy hands and feet—has been observed for more than a generation. It is known as "acrodynia," or "pink disease."

As a rule, parents will recall that at the very outset the youngster appeared to be suffering from a cold. After a week or 10 days, the symptoms of coryza vanished, but instead of improving, the victim became worse rapidly. He was "out of sorts" and, within a brief interval, presented a picture akin to collapse.

In severe cases, appetite disappears and insomnia becomes marked. The usual sedatives have little effect. Since food is refused, wasting persists. The patient lies on his face, with his knees drawn up. The head is rolled from side to side with a burrowing motion as tho the covering of the scalp, cheeks, and nose demanded constant scratching. Light is shunned and the chewing muscles may become so flabby and soft that mastication cannot be carried out efficiently.

The skin manifestations are typical. The extremities look inflamed as tho they had been dipped in boiling water, and the tots may complain that they feel as tho they were "on fire." But the parts are cold, slightly swollen, with a tendency to peel.

Because of the exhausting nature of the condition, it has been suggested that we are dealing with a nutritional deficiency. On the other hand, it may well be that some unknown virus is the invading agent. At any rate, a building up program is demanded. This means generous doses of vitamin B1 [thiamin] both by mouth and by injection. When persisted in, such a plan may be followed by immediate gain in weight and eventual recovery.

In other instances, however, while some relief is experienced, all other aids designed to increase well being will need to be employed. Plenty of fresh air, direct exposure of the body to sunlight, and numerous feedings will succeed more often than not. If the direct rays of Old Sol cannot be obtained, artificial ultraviolet seems to hold much promise.

Just how important a rôle focal infection plays is not clear. But in an attempt to raise resistance, many physicians advocate the prompt removal of diseased tonsils, to help rid the system of poison absorption.

Now and then an incidental infection will bring about a spontaneous cure. A report from Australia, where the affliction is more common than in any other country, cited a desperately sick child who was exposed to measles and who came down with that disease. As the eruption faded, the sufferer began to eat with relish, and convalescence was established within a few days. This hints at a possible connection between the two disorders — acrodynia and measles. One may act as a conqueror of the other.

EYE RUNS.

H. W. writes: I am 73 years old and my right eye waters more or less constantly. No pain. Please explain.

REPLY.

The fluid which bathes the eyes is discharged via the tear ducts into the nose. There is probably an obstruction along one of these channels. A skilled eye specialist can relieve the condition.

TOE DEFECT.

J. B. writes: What causes a child to be born with a hammertoe? Can it be corrected?

REPLY.

The deformity is usually hereditary—cause unknown. If a splint will not correct the trouble, the tendon may be severed.

Test Your Horse Sense

By Dr. George W. Crane

Select the answers which you consider best. The last problem counts five points. Then look for the correct answers on page 26.

1. Which one of these birds is the lightest in weight?
   Catbird Swallow Wren Robin
2. Which one of the following is a musical instrument?
   Taboret Tangerine Tandem Tambourine.
3. It is colder in this country in winter than in summer primarily because Sun is farther away Its rays are more slanting There is more snow There is less daylight.
4. Which one of these eggs requires the longest incubation period?
   Chicken Ostrich Goose Turkey.
5. The same blow on a bottle full of water will break it, whereas on an empty bottle it may cause no damage. This fact shows a difference in Compressibility Viscosity Specific gravity Ductility.
6. The language of colors now has considerable practical value in modern life. Try to match those listed in the left hand column below with their significance, as described in the right hand column. You are entitled to one point for each correct judgment.

[a] Black	[v] Truce or don't shoot
[b] Red	[w] Caution; take care
[c] Green	[x] Death
[d] White	[y] Danger
[e] Amber	[z] Safe to go ahead.

Score yourself as follows: 0-2, poor; 3-6, average; 7-8, superior; 9-10, very superior. [Note—The last question counts five points.]

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Writers should confine themselves to 200 or 300 words. Give full names and addresses. No manuscripts can be returned. Space for letters is obviously limited. Incoming mail far exceeds it. If a letter is not printed, attribute it to lack of room. Address letters to Voice of the People, THE TRIBUNE.

ECONOMICS OF SCRAPPING SCALES.

Evanston, Ill., Sept. 9.—The action of City Sealer James O'Keefe in turning over to the scrap collection some three tons of seized scales is noteworthy for patriotic zeal in that the average cost of new scales is five labor hours a pound, or a total of 30,000 labor hours relegated to the scrap pile. Assuming those scales were only of average second hand quality, requiring minor repairs or adjustment, their value could still be represented by at least three labor hours a pound, or a total of 18,000 labor hours tossed into the scrap pile. Which all would still be a beautiful patriotic gesture except that against those 18,000 labor hours so vitally needed to be conserved during this all out war, we find ourselves possessed of a mere three tons of scrap, which could be duplicated by only 66 labor hours in fresh ore smelting. This leaves us a net loss of 17,934 labor hours sabotaged from our total war effort. Some short weight!

BILLY MITCHELL'S JUDGES.

Houghton, Mich., Sept. 7.—I have just finished reading the book about Gen. Billy Mitchell, by Emile Gauvreau and Lester Cohen. Freedom and justice, indeed, when our government deliberately permits a man like Billy Mitchell to be brutally kicked around by the top ranking officers who are supposed not only to have brains but honor. Have any of those big boys who sat in judgment on Mitchell been big enough to admit publicly that they were wrong in their judgment?

MARY S. BARRY.

CONFUSION IN THE DRAFT.

Hume, Ill., Sept. 3.—The New Deal has certainly made a mess of selective service and the mess seems to be getting more stirred up every day. Gen. Hershey says it's this way, Paul Armstrong of Illinois says it's that way, and our congressmen and senators say it's not going to be either way. Who is running this thing, and why don't they make up their minds? Terrible inequalities have resulted in the way this thing has been handled.

JAMES OVERMAN.

LIGHTENING THE POSTMAN'S BURDEN.

Chicago, Sept. 9.—To save man power and health, why couldn't the postoffice department furnish the mail carriers with a rolling cart? This would do away with lugging heavy weights uselessly year in and year out. The device could probably be left near the mail storage box.

LIGHT ON THE SUBJECT.

Chicago, Sept. 7.—Now that we have the ladies seated at the tables in taverns, why not pass a law requiring tavern owners to light up their places, instead of keeping them dark and dismal, with curtains drawn and lights dimmed? We don't crawl in dark holes when we eat. Why then, when we drink?

E. G. M.

A CHECK AGAINST FRAUD.

Chicago, Sept. 6.—In order that the poll lists may be clarified in the November election, a comparison between the poll list and draft registration in the various precincts might be in order.

RENT CEILINGS AND INFLATION.

Wichita, Kas., Sept. 8.—There are about 30,000 rentals in this district. The ruling from Washington that all rents be reduced to what they were on the same properties July 1, 1941, has reduced the rentals of apartments affected on an average of about 25 per cent, in many cases considerably more. The dual object of this was stated to be [1] to provide lower rents for defense workers and [2] to prevent inflation.

During the last few years wages have been increased 70 per cent, according to Mr. Henderson. If, therefore, the rent of a $60 apartment had been increased in the same proportion, it would now bring $102 monthly. But, on the contrary, the government has reduced the rent from $60 to about $50. Meanwhile all taxes and the cost of living have been heavily increased. This is probably the first time on record that any government has made the payment of an honest obligation a crime on the part of both parties, punishable by fine or imprisonment. It is difficult for the ordinary citizen to understand how the robbery of one class for the benefit of another class can prevent inflation.

HENRY WARE ALLEN.

HELLO STAMPS.

Chicago, Sept. 3.—A large amount of additional revenue for war purposes could be collected by the government by selling a 10c special stamp marked "greetings" or "hello." This stamp would be used by relatives and friends when writing to men in the service [not compulsory, of course]. The difference between the cost of the regular stamp and this special stamp could be used for war expense, and each soldier, sailor, or marine receiving a letter bearing such a stamp would feel the extra effort made to help him.

L. M. O.

ENCOURAGING JUNIOR SALVAGERS.

Chicago, Sept. 7.—The government is calling for scrap iron, rubber tires, etc. The children that collect this scrap do not get any reward. Recently I saw a toy truck loaded with scrap and paper and I suggested to the salvage director that the children be given a nickel or a dime. He just shrugged his shoulders. Why not at least give every kid that collects scrap a free ticket to a movie? They are patriotic.

THOMAS D. RAWLAND.

M. P.'S.

Chicago, Sept. 9.—I cannot see why the military police carry clubs around to discipline the soldiers. All you have to do is give a fellow a club and a little authority and the Hitler in him comes to life. After all, isn't that what we are striving to eliminate from the world—those who brandish the clubs over little people? Aren't we striving to eliminate dictatorship and force?

JEANNE JOSEPH.

WHY APE THE NAZIS?

Chicago, Sept. 5.—Sen. Chan Gurney says, "The training of German youths for war starts at the cradle."

I am sick and tired of hearing, "They do it in Germany." Must we do what the Germans do? If so, what are we fighting for?

J. W.

THE INVENTIVE BUROCRAT.

Chicago, Sept. 9.—The best thing inventors like W. Falk and J. E. Fitzgibbon can do with ideas which they can't develop alone is to think about the inventor of the submarine and forget them. According to my experience, the National Inventors' council is nothing but a waste basket set up three years ago for an expected deluge of ideas in case of war.

After sending a number of ideas to the council without receiving any acknowledgment at all, I sent another to the war department, together with my opinion of the council. I got a card of acknowledgment this time from the inventors' council, and I kept getting one every day for two weeks straight.

FROM THE CRIME COMMISSION.

Chicago, Sept. 9.—I wish to commend the excellent editorial that appeared in THE TRIBUNE Sept. 7, entitled "How to Get Ahead." In my opinion you performed a service to the public in setting forth the facts about the Civil Service commission's handling of the trial of morals squad policemen. I have also noted with interest your previous editorials written on the same subject. The fearless manner in which you have set forth the facts should certainly be of great assistance in enlightening the public on matters that are of extreme interest to all citizens interested in good government.

V. W. PETERSON,

DRAFTING PREMEDICS.

Chicago, Sept. 2.—Why cannot there be a sensible view taken by the selective service system relative to the deferment of premedical students? These men now are drafted and placed in branches of the service not pertaining to their chosen profession, and taking into no account the years of study they already have devoted towards becoming medics. It looks like selective service is unwittingly destroying our future doctors. Why disregard the special training they already possess?

DEFECTIVE GUTTERS.

Chicago, Sept. 1 [Friend of the People.]—Two buildings situated at Nos. 1427 and 1429 of our block are in very bad shape. Heavy rains cause much damage to the houses nearby, because of lack of drain pipes and gutters. The rain has no place to run into and seeps into the ground and basements of the houses nearby, causing trouble and expense to the neighboring homes.

The receiver for the above mentioned property has been notified to replace or repair defective gutters and if this work is not done at the expiration of time allotted in our notice, we will proceed according to law.

COALITION BENCH PLAN REJECTED BY REPUBLICANS

Tyrrell, Fisher Selected as Candidates.

BY GEORGE TAGGE.

Republicans dealt a blow to the coalition practice which has become habitual in recent judicial elections, when in county convention yesterday they voted their determination to attempt to fill both Superior court vacancies in the Nov. 3 election.

John F. Tyrrell [top], and George M. Fisher.

Nominees chosen amid cheers were John F. Tyrrell, election law expert who has been counsel for the G. O. P. county central committee for 22 years, and George M. Fisher, secretary of the committee.

The coalition cause was espoused by Emerson C. Whitney, ebullient young 48th ward committeeman and supervisor of complaints for the state department of registration.

Whitney Urges Coalition.

"We should nominate only one man, and the Democrats only one," Whitney said. "All of us may have our heads in the clouds at times but we must be practical now as committeemen. Under my plan we'd be sure to have one judge, one master in chancery, one bailiff, one clerk—all Republicans."

Henry A. Gardner, New Trier township committeeman and former president of the Chicago Bar association, admitted that he and the bar generally have approved coalition under certain circumstances.

"But this time I'm opposed to it," he said. "If we have any truck with the Democrats we will weaken our entire ticket."

It remained for John T. Dempsey, county chairman, to complete the argument against Whitney's proposal. This being a general election, there can be no saving of money by not opening all polling places, he said. Nor could the party organization save money, since it is in full operation.

"There is no public excuse or party benefit for coalition now," Dempsey said. "Let's stand up and fight it out in the election. And we have an excellent chance to win."

Whitney's voice was the only one plainly heard in opposition when the vote was taken.

Jonas' Name Proposed.

Former Judge Edgar A. Jonas' name had been presented by Whitney, which some committeemen felt did not aid the Jonas cause. Jonas is chairman of a testimonial banquet Monday for Whitney, where from 500 to 1,000 guests are expected to pay $5 each.

Democrats will meet Monday to nominate for the judgeships. At the city hall yesterday it was reported that the two will be chosen from among these men: Municipal Judge Frank M. Padden; Arthur A. Sullivan, former state Democratic chairman; Ald. Dorsey R. Crowe [42d], and Ald. James R. Quinn [50th].

Rents Car for Honeymoon; Sells Tires; Gets 5 Years

Davenport, Ia., Sept. 11 [Special].—George Nadeau, 33 years old, was sentenced today to five years in the penitentiary on a charge of embezzlement after he rented an automobile in Davenport and sold the tires in Utah and abandoned the car. Nedeau, a bridegroom of three weeks, used the car for his wedding trip to Missouri and for a honeymoon to Utah.

The Inquiring Camera Girl

BY FREIDA ZYLSTRA.

[THE TRIBUNE will pay $5 for each interesting question submitted by a reader and used by THE TRIBUNE. Today's question was submitted by Patrick J. Browne, 7119 East End avenue.]

THE QUESTION.

What was your most interesting or unusual experience in sharing your car with a hitch hiker?

WHERE ASKED.

Northwestern railroad station.

THE ANSWERS.

William G. Campbell, seaman, 1st class, Milwaukee, Wis.—The two hunters were weighted down with game and guns so I gave them a lift. They talked freely about the mean disposition of game wardens and what they would say to one if they had the chance. You should have seen their expression when I showed them my warden's badge.

Howard H. Bee, welder, Portland, Ore.—About the most interesting car full of hitch hikers I've ever had was a bunch of country kids with all their lunch baskets. They were very grateful for the ride and kept taking turns offering me sandwiches, cake, and cookies from their meager lunches.

Dorothy Weil, traveler's aid worker, 4748 Greenwood avenue—Our last hitch hiker was our last. We had started on a pleasure ride on a beautiful road thru the mountains. After he joined us he was the only one who was comfortable. He sprawled all over the back seat, smoked a smelly old pipe, and talked all the time.

Donald Immel, machine operator, Fond Du Lac, Wis.—I tried hitch hiking myself one day. The man in the small truck drove like mad. My imagination started working overtime after he took off his hat. His head was cleanly shaven. His sweater seemed to take on the stripes of a convict. He let me off when I told him I had forgotten something.

Joseph Proft, apprentice seaman, 515 Marquette road—My brother-in-law and I gave two servicemen a ride. When we reached their destination we told them we'd like to take them to dinner. We ordered the best. Then they surprised us by insisting on paying the bill. They were the most appreciative hikers I've ever known.

Audrey Bettine, beautician, 425 South Monroe street, Green Bay, Wis.—The only hitch hikers I ever offered a ride were two boys from a small town. A large bird crashed thru the windshield and landed in the back seat. I was glad they were there to remove the body and feathers, but it could have been costly for me if they had been injured.

Exceptions to Air Mail Weight Limit Listed

The ban on air mail letters of more than 2 ounces for transmission outside the continental United States does not affect those addressed to Canada, Mexico, Central and South America, the West Indies and Caribbean sea islands, Alaska, and Newfoundland, Postmaster Ernest J. Kruetgen said yesterday. Air mail to all other foreign points will be refused if the letter weighs more than 2 ounces, he said.

BIG REPUBLICAN MEETING TO HEAR GREEN, BROOKS

Thousands to Assemble At Picnic Tomorrow.

Sen. Wayland Brooks and Gov. Dwight H. Green will use an airplane tomorrow to come from Springfield to Chicago in time for the annual Cook County Republican picnic in the Riverview Park grove. Tonight at 8 p. m. Sen. Brooks will speak at the Maywood "Bataan Day" war rally in the Proviso Township High school stadium.

After paying tribute to the Maywood soldiers, of whom many were killed or captured in the siege of Bataan, Sen. Brooks will go to Springfield for the 15th annual state convention of the Illinois Republican Service Men's league.

Speaks In Two Cities.

To tie in with the important Chicago picnic, which was postponed Labor day because of heavy rain, the veterans have arranged for Sen. Brooks and Gov. Green to speak at 11 a. m. tomorrow. They will be flown to Chicago to address the thousands of G. O. P. enthusiasts at about 4 p. m.

The picnic will begin in the morning with races and other traditional "fun sports" of the greensward. Hundreds of dollars worth of war bonds and other gate prizes will be awarded. By yesterday, the number of girls entered in the popularity contest had increased to 50—each vote will cost their backers 5 cents, to be contributed to a fund for the USO.

All Candidates Represented.

Speaking will start at 2 p. m., preceded by an hour of entertainment. A dozen candidates will be limited to five minutes each. Charles O. Rundall, nominee for county judge, will talk for the county ticket as a whole, and former Judge William L. Morgan for the Municipal court ticket.

County Commissioner William Busse, one of the "grand old men" of the party and still extremely active, will represent all nominees for seats on the county board.

Negro voters will have their needs and viewpoints expressed by Former State Sen. William E. King, nominee for congress in the 1st district. Mrs. Gladys E. Specht will speak in behalf of women Republicans.

Other state candidates besides Brooks will be introduced. They are Stephen A. Day, nominee for congressman at large; William G. Stratton for state treasurer, and Vernon L. Nickell for superintendent of public instruction. Republican state officers will also appear.

THE NEIGHBORS — By George Clark

"O, yeah! When your brother gets home on leave we can hang around all day and listen about his adventures at sea!"

CONVICT GROCER OF RAPE; FACES 3 MORE CHARGES

Adam Langer, 55 years old, 1969 North Halsted street, owner of a small neighborhood grocery, was convicted yesterday by a jury in the Criminal court of Judge Donald S. McKinlay for the rape of a girl, 14 years old. He was sentenced to a year in the penitentiary. Hearing on a motion for a new trial was set for Sept. 18. Assistant State's Attorney Clement Cody said Langer would be brought to trial on three other rape charges. Prosecution of Langer had been criticized by the Chicago Crime commission whose records showed that the cases against the grocer had been continued 13 times since his indictment in November of 1941.

3,500 MINISTERS LAUD BROOKS FOR POLL TAX STAND

Memphis, Tenn., Sept. 11 [Special].—More than 3,500 Negro ministers attending the 62d session of the National Baptist Convention, Inc., at Municipal auditorium today gave a rising vote of thanks to Sen. Wayland Brooks [R., Ill.] for his successful sponsorship of the anti-poll tax amendment to the soldiers' voting bill.

There were numerous approving cries of "Amen" and "Yes, brother," as Edgar G. Brown, director of the National Negro council of Washington, D. C., told in flowery language of Sen. Brook's "statesmanlike contribution to the participation of Negroes in the democratic processes for which they are fighting."

The Brook's amendment banned the poll tax thru which the Democrats disfranchise most Negroes in eight southern states. The bill permits soldiers, including Negroes, to vote in primary and general elections for national officials without registration and without payment of poll taxes.

GOVERNOR URGES SERVICE PARENTS TO ELECT BROOKS

Green Stresses Senator's Own War Record.

Du Quoin, Ill., Sept. 11 (AP).—Gov. Dwight H. Green said today that a "political vacation," advocated as a means of achieving war unity, would destroy the two party system and that "a single party unchecked by sincere criticism and honest opposition will reach extremes."

In an address at a Republican day celebration at the Du Quoin fair Green urged the reelection of United States Sen. Wayland Brooks, "only upon his record of having served as soldier and citizen alike."

Experience Valuable.

"If I were a father, if I were a mother who had sent my boy overseas as my contribution to this total war for liberty," the governor said, "I would hold greater hope for that boy's welfare and for the cause for which he fights because a fellow soldier sits in the halls of national government.

"We know that this citizen, this statesman, this soldier, will carry out every obligation to which the people of Illinois have committed him. We know that when we send him back to the senate, the fathers and mothers of Illinois boys who are fighting on every battle front can depend on Sen. Wayland Brooks to serve Americans in the true American way."

Calls for Nonwar Economy.

He called for rigid economy in the administration of civil affairs because "our overburdened people must not be crushed beyond their limit of endurance. Government can stand against needless expenditures in other than war efforts with a vigilance and determination as great as that the soldier shows against the enemy."

Trio Accused of Phoning Horse Race Bets Arrested

Police yesterday arrested three men accused of using seven telephones in room 403 of the building at 231 South Wells street to make horse race bets. The suspects are William Copeland, 64 years old, 4878 Magnolia avenue; Steve Livnaich, 56, of 6 North Hamlin avenue, and Norman Redler, 42, of 643 Roscoe street.

POLICEMEN TO GUARD BALLOT BOXES TODAY IN PAINTERS' ELECTION

Police Commissioner Allman ordered yesterday that a policeman be stationed in each polling place in which members of the painter's union will ballot today to elect a secretary-treasurer of the Painters' District council. This was done at the request of Liept. George Barnes, head of the police labor detail, who asserted that "the record of violence" in the council justifies watchfulness.

The voting will take place in the 27 local union headquarters and the council office, 1446 Adams street. The polls will be open from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m., and final tabulations will be made in the council office. About 1,600 are eligible to vote.

Candidates are Matthew Hartlein, acting secretary-treasurer since July 17, when his predecessor, Arthur W. Wallace, was shot to death in a battle with Charles Youngblood, a business agent, and James A. Mallette, 30 years old, who never has held a union office. Mallette has promised a reform administration if elected.

GREEN DEDICATES NEW POLICE LAB FORTRESS TODAY

The Illinois State police department's new mobile crime laboratory, an armored fortress containing an emergency hospital, photographic laboratory, fire fighting equipment, and water rescue equipment, will be dedicated at 3 p. m. today by Gov. Dwight H. Green in the plaza at Michigan avenue and Congress street.

The new police unit is about as long as an interstate bus, weighs 16 tons, and is mounted on a huge truck chassis specially engineered by the Diamond T. Truck company. The body, covered with bullet resisting steel, was built by the General Body company, 3079 Elston avenue. The designers were T. P. Sullivan, director of the state department of public welfare, and Leonarde Keeler, an expert in scientific detection of crime.

The gun turret atop the unit is raised by a hydraulic unit attached to the 150 horsepower engine that propels the laboratory.

SWITCHMAN FATALLY HURT.

William Schmidt, 50 years old, 7420 50th street, Summit, a train switchman was fatally injured yesterday by a train in the Argo Sugar refinery switchyard.

SAN CARLO STAR TO SING TONIGHT ON MELODY HOUR

Eugene Conley, a Tenor, Is Guest Artist.

Eugene Conley, young tenor star of the San Carlo Opera company, will make a guest appearance on America Loves a Melody over W-G-N and the Mutual system from 8 to 9 o'clock tonight. Marion Claire will be the soprano soloist.

Col. Robert R. McCormick, editor and publisher of THE TRIBUNE, will be the speaker.

A Jerome Kern medley, "Why Do I Love You," by the orchestra and chorus, "Only Make Believe," by Miss Claire, and "Try to Forget," by the orchestra, will be presented. Robert Trendler will be the conductor.

Conley and Miss Claire will sing another Kern selection, "The Song Is You," as a duet. Conley's solos will be "Ah, So Fair" from "Martha," "Ramona," and Sigmund Romberg's "Gypsy Song." Miss Claire's other solos will be Rimsky-Korsakov's "Song of India," and Lenoir's "Speak to Me of Love."

Dramas based on $25 prize winning letters from listeners will introduce "Ramona" and "Life Is Just a Bowl of Cherries." The orchestra will play Romberg's "A Windy Day at the Battery," and Ravel's "Bolero." Kenneth MacGregor is the producer.

JACK BENNY AIR SHOW SCHEDULED AT GREAT LAKES

Jack Benny will broadcast one of his shows from the Great Lakes Naval Training station this fall, a spokesman announced yesterday. Jack served there during World War I. Benny and his cast will leave Hollywood soon to open their autumn series Oct. 4 in New York. Thereafter they will tour army and navy posts.

"Bluejackets Calling," a new navy series, on WAIT at 6 p. m. week nights, presents three sailors on each program reading letters they have written to folks back home. These may be letters to wives and sweethearts as well as friends.

W-G-N's new amateur show, Stars of Tomorrow will make its bow at 8 p. m. tomorrow in the main audience studio before 600 guests. Mauri Cliffer will be the master of ceremonies. Auditions, open to any one with unusual entertainment talents, are held every Thursday evening.

Bob Becker, Chicago Tribune outdoor editor, will introduce a new kind of program on W-G-N at 7:15 p. m. Tuesday. Becker will present news and tips of interest to hunters and anglers, present interviews with outdoor enthusiasts. On his first broadcast he also will outline his plan thru which sportsmen will help to boost the nation's meat supply.

WRIT TO FREE EVANS, SLAYER OF TWO, SOUGHT

A petition for a writ of habeas corpus for the discharge from the penitentiary of William Evans, slayer of his own child and mother-in-law, was filed in Illinois state Supreme court in Springfield yesterday by Attorney Henry E. Ayers. Evans is serving two life imprisonment sentences for the slayings and a 1 to 14 year sentence for stabbing his wife, Nedra, a model, at that time. She has divorced him since and remarried.

The petition contends that Judge Julius Miner, sentencing Evans on his pleas of guilty, in effect found him temporarily insane. Judge Miner said, "It was a crime of love, not hate." Ayers says an insane person cannot be held responsible for a crime. Both Judge Miner and Assistant State's Attorney Samuel Friedman said that the judge made no such finding, but simply expressed his ideas on the testimony.

The crimes for which Evans was sentenced were committed March 22, 1941.

Tavern Owner Gets 5 Days for Selling Liquor to Boy

Judge Francis Borrelli yesterday fined Mrs. Frances Skoski, owner of a tavern at 1034 Erie street, $200 and sentenced her to five days in the county jail on a charge of selling liquor to a schoolboy 15 years old. The court postponed the sentence until Sept. 24 when a motion to vacate will be heard. Mrs. Skoski's son, John, a bartender in the tavern, was granted a jury trial on the same charge. John Jingle, 105 West Madison street, who said he was a friend of the defendants, was fined $25 for contempt of court for violating a court order forbidding him to talk to witnesses before the case was heard.

Shipbuilders' Brotherhood Opens Its Ranks to Women

Kansas City, Kas., Sept. 11 (AP).—Women, it developed today, will be admitted to membership in the Brotherhood of Boilermakers and Shipbuilders [AFL]. The executive council of the International Brotherhood of Boilermakers, Iron Shipbuilders and Helpers acted by edict after a referendum on the subject failed to muster the necessary number of votes. J. A. Franklin, union president, said the executive action was taken because of the urgent need for workers in the huge shipbuilding program.

Appeals Death Sentence Imposed on '3 Hat' Killer

Assistant Public Defender Frank Ferlich said yesterday he had filed an appeal with Illinois Supreme court in the death penalty imposed two months ago on John Pantano, 20 years old, leader of the "Three Hat" bandit gang. Pantano was convicted by a jury for the holdup murder of Policeman Charles Williams.

SYNOPSIS.

Covering the Spanish Civil war, James Milcom, English journalist with Loyalist sympathies, meets Raquel, the Condesa de Verdura, in Madrid, seeking food for her starving child. James befriends her, but the child dies. He then helps her escape into France to a frontier hotel where her sister, Olivia, is staying. Rosemary Oldhead, a young English girl, is vacationing at the same hotel with her parents. Rosemary has made friends with a number of newspaper men including: Crumpaun, Hever, Grossman, and Carrow. Thru them she meets James and Raquel and falls in love with James even tho she knows he loves Raquel. James and Raquel acknowledge their love before he returns to Spain. Raquel asks him to visit her husband, Pascual, who is in prison, and to try to get news of her brother, Juanito. James finds Pascual, once notorious for his infidelities, a greatly changed man, who has repented of his past sins and is almost a saint now. He talks to Pascual's cousin, La Paquita, just before her execution as a White spy, and learns thru a clew from her, that Juanito and Olivia are White spies. In the meantime, Rosemary's father, a Loyalist sympathizer, has unwittingly taken pictures of a frontier pass used by the White organization. Rosemary learns that the Whites have stolen copies of the pictures and when she finally tells her father, he reports the theft and the pass is closed. Later, Rosemary and her parents visit a cave under the frontier and she notices steps worn on a rock leading to the Spanish side. Outside the cave she meets an aristocratic young man in peasant's clothes and is suspicious that he is a White spy. When James rejoins Raquel, she tells him she will be his. But in spite of his great love for her, James cannot bring himself to injure the man he knows Pascual has become. He refuses Raquel's love and tells her of her husband's change of heart, advising her to return to Pascual, soon to be released from prison. Heartbroken, she accepts his advice and goes to Paris to get a permit to return to Spain. After she leaves, Rosemary sees James, grief-stricken, walking alone on the beach. She goes to him and confesses her love for him. He considers her confession an adolescent impulse, but it soothes and distracts him. Mr. Oldhead reports the stone ladder in the frontier cave and it is closed. Rosemary encounters the aristocratic looking peasant she had previously met, and talking to him realizes he is Juanito. He writes a message to Raquel in Rosemary's Spanish book.

INSTALMENT XXXVI.

PARTING.

Late at night on the day of the condesa's return, Rosemary went, already in a dressing gown, and tapped on her door. She asked Raquel to come along to her, Rosemary's room. "I have something important to show you—please, you must come," she said urgently.

A little reluctantly, the condesa got up and went with her—and curled herself up on the foot of the bed. "Well, what is it, this important thing?" she asked, with a smiling hint of mockery.

But smile and mockery alike left her exquisite face when Rosemary handed her the shabby copybook, folded open at the penciled devoir. She glanced at it, stared at it with astonished eyes, and then with a lovely gesture clasped it to her breast.

"What is this? Where did you get this? Why is it in your book? What does it mean? How can you have come by it? You can't have seen him?"

"Yes, I did see him," the young girl said steadily. "Quite by accident. It was three days ago—I was on the Chambre d'Amour, doing my Spanish, and he came by," . . .

"Juanito? There in Biarritz? O, my God! And I was away."

"Raquel, darling, do be quiet! I can't tell you if you keep on interrupting. Yes, he came by, and we talked."

"Why should he talk to you?" Raquel asked.

"Because we'd met before, outside the Grotte de Sare some time ago. I was sitting there alone—the others had gone off—and he came out of the grotto. And I guessed then that he was a spy."

"You too, know this? How?"

I didn't know it then—I just guessed," Rosemary said.

"And whom did you tell? Your father? This Crump person?"

"No—I didn't tell any

Army's Nurses Face Their Job with Eagerness

An army nurse's life is no tea party, but what self-respecting army nurse would want it to be?

This attitude was expressed last night at a dinner in the Hotel Sherman given for 6th service command nurses by the American Legion in honor of the city's Army Nurse day. Two nurses told their stories. They were Mrs. Helen Burke Bering, wife of one of the managers of the hotel who was a nursing heroine in France in the first World war, and Lieut. Shirley Payne of Detroit, Mich., who expects to go overseas with the army nurse corps very soon.

"Ninety-nine out of 100 girls who are chosen as army nurses will give everything they've got," said Mrs. Bering, who is on the inactive list and wore a Legion uniform. "When I was in France in 1917 we once worked for 60 straight hours without a break, and I never heard a single complaint. I served over there for 15 months and my hospital was bombed every night, even the one shaped like a cross."

Mrs. Bering received the croix de guerre and the distinguished service cross after the war but she refused to discuss personal heroics in the bombed areas. The only things that seemed to bother her, she recalled, were the bathing facilities at the front [a basin] and getting along with only two duty uniforms.

Lieut. Payne, pretty but competent looking, enlisted in the corps in February, 1941, after five years as a Red Cross nurse, and helped to open the hospital at Camp Grant.

She agreed with Mrs. Bering that nurses are anxious to get to the battle front, tho they expect the hardest kind of work. Her only complaint is that she is frequently mistaken for a WAAC and she wishes the public would understand that nurses wear dark blue dress uniforms and are the only women who are a part of the regular army. Her younger brother, Arlon, is an army air corps cadet.

In the afternoon the army nurses participated in radio programs and in the evening they marched to the Civic Opera house behind a police escort. There they were the guests of Jeanette MacDonald, film star, at her concert for the benefit of army emergency relief.

The Rev. Dr. Armin G. Weng, president of the Illinois synod of the United Lutheran church, will be guest preacher on the Chicagoland Church hour to be heard over W-G-N at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning. The services will originate from Wicker Park Lutheran church, 2112 West Le Moyne street. The Rev. Dr. Charles L. Venable, pastor of the church, will be the liturgist. The music will be directed by Frances Dittbrenner.

Governor's Wife Is Luncheon Hostess to Army Nurses

Women in War Work . . . . By India Moffett

Women are helping to save fat—to save metal—to save man power for military service by taking places in offices and on production lines. Now women are to become important in another phase of the country's war production front—saving lives. Harry Guilbert, regional director of the National Committee for the Conservation of Man Power in War Industries, expresses the opinion that women must help save lives, time, and money in war plants thru increased safety consciousness.

To meet this growing need the Illinois Institute of Technology will start a new safety engineering training program on Sept. 21. It will be open to women as well as men—there were only half a dozen women in the safety training course given last year at Illinois Tech. Registration will be held in the evenings of Monday thru Friday next week. Application for registration should be made by mail to the Safety Training committee, Illinois Institute of Technology, 43 West 33d street. The course is open to any responsible industrial employé who is recommended by his company and who will be able to contribute toward accident prevention upon completion of the course.

Classes will be held two evenings weekly for 16 weeks. Illinois Tech officials expect a representation from every war plant in the Chicago area. The expected enrollment approaches 2,000. There were 1,016 persons from 300 plants in the first class of this kind last year when the Chicago school enrolled one-fourth of the national total. The classes will be scattered thruout the city for the convenience of the workers. There will be instruction at Austin, Crane Technical, Carl Schurz, Fenger, Harrison, Lane Technical, Lindblom, and Tilden Technical High schools, as well as at the Washburne Trade school, the South Chicago YMCA, the Clearing clubhouse, and on both the south and west campuses of Illinois Tech. There also will be classes in Cicero, Maywood, Waukegan, Oak Park, Chicago Heights and other suburbs.

The Chicago Service Men's center, 176 West Washington street, has profited $10 because Mrs. Kent Clow says she has found out what to do with her husband's golf winnings. The $10 check she sent to the center is the latest sum to come her way after one of Mr. Clow's golf matches.

When the 5,000 employés of the Whiting refinery of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana were awarded the Minute Man flag of the United States treasury department recently, one employé received a special citation of her own. She is Mrs. Tillie Stark, wick sewer in the candle factory of the refinery, where blackout candles are made. Mrs. Stark is investing 28 per cent of her salary in war bonds every pay day.

The American-Russian Young Women's club, an organization of young Chicagoans of Russian descent, is holding a tea in room 500A, Fine Arts building, at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. The event will be a club contribution to the USO, Red Cross, and Russian relief. Miss Nettie Zinko is chairman of the tea.

The Mary Crane league has invitations out for the première showing of the child welfare film, "Defense for Children," on Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the WBBM air theater in the Wrigley building. Wilfred S. Reynolds, director of the Chicago Council of Social Agencies, will be the commentator. The film is the contribution to the war effort of the league and the National College of Education, and is intended to illustrate how nursery schools operate and to be a guide to other organizations.

Authorities in England have gone a step further than just establishing day nurseries for children of mothers in war industry, and artifical families have been created to give children the added security of adopted mothers. Anna Freud, daughter of Sigmund Freud, famed psychologist, and director of the three Hampstead nurseries in England, discovered that each child was attracted to one of its attendants more than to the others. This caused Miss Freud to experiment and to assign each worker to the several children of whom she was the favorite. This substitute "mother" was put in charge of a "family" of four or five. In each case there was a period of adjustment that lasted two or three weeks, and then the families were firmly established and immensely successful.

The three nurseries of which Miss Freud is the director are run by the Foster Parents' Plan for War Children, which also operates a number of other nurseries. The organization has an American headquarters at 55 West 42d street, New York City.

[The Women in War Work department reports on women's activities in war and defense work and answers questions of women wishing to take part in these activities.]

Choral Group on Program for Russian Relief Tonight

The Shining Light Harmonic choir, winner in its division of the choral contests of the 1942 Chicago Music Festival, will be one of the musical attractions on the program to be given tonight at Mandel hall, 57th street and University avenue, for the benefit of Russian war relief and the joint anti-Fascist refugee committee.

U. of Chicago Awards Degrees to 417; Many to Enter War Service

Sixty-five per cent of the male members of a class of 417 which was graduated yesterday from the University of Chicago will enter the armed forces, and 41 per cent of the women will enter various phases of civilian defense work or war industry, university officials said.

Members of the graduating class were awarded degrees by Dr. Robert M. Hutchins, president of the university. Dr. Avery O. Craven, professor of history, delivered the graduation address.

Bachelors' degrees were conferred on 177 candidates, masters' degrees were awarded to 148, and 20 candidates became masters of business administration. Eight members of the class became doctors of medicine, one a doctor of jurisprudence, and 63 doctors of philosophy. The convocation, the 110th, was held in Rockefeller Memorial chapel.

Jeanette Sings for Army and Thrills Throng

BY EDWARD BARRY.

Jeanette MacDonald, the renowned film soprano, appeared at the Civic Opera house last night in the second of the 12 recitals by which she hopes to raise $60,000 for Army Emergency relief.

Plainly, Chicago came thru with its share, for the house was full. More than full, for Manager Harry Zelzer—evidently with the help of a shoe horn—had packed a total of 4,200 persons into the place—600 more than capacity. The stage was full, too, but these were United States army nurses who were present as Miss MacDonald's guests and in observance of Army Nurse day.

To the accompaniment of "oohs" and "ahs" and gasps of delight from her audience, Miss MacDonald flashed her famous smile and poured out her famous voice thru a taxing program that included folk songs, operatic excerpts, and lyric songs by a variety of composers. One of these composers was Lieut. Gene Raymond, Miss MacDonald's husband, who is now attached to a bomber squadron of the United States army air force and operating from a base in England.

At the singer's first appearance, and after each song, volleys of heartening, rapid fire applause came roaring up from the house.

Miss MacDonald knows more about showmanship than almost any singer alive. She took sentimental songs like "Smilin' Thru" and squeezed the last drop out of them. In gayer things such as Barbour's "Awake, It Is Day!" she gave the music a lilt and lift that carried her audience along from bar to bar and phrase to phrase.

Vocally she displayed an astonishingly rich and reliable middle voice and an upper half octave which, in a forte, sounded a trifle brittle. This is something which is noticeable in a concert hall, but not—thanks to the movies' competent sound engineers—in a film production.

Musically she proved her natural ability to put over a simple song with exactly the type of nuance needed to carry its message, but she made the mistake of not differentiating her style sufficiently when she tackled music of a somewhat higher quality. For instance, in the "Il est doux, Il est bon," from "Hérodiade," and in the "Ave Maria," which was included among the encores, her tone was sometimes too lush and her phrasing too sweet and facile to do justice to the character of the music.

These observations on the vocal and musical aspects of Miss MacDonald's work should not obscure the truth that her stage presence and facial expressions are extremely important in the impression she makes.

Miss MacDonald's expert accompanist was Giuseppe Bamboschek. He offered two piano solos—Liszt's "Canzonetta di Salvator Rosa" and a Saint-Saëns gavotte.

C., chief of the United States army remount service, and Peter Sachs, who are to be judges, will be the house guests of Miss Casselberry's stepfather and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Edgerton A. Throckmorton, in Wayne. The Army Emergency relief will receive the proceeds from the show. More entries than ever before will compete in the event.

National Anthem Will Be Studied Monday in Chicago Schools

The national anthem will be the subject of study Monday by pupils in history and civic classes of Chicago schools as the nation observes the 128th anniversary of the writing of "The Star Spangled Banner" by Francis Scott Key.

A facsimile of the original copy, which is on exhibit in the Walters gallery in Baltimore, will be hung Monday at the Chicago Historical society in the new Constitution room, which is scheduled to be opened on that same date. The hanging will mark the first appearance of an exact copy of the original manuscript of the anthem in the society.

"The Star Spangled Banner" is sung thruout the nation at the opening or closing of public events since the start of the war, America's first since congress approved it as the national anthem.

Today Big Day for Debutantes, with 4 Parties

BY JUDITH CASS.

THE big day of the brief autumn debut season is today, with four parties on the calendar. Also of interest is the addition of a name to the debut list, that of Miss Nancy Broeksmit, who had a small party two weeks ago which was as much a farewell to her brother, Ensign John S. Broeksmit Jr., as it was a party for her.

Miss Broeksmit, whose parents live in Lake Forest, is a graduate of Ferry Hall and will return to Vassar for her second year later this month. Ensign Broeksmit, who received his commission about two months ago, has gone to the naval indoctrination school at Harvard.

The young women who are being introduced to society today are Miss Isabel Jane Leonard, Miss Priscilla Pirie, Miss Janet Carle Ingram, and Miss Catherine Eloise Loucks. Miss Leonard, daughter of the junior Arthur G. Leonards of Wilmington, Ill., will have a supper-dance at the Saddle and Cycle club tonight. Miss Ingram's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ingram of Evanston, are giving a tea-dance at the Exmoor Country club. Miss Pirie, daughter of the Gordon Piries of Winnetka, and Miss Louck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon R. Loucks of Kenilworth, will have teas at home.

Miss Pirie's Brother Has Two Week-End Guests.

Miss Pirie and her parents will receive in the living room of their home, and if the afternoon is pleasant the guests may wander out of doors. Gordon Pirie Jr., who hopes to enter Northwestern this fall, has two guests for over the week-end, Miss Barbara and Miss Phyllis Feldmann, who are twins, of St. Claire, Mich. A second set of twins at the party will be the debutante's young sisters, Nancy and Martha Pirie.

Miss Pirie attended the Roycemore school and Farmington, and will attend Northwestern this year. Her assistants this afternoon will be Miss Judy Gillfillan and Miss Anne Tilden, Roycemore friends; Miss Lucille McGowan, Miss Leonard, Miss Cherry Boyd, and Miss Joan Butler. Miss Boyd and Miss Butler are debutantes. After the tea the Piries will take their daughter's assistants and their escorts to dinner at the Indian Hill before going on to the Leonard supper-dance.

If it doesn't rain, there will be dancing on an improvised platform in the Louckses' garden. Miss Loucks, a sophomore at Mount Holyoke, will have as her assistants her younger sister, Sue Ellen; Miss Anne Wuichet, Miss Suzanne Weese, Miss Joy Smith, and Miss Marcia Wells. Following the tea they and their beaux will dine and dance at the Palmer House as guests of the bud and her parents.

Supper-Dance Will Follow Miss Ingram's Tea-Dance.

Following Miss Ingram's tea-dance at the Exmoor, the T. Weller Kimballs and their daughter, Miss Jeanne

Fall Fashions Sparkle Amid Rivet Rhapsody

BY REA SEEGER.

All that glitters on the new fall fashions in footgear, bags, belts, hats, gloves, and dresses is made up of sparkling tiny bits of metal which could be called rhapsody in rivets. Smart, fitted afternoon and daytime dresses are literally alive because of the hundreds and hundreds of metal disc or rivet ideas. Stunning smoke gray crêpe dresses are accented with the gleam of silver rivets, tobacco brown creations shimmer with silver nailheads and dull black is particularly effective with the same trim. Cocktail, theater and informal dinner models are delightfully dressup because of this glitter.

Jackets for sleek streamlined dinner clothes that trail the floor, suits for cocktal parties, evening coats and afternoon coats to top the new short length dresses all gleam and glitter with rivets. So does footgear. Slim distinctive pumps with clever buckles on the instep repeat the line of nailheads around the soles and the heels. Sometimes the heels are almost covered with the sparklers. Others have just a couple of rows.

Matching these pumps and other street models are many different styles and sizes of bags. Brown, wine russet, green, beige, and black all respond to the shine and flash of the nailhead trim.

Completing the finds that glitter so enticingly are the belts, blouses and the gloves, all alight with decorative trim in silver or gold metal rivets or nailheads. Suede and smooth leathers are equally effective as background contrast. Wool crêpe, velveteen, fuzzy woolens and silky crêpes provide dress suit and coat contrast in all bright colors and street shades. One sure way to manage a lot of sparkle is to wear rivet trimmed clothes and accessories.

Looking at Hollywood

—By Hedda Hopper—

Hollywood, Cal., Sept. 11.—While watching Deanna Durbin doing a dramatic scene in "Forever Yours," I remembered Norman Taurog telling me a few years back that one day we'd be thinking of Deanna as a dramatic actress and forget she ever sang. I mentioned that to her, and she said, "I'd like to go dramatic, Hedda, but not now. I feel just as the public does. I want something light and gay, and that's what I'll be doing." Her next is "Three Smart Girls Join Up," in which she works in a defense factory. . . . But she couldn't keep her mind off Vaughn Paul very long. He's in San Diego now, and they've been together a few times. And, O boy, is she in love with him! . . . Edmund O'Brien, who plays opposite Deanna in her present picture, reports to Uncle Sam when it's finished. Wants to go in as a private. Says, "When married guys with two and three kids start going in, that strikes at the very heart of the country, and I'm going, too."

Deanna Durbin.

Ramblings.

Mary Martin's bust has been turned over to the government for scrap metal. It was made of iron, and sat in the park of her home town, Weatherford, Tex. . . . Supreme Court Justice Frank Murphy's picture hangs on the wall of Paulette Goddard's dressing room at the studio, and on it is written: "To Paulette—with my devotion—Frank." . . . Who was it said, "You can tell the kind of a man he is by the way he handles power"? . . . Diana Barrymore's next picture will be "Looking for Trouble," which shouldn't be hard for her. . . . Producer Edmund Grainger flew into first place with his "Flying Tigers" and now he flies right into the army, Sept. 18, as a first lieutenant.

Could Be Wrong.

Linda Darnell is hoping her studio will give her a test for the saint in "Song of Bernadette." Says Linda, "I'd give my right arm to play that part, even if it does mean going into a nunnery for three years. You wouldn't believe how inexperienced I look without this makeup on." O, yes, I would, Linda. Remember, I saw you the first day you put your foot on any stage. But that was three years ago, and you've done a lot of developing since. . . . When Charles Boyer took one good look at Gracie McDonald, who was done up in tights for a circus scene in "Flesh and Fantasy," he discovered she had sex—and wow! Immediately ordered her part enlarged. . . . And Charlie Winninger, who's in the same picture, plays the circus owner and watches the same trapeze act performed he used to do with his brother 'way back in 1900, when they were acrobats, helped move scenery, played the trombone, then watered the elephants. He turned to me on the set and said, "And the kids of today call this work!"

Preparation for—War.

Sergt. Bill Erwin, from Texas, is one of the funniest chaps I've met in ages. He worked for bread and butter money five years at the Pasadena Playhouse, then at our Turnabout theater here, got various radio jobs, and finally became gag writer for Edgar Bergen. One month later, he was in the army. Hasn't yet seen a gun, but is still using the typewriter. . . . Charlotte Greenwood, back from a two weeks' trip east, was certainly done up as Dixie Dugan's mother, for the picture, "Dixie," in a green dress, with apron of red and white polka dots and bows of same in her hair. Martin Broones flew to Chicago, so he could train back to town with Charlotte.

What an Opening!

Harry Cohn is getting set to cast "My Client, Curly Caterpillar," story by Norman Corwin. The only tune the caterpillar will dance to is "Yes, Sir, That's My Baby," and just as they get ready to sell the caterpillar to Disney, it turns into a beautiful butterfly. Go to it, fans, you can have the time of your life casting the caterpillar. I've already selected my man, who's always been covered with fuzz. . . . Goody, goody! Kay Kyser will make a picture at Metro. Properly handled, Kay is a great piece of property, which he's proved time and time again. But his pictures have been—well, anyway—with all Metro's facilities, I'm hoping they'll do the trick and make 'em good. . . .

Even Money.

What do you bet David Selznick comes back from New York with the picture rights to "Life with Father"? It's well known that Mary Pickford wanted to buy it. It's my hunch that if David gets it, he'll ask Mary to play the mother in it, which would put her right back in the running. Look what the play did for Lillian and Dorothy Gish.

The first recipe in today's group of contest honorable mention awards solves the icing problem neatly, I think. The contestant says children love these gay little cup cakes. I like the descriptive name, too, don't you?

Cotton Tops.
5 tablespoons vegetable shortening
¾ cup sugar
1 egg
1½ cups sifted flour
2½ teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
6 tablespoons cocoa
⅔ cup milk
Halved marshmallows

Blend shortening, sugar and egg all together by stirring. Sift dry ingredients together and add alternately with milk. Pour into greased muffin pans and bake in a moderate [350 degree] oven until done, about 20 minutes. Place a halved marshmallow on top of each cake just before removing from oven and allow to melt slightly.

CHARLOTTE C. GEHRKE,
6140 Roscoe-st., Chicago, Ill.

Peanut Butter Muffins.
[Twelve large muffins.]
2¼ cups sifted flour
3¼ teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons sugar
⅓ cup peanut butter
¼ cup shortening
1 cup milk
1 egg, beaten

Sift flour with baking powder, salt and sugar. Cut in peanut butter and shortening as for biscuits. Combine milk and egg, and add to dry ingredients, stirring just enough to dampen all the flour. Turn into greased muffin pans and bake in a hot [425 degree] oven for 25 to 30 minutes.

MRS. E. HAMM,
301 N. 11th-st., Escanaba, Mich.

Piquante Sandwiches.
[Excellent for open face variety.]
6 tablespoons butter
4 tablespoons grated horseradish
1 bunch watercress, chopped
1 teaspoon lemon juice
Few grains of salt

Cream butter and add horseradish [squeeze all moisture out of bottled horseradish before using]. Add chopped watercress, lemon juice and salt. Spread on thin slices of bread, and serve.

HELEN HOLMES,
6345 University-av., Chicago, Ill.

Tomato Delight.
1 green pepper, sliced
3 tablespoons butter
6 medium tomatoes, cut in pieces
2 cups corn, fresh or canned
2 tablespoons sugar [optional]
1 teaspoon salt

Cook green pepper in the butter for five minutes. Do not brown. Add tomatoes, corn, and seasonings, and cook all together for 10 minutes.

MRS. E. M. NANEY,
Rural Route 2, Fairfield, Ill.

Lobster Salad á La Louie.
[Serves 6.]
¾ pound cooked lobster meat
1 large head lettuce
½ cup minced onion [mild]
½ cup chopped celery
½ cup chopped green pepper
½ cup mayonnaise
½ cup chili sauce
½ cup tomato catsup
1 teaspoon Worchestershire sauce

Flake lobster meat and break up head lettuce and chill thoroly. Combine remaining ingredients and chill. When ready to serve, place lobster on the lettuce on individual plates and top with the chilled dressing. Other sea foods may be substituted for the lobster.

MRS. ALTA NORTHROP,
1954 Jones-st., Omaha, Neb.

Chocolate Chip Pie.
[One 9 inch pie.]
14 graham crackers, rolled fine
¼ cup butter, melted
24 marshmallows
½ cup milk
½ cup heavy cream, whipped
½ teaspoon vanilla
2 squares of unsweetened chocolate, grated

Combine cracker crumbs and butter and, when well blended, pat into bottom and sides of 9 inch pie pan. Bake in moderate [350 degree] oven for about 10 minutes. Cool. Meanwhile, melt marshmallows in the milk in double boiler. Cool. Fold in whipped cream, vanilla, and chocolate, and turn into pastry shell. Chill thoroly. If desired, serve topped with more whipped cream and sprinkled with a little additional shaved chocolate.

MRS. LOGAN BLILLARD,
McGregor, Ia.

TODAY'S PRIZE RECIPE

South American Chocolate.
[Good hot or cold.]
½ pound cake sweet chocolate
1 cup very strong coffee
6 cups milk

Melt chocolate over hot water. Add coffee slowly, mixing well and bring to boil over direct heat. Boil 1 minute, stirring constantly to prevent scorching. If to be served hot, add milk which has been scalded and beat well with rotary beater, and serve. If to be served cold, cool, add cold milk, and chill well before serving.

MRS. ELSIE HOFFMAN,
5140 S. Woodlawn avenue, Chicago, Ill.

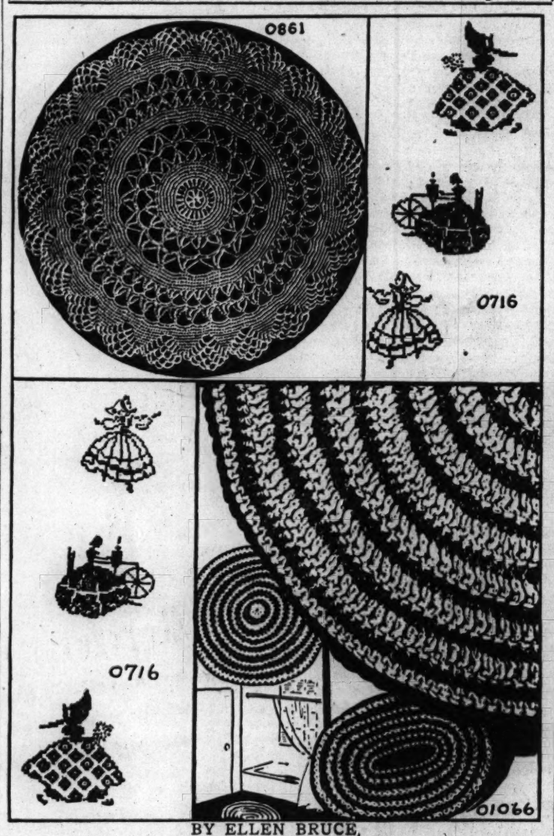
Crocheted Circular Doily



BY ELLEN BRUCE.

The unusual, crocheted, circular doily, No. 0861, was created especially for use under salad plate. It is a lacey, openwork design composed of wheel and cluster patterns. Cross-stitch embroidery, choosing old fashioned girls as the theme, creates attractive wall pictures and is used for samplers. No. 0716 includes six hot iron transfer motifs which may be used in pairs or separately. Crocheted rugs, created from four ply cotton thread, as in No. 01066, require little time and work up in an unusual manner, having a new twist to the single and double crochet.

EACH pattern costs 10 cents. For each send 10 cents in stamps or coin, plus 2 cents to cover mailing cost, to the Needlework Bureau, Chicago Tribune, 220 Fifth avenue, New York City.

Kimball, will give a supper-dance for the bud and her assistants in their Kenilworth home. Miss Mary Elizabeth Brown, Miss Barbara Corning, Miss Jean Faricy, Miss Barbara French of Ottawa, Miss Catherine Remy, Miss Janet Richardson, Miss Madeleine Sheridan, Miss Jean Sullivan, Miss Jane Wilson, and Miss Joy McPherrin of New York, formerly of Evanston, will assist. Also assisting will be four mothers and daughters, Mrs. Gilbert Bogert and Miss Dale Bogert, Mrs. George Fox and Miss Carol Fox, Mrs. and Miss Kimball, and Mrs. Hathaway Kemper and Miss Joan Stover. Miss Ingram is a graduate of the Roycemore school and attends Smith college.

The Leonard party will start at 11 o'clock tonight. Several of the debutantes' former classmates at Miss Porter's in Farmington have come for the party and will remain for a week or so as guests of the Leonards. Miss Leonard will go to the Finch school in New York this winter.

Several Names Are Added to Earlier Debutante List.

Omitted from the list of this season's debutantes published last Monday were the names of several who had debuts during the early summer season, late in June and early in July. They were Miss Deborah Smith and her cousin, Miss Harriet Harvey of Macomb, Ill.; Miss Elizabeth Hubbard, Miss Sally Mitchell, Miss Mary Claire Van Hagen, Miss Polly Goodrich, and Miss Nancy Wilson.

Miss Mitchell's parents, Dr. and Mrs. James Herbert Mitchell, moved on Thursday to a new apartment in North State parkway after having spent the summer in Lake Forest. Miss Mitchell will leave on the 20th for Sarah Lawrence, and her younger sister, Joan, departs today to enter Smith.

First Child, a Son, Born to John B. Erskines.

When Albert De Wolfe Erskine returned on Thursday from a short visit to Desbarats, a waiting telegram informed him of the twofold good news that a son had been born to the John B. Erskines and that young Mr. Erskine had been promoted from a second to a first lieutenancy in the army air force. The first child of Lieut. Erskine and former Edith Henderson was born on Wednesday in Yakima, Wash. When he and his mother leave the hospital they will go to Lieut. Erskine's new post at Fort Wright, Spokane, Wash.

From Forest Hills, Long Island, comes word of the birth of a daughter on Aug. 23 at the Doctor's hospital, New York, to Lieut. Comm. and Mrs. Reinhard C. Moureau. Mrs. Moureau is the former Miss Grace Vipond, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Vipond of Lake Forest.

Mrs. I. Kelly Davie of Highland Park announces the engagement of her daughter, Elizabeth Kelly, to Lieut. Allin Ruane Yarwood of the army, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Thomas Yarwood of Oak Park. Miss Davie attended Stoneleigh college in New Hampshire and Lake Forest college, where her fiancé also was a student. He received his commission at Camp Davis in North Carolina.

According to Culbertson

[Copyright: 1942: By Ely Culbertson.]

In nonexpert games the players have fairly wide latitude in their bids because their partners do not attempt to draw subtle inferences. In expert circles, however, every bid and every pass have definite significance. Hence it behooves the player to consider all possible outcomes before he takes any action. Consider the following deal:

North, dealer.
East-West vulnerable.
North-South not vulnerable, but 40 part-score.

NORTH
♠ A J 10 7 4 3
♥ Q 8 5 4
♦ 9 5

WEST
♠ Q 8 5
♥ J 9 6 3 2
♦ 4 2

EAST
♠ K 9 6
♥ K 10
♦ K Q J 7 3
♣ 7 4 3

SOUTH
♠ 2
♥ A 7
♦ A 10 8 6
♣ K Q J 10 9 5

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
1 spade	2 diamonds	Double	Pass
2 spades	Pass	6 clubs
		[final bid]

The six club contract was defeated one trick.

On the surface, it may appear that South's leap from two spades all the way to six clubs was responsible for this sorry result, but surface indications are scarcely conclusive. It was North's take-out of the two diamond double that was largely responsible for South's slam bid.

Let us consider South's problem. He was not vulnerable, whereas the opponents were. With a singleton in partner's suit, length and strength in the adversely bid diamond suit, and tricks in hearts and clubs, the one question in South's mind, when he heard East's two diamond bid, was whether he could gain more from doubling or from bidding a slam. On due consideration, he correctly decided that he could not be sure of making a slam, hence properly chose to double.

When this double got around to North, the latter took it upon himself to override South's opinion. Unfortunately, his two spade bid had quite a different effect on South from that intended. The only sound reason for the take-out could be that North was unprepared to coöperate against a diamond contract. That fact, in turn, indicated that North could have no more than a singleton diamond and this left the strong probability that he would have several clubs. South realized that a slam in clubs might not be cold, but since he had lost the opportunity to slaughter the opponents, he felt that only a slam could offer full compensation.

The Housewife

When one ordinary sized can of cleaning fluid gives 10 gallons of liquid, it's a real economy. Such an expanding product is one we came across recently. It can be used for rugs, upholstery, and woodwork, as well as for clothing, and it is non-explosive and odorless. It costs only half a dollar and should last a number of months.

Marion Bard Will Become Bride Today

Miss Marion Bard and Charles W. Boand, whose engagement was not known until yesterday to any except their closest friends, will be married quietly at 4:30 o'clock today in the garden of her father's home in Lake Forest. Mrs. Joshua Derry, another of the daughters of Francis Norwood Bard, will be her sister's matron of honor. Miss Frances Kelly and Miss Carola Kellner are to be bridesmaids, and Robert Boand is here from New Orleans, La., to be his brother's best man. Among the guests at the small ceremony will be the bride's uncle, Assistant Secretary of the Navy Ralph Bard, who arrived yesterday from Washington, D. C., and Mrs. Bard.

After a stay on a ranch near Asheville, N. C., Mr. Boand expects to report for active duty with the navy. His bride, who formerly was Mrs. James H. McMahon Jr., is a graduate of Sarah Lawrence college. Mr. Boand, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Boand of Kansas City, Mo., was graduated from the University of Chicago law school and has been practicing law in Chicago.

Miss Mary Ellen Thompson and Pierre Goff Beach Jr. will be married at 4:30 o'clock today in the First Presbyterian church of Evanston. A small reception will follow in the Evanston home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Eugene Thompson. Mr. Beach, son of Mr. and Mrs. Beach of Evanston, will take his bride on a two weeks' wedding trip before they return to Evanston to live.

Miss Helen Mary Packard, daughter of Mrs. Guy Coburn Packard of Wilmette, and Robert Thomas Seaburg, son of Mrs. Knute Seaburg of Evanston, will be married at 11 o'clock this morning in St. Francis Xavier church. A breakfast and reception will follow at the Orrington hotel. Mr. Seaburg and his bride will live in Evanston.

In Trinity Church in Highland Park, Miss Grace Jean Pickett and Byron Cole Howes Jr. will be married at 4 o'clock today. Later the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Desha Pickett, will give a reception in their home in Highland Park. Mr. Howes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howes of Highland Park, will take his bride to live in California, where he expects to be called for military service soon.

Mr. and Mrs. John S. Somerville of Evanston and their daughter, Suzanne, are in Spokane, Wash., today for the marriage of another daughter, Miss Corinne, to Lieut. Nelson Bradford Repsold, son of Louis William Repsold of Rochester, Minn. The ceremony, originally planned to take place in Evanston, was changed when Lieut. Repsold was unable to obtain leave. He and his bride will live in Spokane, where he is stationed at Fort George Wright.

Chicago Opens $500,000 Drive to Help Greeks

Dr. Homer W. Davis, who was president of the American college at Athens, Greece, at the time of the German occupation of that country, yesterday told members of the Chicago citizens committee that unless immediate food supplies are sent to them inhabitants of the larger cities of Greece face extermination by starvation within the next six months.

Dr. Davis spoke at a luncheon in the Chicago club launching a drive thruout Illinois to collect $500,000 within the next 90 days for Greek relief. Half of this amount will be subscribed by Greek associations of the state. The remainder will be raised by the citizens' committee headed by Howell W. Murray, Chicago investment banker, as Illinois' contribution to the $6,000,000 fund the Greek War Relief association is seeking nationally to charter neutral vessels now starting to carry wheat and medical supplies to the stricken nation.

The wheat is being contributed by the Canadian government and the medicines are the gift of the Greek War Relief association of Canada and the American Red Cross.

Harold S. Vanderbilt, national honorary chairman of the relief association, also addressed the meeting. He said the first of three Swedish ships comprising what the association hopes will become a regular mercy fleet of eight vessels sailed under safe passage agreements from Montreal Aug. 7 and arrived at Pireaus Aug. 29. Three more left Montreal Aug. 29, he disclosed, and two others are about to sail.

The vessels will carry a total of 15,000 tons of wheat a month and Mr. Vanderbilt said both the association and the state department of the federal government are satisfied the food and medical supplies are reaching the Greek people. Distribution of the food, he said, is under the supervision of the International Red Cross.

Pretty Apron Designs

WOMAN'S AND MISS' APRONS.

Both these apron styles are useful and practical, as well as pretty. One makes a coverall with large apples as applique. It's a grand apron to slip over a "good" dress while you're whipping up a supper. The other makes a complete house dress, coat style, which is pretty enough to wear on your marketing rounds.

Style No. 3092 is designed for sizes small, medium, and large. Medium size requires 1⅞ yards of 35 inch material with ⅜ yard for apples and ⅛ yard for stems and leaves, and 5¼ yards of rickrack.

Style No. 2777 is designed for sizes 14, 16, 18, and 20 and 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48, 50, and 52 inch bust measurements. Size 36 requires 4⅜ yards of 35 inch material with ¼ yard contrasting and 1 yard of ruffing.

Each pattern costs 10 cents, plus 2 cents to cover mailing cost.

Address orders for Clotilde patterns to Chicago Tribune, P. O. Box 537, Grand Central Annex, NEW YORK CITY, including 10 cents in stamps or coin, plus 2 cents for mailing (coin preferred—wrap it carefully) for each pattern ordered. IMPORTANT: Be sure to state clearly the number of the pattern and the size desired and write your name and address plainly.

In Gratitude.

J. Frank McDermond Jr., publisher of the Attica Ledger-Tribune at Attica, Ind., who is recovering from injuries sustained in an automobile accident, sent the following touching note to friends who'd shown him many kindnesses.

"Dear Friends: I wish to express my utmost thanks for your kind remembrance while in the hospital and while at my home. Friendship has a way of lightening the darkest hours and in my own case it was as much help as the doctors. With the hope of again being in circulation within a short time, again thanks. Your expression of friendship gives me a greater confidence in this thing called life."

Inscription.

In the mail: "In reading your comments about mottos for hospitals I recall the lines by Eolus, are in his book, "Of Yesterday and Tomorrow." They read:

INSCRIPTION FOR A HOSPITAL.
Within these gray walls life begins and ends.
Here, in this labor, worn, seaweary ships
Drop anchor, as the fading sun descends,
And new-launched vessels start their outbound trips.

Ambition Realized.

Claude Brenner, the Quiz Kid with the British accent, has won a scholarship at the Lake Forest academy, which he will enter as a junior. The scholarship was based on high scholastic standing, personality, and leadership in school activities. By a strange coincidence, the academy is the school Claude wanted to attend when he knew he was coming to the United States from the Union of South Africa, three years ago. He wrote for literature, but the tuition was prohibitive for his widowed mother, who is a stenographer. During the summer Claude has worked as a bellboy in a Chicago hotel, earning $16 a week.

Vitamins.

On a recent trip to New York, Mary Imogene Shepherd was engaged in a discussion of vitamins with a hotel man, when suddenly he handed her—with no apologies to Gelett Burgess' famous Purple Cow verse—a slip of paper on which he'd been writing. It read:

I never saw a vitamin,
I never hope to see one;
But I can tell you right now
I'd rather C than B1.

War Wedding.

E. H. has told us of the daughter of a prominent Chicago family who telephoned from her fiance's army post, where she was visiting, that he had been given an unexpected leave and they were coming home to be married. With no time to get out engraved invitations, the mother and grandmother wrote invitations until midnight on a Friday night and mailed them, all with 2 cent stamps. During the night the mother suddenly realized that the out of town invitations would be returned for additional postage, and since the wedding was to be on the following Monday, many guests would not have been notified. So dawn found the mother parked by the mailbox, with a roll of 1 cent stamps. When the postman came along, he was so moved by her pleas, that he not only retrieved the mail, but helped her affix the extra stamps.

On the House

Carpet beetles and other insects relish the dust and darkness of any little cracks that may have appeared between wall and baseboard. . . . Such cracks also invite drafts and encourage higher fuel bills. So prompt measures to fill them are an important part of fall repair work. . . . All dust should be removed first, and then a putty knife can be used to force a wood in plastic form into the openings. . . . This plastic filler hardens like wood and can be painted, varnished, or treated as you wish.

Jews Gather in Synagogues for New Year

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

Chicago's Jewish community went to synagogue last night to observe Rosh Hashana and to "hear what the centuries say." It was Dr. Morton M. Berman of Temple Isaiah-Israel who recalled Ralph Waldo Emerson's phrase about the voice of the ages and reassured his people that "great shall be thy peace."

In fact, the word of peace was silhouetted against the dark background of persecution and death for possibly one-fifteenth of all Jews of the world. Goodwill and peace were also keynotes of services at naval stations and army posts despite determination to fight world tyrants until a victorious peace is won.

One of the largest Jewish service groups in the Chicago vicinity is at Great Lakes Naval Training station, where the first of three Rosh Hashana services was held.

Chaplain Julius Mark said it was the first time since he became a rabbi 20 years ago that he was not in a regular synagogue for Rosh Hashana. One of the large assembly halls was used. He told his congregation that no doubt the high holidays would bring homesickness to many of them, but that they must hope and pray for the peace following victory that would permit them to reconstruct their lives according to the laws of Judaism.

Rabbi Berman told his congregation that possibly one million of the 15 million Jews of the world have been executed since Hitler came to power, and that two or three times that number have been banished from their homes.

"While our plight may differ in intensity, it does not differ in kind from that of all men and races who have come under the heel of Nazi and Japanese," said Rabbi Berman. "It is a common anguish that fills the hearts of all the freedom loving children of God as Israel meets to welcome the most decisive New Year in its history. If we are to be capable of facing the world about us, we must, in the words of Emerson, 'hear what the centuries say.'"

Dr. Louis L. Mann, preaching from his Sinai Temple pulpit, compared Rosh Hashana with the annual Presidential report to the nation. The report of Jewish leadership, he said, discloses a study of the "state of the world" in the light of moral principles.

"Our generation," Dr. Mann declared, "will learn that we dare no longer answer the age-old question, 'Am I my brother's keeper?' in the negative. Because we said no to China, to Ethiopia, to Czecho-Slovakia, and to the Jew, when each of these appealed to the world as a brother, the cosmic cataclysm was given its dynamic impetus. Was it not a Jew who said, 'Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it to me.' Rosh Hashana teaches the trumpet call of conscience. When we no longer call on God, He calls upon us in judgment."

Thru the Looking Glass

It seems to us that defense workers, loosely classified, have been getting a lot of advice on skin care from many quarters, some unselfish and some sales talks not too cleverly camouflaged.

It has been difficult to estimate its value, but one fact has come clear. Dermatitis among both men and women workers in war production plants is a serious problem. Those handling oils and chemicals and explosives and even certain metals are turning up with skin troubles of all kinds. The mail we receive from women plant workers about skin disorders confirms the findings of medical surveys.

We feel that long distance advice on what to do usually is valueless and can be downright detrimental. The safety directors or the medical advisers in the plants seem to us the best qualified persons from whom to take advice. They know the working conditions, and the tricks of chemicals or other materials with which workers come in contact, and they are the only ones who should prescribe preventives or treatments.

Certain prepared preventives might even set up a dermatitis when used with certain chemicals, especially the materials used in explosives. The materials used and the working conditions make every plant a setting for different kinds of possible disorders.

The beauty operator and the beauty writer are not the ones to tell workers the procedure to follow. Real skin disorders fall in the realm of medicine and any industrial dermatitis, no matter how slight it seems to be, should be brought to the attention of the plant nurse or doctor.

White Collar GIRL

BY RUTH MACKAY.

Secretary's Lament.

I like water in my bath,
And also in a glass,
But when my hair-do drips with it—
I'm a sad, sad lass.

When I'm snugly tucked in bed
I love to watch the rain;
What care I how hard it beats
Against the window pane!

But I don't want it in my shoes,
Or wrinkling all my clothes;
Or making trickles down my face,
Or dripping from my nose.

Now couldn't some one make a law
So that the sun would shine,
When I come home from work at five
And when I go at nine?

—Sinclair.

White Collar Citation.

She works for the division of child welfare of the state of Illinois; drives from 200 to 300 miles a day in her convertible coupe; manages infants for adoption and supervises youngsters up to high school age. She's old enough to have one son a veteran of the last A. E. F. and young enough to have another son leave his sophomore year in college to get his wings in the air corps in this war. Her name is Harriet Davidson.

Early Career Woman.

"I was one of those early 'career women,'" confesses Matron of Evanston. "During the Pan-American exposition in Buffalo in 1901 I was working for a manufacturing jewelry house. Some one was needed to go east to see the trade and I—a very young woman—was chosen. And, if you want a picture of the white collar girl of yesteryear, you should have seen me with my sample case under my arm, a big umbrella in one hand while with the other hand I clutched my skirt—4½ to 5 yards around the bottom it was, finished with the fashionable 'brush binding.'"

Week-End Problem.

"Here's something to worry about over the week-end," said the gentleman at the adjacent desk. "How can you make 100 out of 6 9s [999999], using them all?"

"I'll tell you," he volunteered gallantly, "before you get a headache."

Conversation Conservation.

"Considerable energy is commonly wasted in unnecessary speech. Many who are given to this habit can do something for themselves toward diminishing it by reminding themselves many times each day. You should try not by force to keep yourself from speaking, but rather just by letting the discussion drop. The aim is not to bother to say things unnecessary, not even silently to yourself." [From "You Must Relax."]

CARDINALS BATTLE TO TIE DODGERS TODAY

PACKERS-ARMY GAME MAY SET RECEIPTS MARK

$50,000 for Fund in Sight Tomorrow.

BY EDWARD PRELL.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 11.—In today's Fourth of July weather, Milwaukee was talking about establishing an all-time high gate here for a football game and had all but forgotten Charlie Grimm's Brewers of the American association who right now are engaged in a playoff series with the Mudhens from Toledo.

The football game will be played Sunday afternoon in Marquette stadium between the touring Western army All-Stars and the Green Bay Packers. Today more than $30,000 was safely stowed away. The city has set as its goal the sum of $50,000 to be turned over to the Army Emergency Relief fund.

$25,000 in Contributions.

Less than 200 of the $25 contributions for choice tickets remain to be made and the game's sponsors are confident the 1,000 will be subscribed. This alone means a lump sum of $25,000. The idea is patterned after the College All-Star plan in Chicago in which contributors were given a seat on the 50 yard line for each $100.

If $50,000, or close to that amount is netted, this will exceed the funds raised in Los Angeles, Denver, or Detroit, where the army team already has met three members of the National Football league. The All-Stars will break up and return to their camps after playing the New York Giants a week from Sunday in Syracuse, N. Y.

The soldiers worked out this afternoon at Milwaukee Teachers college and their main worry seemed to be stopping Don Hutson from catching too many of Cecil Isbell's passes. "From all I've heard about Hutson, they'd better give up all shotguns," said 1st Lieut. Joe Routt, the one time demon guard of the Texas Aggies. Joe looked studious behind spectacles and his face carried a few scratches from previous games.

Pugh Aches All Over.

"Gee, I ache all over," complained 2d Lieut. Marion Pugh, the black haired fellow who went to the Giants last year from the Texas Aggies. "That's a pretty tough job, meeting three pro teams in a week's time."

The All-Stars whipped the Cardinals last Sunday in Denver, 16 to 10, and Wednesday night blanked the Detroit Lions, 12 to 0. The Lions never got inside their 25 yard line all evening.

"We've really got a strong defense," said Pugh, who has started each of the three games at left half, or tail back. "But I don't know how we're going to do against Isbell and Hutson."

Nine Texas Aggies on Team.

There are nine former Texas Aggies with Maj. Wallace Wade's Western team.

Maj. Wade, tho always one to keep away from the optimistic side, ventured the opinion that his star-spangled squad of 50 former top flight college and professional players are showing some semblance of team work.

"We were worried at first," he said, "because we had boys who were familiar with so many systems of play. This showed up in our first game with the Washington Redskins on the coast, which we lost, 26 to 7. We were better against the Cardinals, and I really think we found ourselves against the Lions."

Make Allowance for Cards.

The Western soldiers were more impressed with the Lions than the Cardinals, but they made allowance for Jimmy Conzelman's team having to play in Denver's rarefied air a day after arrival. The mile high city atmosphere even bothered the All-Stars who had been there five days before the game. They describe the Lions as a young, aggressive team.

In the three games against National league teams, the army has been outscored a single point, 36 to 35, those 26 by the Redskins making the difference. The pros have made a total of 39 first downs to 17 for the army. The latter has specialized in running back kickoffs and punts for large yardage, especially big John Kimbrough, whom his teammates describe in glowing terms.

10 All-Star Passes Intercepted.

The pros have tried 93 passes of which 42 were completed. The Stars have made good 12 passes out of 25, and 10 have been intercepted. The league teams have gained a total of 716 yards to 408 for Maj. Wade's huskies.

The Packers will come into town Saturday evening. They are receiving only expenses for their labors. The Packers did some high powered ticket selling yesterday in Green Bay. Their one day season ticket drive netted 1,437 sales. The campaign was headed by William Servotte and Don Bairbarn.

Boxoffice officials said today that there are plenty of seats available. They are priced at $1.10, $2.20, and $3.30 and may be obtained at the Marquette university stadium ticket office.

MICHIGAN STATE HAS GREEN BUT HOPEFUL SQUAD

22 of 42 on Spartans' Roster Are Sophs.

BY WILFRID SMITH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

East Lansing, Mich., Sept. 11.—Michigan State college has arranged one of its best intercollegiate football schedules. The Spartans will meet two Western conference elevens, Michigan and Purdue. They travel east to play Temple and go west to face Washington State. They have a date with Great Lakes and they will conclude a nine game program in East Lansing Nov. 28 against Oregon State, the Rose Bowl champion.

But Michigan State will have fewer experienced men for this campaign than in any of the preceding nine years Charles Bachman has directed the eleven. The majority of the squad, that began training here yesterday, is composed of sophomores and only two of the veterans can be certified as regulars from the 1941 season.

Open Against Michigan.

Whatever Bachman and his assistants accomplish with this group, and it must not be dismissed too lightly, will be the result of their own intense efforts, the enthusiasm of the young men who represent Michigan State, and the advantage of an extra long practice period, since the opening game with Michigan will not be played until Oct. 3. Wayne university follows and then comes Marquette, perennial rival. By this time Coach Bachman may have a team that will give an excellent account altho, by no stretch of imagination, can it be expected to perform miracles.

A miracle in this case would be defeat of Great Lakes, for instance, and certainly if the Spartans should whip Michigan in the opening game the result would be somewhat as if Bachman had unexpectedly pulled a white rabbit out of a hat. But Bachman has been at the business of coaching ever since he was graduated from Notre Dame in 1916, a period long enough to learn that the result of any game is as uncertain as the direction a football will bounce.

Two 1941 Starters Left.

Today, as his squad went thru its second double practice, Bachman was content to point out its inexperience. Without undue emphasis he also noted that Dick Kleppe, left half, and Walter Pawlowski, right half, were the only starters from his 1941 eleven. It remained for Al Kawal, one time star Northwestern university guard and now line coach of the Spartans, to point out that a sophomore probably must play left tackle, that several shifts have been made so that the first team at least will have had some previous experience, and that nearly all of the better players must learn at least two positions.

From this information it is easy to deduce that Michigan State's most serious handicap is inexperience. From the weight chart in the fieldhouse it is apparent that the team will be average in this particular. It's speed, so we were told, will approximate that of the 1941 eleven. Despite youth and inexperience the Spartans may equal their 1941 record of five victories, three defeats, and a scoreless tie with Purdue. Certainly Bachman will be pleased if his men finish with the same vigor as last year when they took their last three contests.

22 Sophs on Squad.

Twenty-two of the 42 players listed by positions today are sophomores, only four are seniors. The foundation for this fall was laid firmly in an unusually productive spring drill but several plans have been changed because of failure of excellent reserves to return to the campus. Double drills will be held until at least a week from Monday when freshman week starts. On the squad are several youngsters who have become eligible because they have successfully completed the summer term. This scholastic period, under the war time scholastic program, is equivalent to a semester. Michigan State was the first of the midwestern universities to streamline its curriculum so that a degree can be obtained in less than three years.

The line is the immediate problem.

Mort Delivers for Brothers Walker and Jim

[Associated Press Wirephoto.]

Morton Cooper, ace right hander of the St. Louis Cardinals, has a dugout chat with Brothers Walker (left) and Jimmy. Jim, on leave from the navy, saw Mort blank the leading Dodgers, 3 to 0, yesterday to cut Brooklyn's margin over the Cards to one game. That No. 20 on Mort's uniform represents his bid for his 20th victory. He dons a higher number each time out.

BITHORN'S TENTH PASS BEATS CUBS, 4-3, IN NEW YORK

New York, Sept. 11 [Special].—Hi Bithorn's tenth pass of the game to Hank Leiber with the bases full in the ninth inning forced in the run that enabled the New York Giants to beat the Cubs, 4 to 3, today. Until John Mize was forced in from third base with the run that broke a 3 to 3 tie, none of the beneficiaries of Bithorn's generosity scored. Fifteen Giants were left on bases.

With the score 3-3 at the end of the eighth, Mize opened the ninth with a walk, and Babe Young sacrificed. Willard Marshall was passed purposely and Bill Jurges forced him for the second out. But Buster Maynard, a pinch batter, was handed an intentional pass, filling the bases, and Leiber, batting for Ace Adams, who relieved Starting Pitcher Harry Feldman, waited out three wide ones, then fouled off a couple. The sixth pitch was high and inside and the game was over.

Gillespie Hits Home Run.

The Cubs used Marvin Rickert in center field, Cy Block at third base, and Paul Gillespie behind the bat. Two of these three Texas leaguers from Tulsa had had a glimpse of the majors before, Block in Cincinnati last Monday and Rickert as a runner in Brooklyn on Thursday.

There was nothing gradual about

Smith Shuts Out Yankees, 1-0; Sox Make Five Double Plays

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

The Yankees' desire to clinch the pennant as quickly as possible was upset slightly yesterday by the White Sox, who acted as if they finally had decided to start tuning up for the city series. With five double plays ideally spaced in the nine innings of activity, they rendered valiant aid to the usually hapless Eddie Smith, who thus was able to sneak across his sixth victory of the year. The decision was by an irreducible 1 to 0, leaving the champions in need of four victories to become world series eligibles.

The five twin killings were of great value, but Smitty enjoyed other helpful items while dodging his possible 26th shearing. One of these lifts was a bull's-eye throw by Rookie Bill Mueller in the eighth, cutting off a Yankee runner at the plate. The next lift came in the home portion of the same inning from the bat of Don Kolloway. He spanked Atley Donald for a single, sending in the only run observed by a turnout of only 1,953 paid spectators.

Atley's Good for a Time.

Thru the first seven innings Donald was so tricky that he didn't need the aid of double plays such as repeatedly snatched Smitty off the hot spot. In that stretch there were only five Sox hits and nobody walked. But Donald wasn't able to resist being charitable when George Dickey opened against him in the eighth. The brother of Yankee Bill walked and was bunted to second by Smitty. An instant later Kolloway rammed his second single of the afternoon into left and by the time Charley Keller got ready to throw it back, Dickey had checked in with the decisive run.

The Yankees thought for a few minutes in the first inning that they were about to do something worth while. They didn't know at the time about the Sox being in the double play mood. A single by Red Rolfe and Jim Webb's error on Roy Cullenbine brought up the talented Joe Di Maggio with one out. The latter tapped to Smith and the twin killing was perpetrated. Smitty didn't encounter another possible jam until Joe Gordon opened the fifth with a single. Nothing came of this because Kolloway flagged Keller's liner and doubled Gordon off base.

Double Play Helps Again.

The double play got the Yankees again in the seventh. Rolfe led with a single and was bunted to second. Kolloway took Di Maggio's pop up, whipped it to Appling and Rolfe was doubled off second. Then the eighth brought what for a few minutes looked like funeral arrangements for Smitty. Gordon and Keller opened with singles. Smitty wabbled long enough to get himself into a 3 and 2 situation with Gerald Priddy, but then slipped over a strike and Gordon was doubled going into third.

Smitty didn't get thru the ninth perfectly but maybe he figured again on the double play feature. It showed up for the fifth time, Rolfe walked with one out. Cullenbine fanned and Rolfe was doubled trying to steal second.

The Yanks will look at more southpaw pitching today in their last 1942 appearance here. The treatment will be rendered by Jake Wade. The champions will start Spud Chandler, who has a neat record of 15 victories against 4 defeats.

The Yankees believe they still have enough time in which to break their double play record of 196 established last season. At the moment they claim to have made 181 this season, but the American league's official statistician has been able to locate only 180.

City Series Is On

THE White Sox will meet the Cubs in the customary city series at the close of the season. The challenge was issued from New York by Capt. Stanley Hack, following a vote of the players yesterday, and was accepted immediately by Mrs. Grace Comiskey, owner of the Sox. The White Sox have won the last seven series, sweeping the four game set last fall.

BY EDWARD BURNS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Brooklyn, N. Y., Sept. 11.—Morton Cooper of the St. Louis Cardinals, a Missourian who has scaled the baseball heights before, reached a new pinnacle here this afternoon as he and the Cards whipped the Dodgers, 3 to 0. The victory, a three-hitter, in which the handsome right hander scored the first two of his team's runs, shaved the lead of the gulping Dodgers to one game.

The teams will play again tomorrow, with Rookie John Beazley charged with the chore of leading the Cards to a tie for the lead. Beazley, who saw Cooper win his 20th victory today, will be trying for his own No. 20. The panicked champs will call on Max Macon to stop the Cards' ruthless jag at 28 victories out of their last 33 games. But getting back to this fellow, Morton Cooper. With his brother, Walker, catching, he not only won his 20th victory of the season, but his eighth shutout as well. He has beaten the Dodgers four times, shutting them out three times here and beating them 2 to 1 in 14 innings in St. Louis.

One Was a Scratch.

He yielded three singles, an infield scratch by Peewee Reese in the third inning, a legitimate single by Augie Galan in the sixth, and another by Arky Vaughan with one out in the ninth. Mort walked only one, Bill Herman in the eighth. Nary a Dodger got to second base.

Cooper, following his plan of wearing uniform numbers which tally with his victory bid, stepped out today in No. 20, normally worn by Outfielder Coaker Triplett.

Here is the dope on the pennant race tonight:

As recently as Aug. 15 the Dodgers were 9½ games ahead of the Cardinals, and no longer ago than Aug. 4 they enjoyed their longest margin, 10 games.

Mort scored the first and winning run in the sixth inning. He led off with the second St. Louis hit off Whit Wyatt. Jimmy Brown advanced him with a perfect bunt toward third. Terry Moore, who later drove in two runs, wasn't quite ready for heroics at this juncture. He sent a short fly to Galan and Mort had to stay on second. Enos Slaughter took two strikes and a wide one, then lined a single to right. Dolph Camilli made an energetic leap for the ball, but the effort served only to slow it down for Galan, making it easier for Mort to get home with what turned out to be the pay-off run.

He Delivers Again.

The victorious pitcher also started the rally which put him on easy street in the eighth. With one down he singled to deep short, stopping at third on a double to left by Brown, only extra baser of the afternoon. Moore missed rather badly on two strikes, then lined a single to left, scoring Mort and Brown. Moore took second on Joe Medwick's throw to the plate. Slaughter popped to Herman, Stan Musial was given an intentional pass and W. Cooper grounded to Camilli.

At the end of the first two innings here yesterday, the Cubs were leading the Dodgers, 6 to 0, but the Cardinals were somewhat less potent in the first two innings today and thereafter until Cooper injected the hitting theme into the contest. It may have been Wyatt's pitching.

BY HOWARD BARRY.

Hawthorne will entertain the first Saturday crowd of its meeting this afternoon with a program topped by the $5,000 Speed handicap, a six furlong dash which has drawn some outstanding sprinters in the overnight field of 11.

T. D. Grimes' With Regards, which has been accustomed to setting the early pace when racing against some of the nation's best horses over the longer routes, will be put to a severe test today.

He Gets 121 Pounds.

Racing Secretary Larry Bogenschutz has allotted With Regards top weight of 121 pounds. This colt was second to Alsab in the American Derby and third to Shut Out and Valdina Orphan in the Classic. It is quite likely that he will go to the post as the favorite this afternoon.

Steve Brooks, who did the best work of his career during the Hawthorne meeting last season, again is showing his liking for this track. He brought in three winners in the first five races yesterday and just missed with Johnny Jr. in the sixth. Then he wound up his busy day by bringing in Fair Haste in the eighth to make it four winners and a second out of seven mounts.

Steve Goes to Work.

Brooks scored his first success of the day aboard Memory Book in the second race. After keeping this 9 year old gelding much closer to the pace than usual, Brooks brought him up very swiftly on the turn, sent him to the front soon after the stretch run began, and brought him home five lengths ahead of Syrian Boy. Memory Book completed a $24.80 daily double together with South Border, which had won the first race.

Brooks followed up his performance on Memory Book by winning with Diavolo Belle in the third. This filly was ninth in the field of 10 as they approached the stretch. Brooks took her wide to clear all of her rivals and drove her up to the front in the last few yards.

Brooks' third success occurred on Be Brief in the fifth. After following the pace set by Even Stitch in this six furlong dash for 2 year olds, Be Brief took the lead in the last furlong and beat his rival by a length. Roy Jones was third. Be Brief was a 4 to 1 shot, returning $10.40, $3.80, and $2.80.

Brooks' mount was scratched out of the seventh race but he was right back with Fair Haste at nearly 8 to 1 in the eighth.

Michigan State Squad Is Green but Hopeful

All of the 1941 regulars are gone. Several sophomores undoubtedly will break into the starting seven and among them are Vincent Mroz, 200 pounder from East Chicago, Ind., who captained the freshman team last fall. Mroz now is at left end altho he played the other wing last spring. Bob McNeil, a senior, also has been moved to this spot.

Move Guard to Quarter Back.

Howard Breyer, at center, and Bernard Neubert, a guard, are experienced reserves. Lou Brand, another guard, has been shifted to quarter back for the time being. William Milliken and Glenn Johnson currently are rated ahead of him in this position.

Pawlowski, Kleppe, Milliken, and Morgan Gingress, at full back, probably can be called the starting back field as the fall drill speeds up. State also has Jack Fenton, a veteran, at right half, and Ed Ripmaster, at full back. Sophomore backs are Russ Gilpin and Bob Otting, quarter backs; Elbert Stark, Stan Gunn, and Royden Dygert, left half backs; Gordon Bischman, William Gaylord, and Frank Manko, right half backs, and Edo Mancotti and William Beardsley, full backs. Stark, Bischman, and Mancotti are considered the best of this group.

Other sophomores who may get a chance in the line, in addition to those previously named, are Austin Miller and Ernest Keckinen, centers, and Bob Fisher, right guard.

GARDEN CITY MAIDS LOSE TO JAX GIRLS, 5-1

Nina Morgan pitched the Jax Girls of New Orleans to a 5 to 1 victory over the Garden City Maids softball team last night in Shewbridge field. She fanned eight. As Thursday night's game ended in a scoreless tie, the Jax Girls won the two game series with their victory last night. Selma Menecke hit a home run with a teammate on base in the fifth inning.

Bernie Maxwell pitched the Parichy Bloomer girls to a 5 to 3 victory over the Rheingold girls in Rand stadium.

The Rheingold Girls and the Jax Girls will play the first of a three game series tonight in Rand stadium, 75th street and Euclid avenue. Lottie Jackson, for the New Orleans Girls, and Catherine Fellmeth, for the Rheingold Girls, probably will draw the pitching assignments tonight.

WHIRLAWAY AND ALSAB MATCH STRIDES TODAY

Narragansett Plans Aid for Service Funds.

Pawtucket, R. I., Sept. 11 (AP).—Mighty Whirlaway, whose golden goal has been set at a half million, will make his second consecutive start in the $25,000 added Narragansett special here tomorrow and, according to some of the clockers, he is assured of being hard pressed at every stage of that mile and three-sixteenths race.

A year ago, Whirlaway took a drubbing from War Relic, but if he fails again in this rich event, it probably will be because another famous thorobred has taken full advantage of his top weight of 130 pounds.

Whirlaway Still Is Favored.

As usual, Whirlaway is destined to go postward as an odds on favorite, despite the presence of Alsab, the turf's 3 year old star, and the Valdina farm's speedy entry of Valdina Orphan and Rounders.

Many of the clockers who operate at Narragansett went overboard for Rounders when they caught him breezing a mile in 1:37 2-5 in his last serious workout. That on top of Rounders' recent victory over Whirlaway, makes him the standout in the nine horse field, according to their form figures.

Alsab, beaten badly by Marriage, a 6 year old gelding in Chicago on Monday, has been assigned 122 pounds, regarded as a heavy burden in comparison to the 114 and

BADGERS' HARDER TO BE READY FOR OPENING BATTLE

Pat to Miss Scrimmage Today, However.

Madison, Wis., Sept. 11 [Special].—Marlin [Pat] Harder, first string full back, who was injured last Saturday in the Wisconsin football squad's first scrimmage of the season, trotted thru signal drill this afternoon and is certain to be ready for the first game, with Camp Grant, a week from tomorrow. Harder limped slightly and will be held out of tomorrow's scrimmage.

Other varsity squad players again ready for heavy duty after minor injuries or colds are Elroy Hirsch, sophomore left half back, Full Back Bob Ray, and Quarter Back Bobby Diercks. Lawrence Lynch, sophomore center from Waukesha, was sent to the hospital with a leg infection and may be out of action for a week.

Len [Bud] Seelinger, the best passer on the squad, will be out of action for several days because of a charley horse, it was announced tonight. George Makris, letter man, who is fighting it out with Sophomore Ken Currier for a starting guard assignment, also will be kept out of tomorrow's scrimmage because of a twisted knee.

Coach Harry Stuhldreher announced that tomorrow's scrimmage will be largely defensive and that it will determine largely the starting lineup against Camp Grant.

IOWA MAY SCRIMMAGE.

Iowa City, Ia., Sept. 11 [Special].—The Iowa squad may get in a few scrimmages next week prior to the opener Sept. 19 against Washington university of St. Louis, Coach Eddie Anderson announced today. Anderson, a believer in light contact work during the week, previously had said scrimmages were out because he could not risk injury to his small squad of 40 men.

The Hawks continued to work on passes and running plays, featuring Half Backs Jim Youel and Tom Farmer and Quarter Back Ted [Duke] Curran. Dick Hoerner, sophomore full back, was back in action after pulling up yesterday with a lame leg.

WORK SEAHAWK PASSERS.

Iowa City, Ia., Sept. 11 [Special].—Bill Schatzer and Dick Fisher again took a long passing workout on the Iowa preflight team as Coach Bernie Bierman prepared to head the Seahawks into their second full scrimmage session tomorrow.

Bierman, still displeased with the squad's offensive work, has worked the varsity and "B" squad continually in short skirmishes all week. He kept his first string lineup intact, however, with Matt Bolger and Judd Ringer, ends; Al Greenwood and Bob Flora, tackles; Julius Kern and John Bolis, guards; George Svendsen, center; Jay Couppee at quarter back; Ed Jankowski at full back, and Dick Fisher and Jim Langhurst at the halfs. Ringer recently beat out Mal Kutner, former Texas All-American, for the right end position.

LINE UP BUCKEYE RESERVES.

Columbus, O., Sept. 11 [Special].—Ohio's second and third string teams began to take shape today as the following lined up against the first stringers:

John White and Don Steinberg, ends; Jim Rees and Don McAfferty, tackles; Wilbur Schneider and Robert Jabusch, guards; Gordon Appleby, center; Paul Priday, quarter back; Bill Durtschi and Tom James, halves, and Dick Falmer, full back.

The third team was composed of Bill Sedor and Cecil Souders, ends; Jack Dugger and Bob McCormick, tackles; Bill Hackett and Carmen Naples, guards, with Jack Roe at center. In the backfield were Paul Selby, quarter back; Bob Frye and George Slusser, halves, and Tom Cleary, full back.

TEACH LINE ASSIGNMENTS.

Bloomington, Ind., Sept. 11 [Special].—Indiana's football players, particularly linemen, began learning assignments today as Coach Bo McMillin sought to balance repeated losses to the army in squad personnel.

In a "tag and not tackle" scrimmage, Junior Bob Zimmy played both tackle positions defensively, and Fred Huff, another junior, alternated at the two tackle berths in an offensive capacity. Richard Tackett, sophomore center, shifted to a tackle post, and drew McMillin's praise for his defensive work against running plays and alertness on pass defense.

TRY CHEELEY AT TACKLE.

Champaign, Ill., Sept. 11 [Special].—Brief scrimmage topped off today's football practice at Illinois which had been curtailed as the players registered for their classroom work.

Ken Cheeley, last year's center, will also be broken in at tackle, Coach Ray Eliot indicated. Eliot this week has favored Mac Wenskunas, sophomore, and John Genis, junior, for the pivot post. Lack of experience at tackle influenced him to try out Cheeley. Bob Wallin is the only seasoned player of the tackle prospects, who include Mike Kasap, Jim Craig, Stanley Rosen, and Frank Buddenbaum, all sophomores.

A more extended scrimmage is probable for tomorrow. The two a day sessions will close Tuesday night, as classes open Wednesday.

STRESS PASS DEFENSE.

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 11 [Special].—Forward pass defense was stressed in Marquette practice today with Coach Tom Stidham concentrating on a tentative first string back field that included Half Backs Johnny Strzykalski and Ray Carlson, Milwaukee; Full Back Carl Schuette, Sheboygan, and Quarter Back Bobby Dams, Milwaukee. Strzykalski and Schuette are sophomores and probably will be the only newcomers in the entire Marquette lineup. The Hilltoppers will work twice tomorrow but will rest Sunday.

GETS OVERSEAS POST.

Bozeman, Mont., Sept. 11 [AP].—Schubert Dyche, athletic director of Montana State college for 14 years, has accepted a Red Cross post for duty overseas.

THE GUMPS—SLIGHT ERROR

Injuries Halt Contact Work at Notre Dame

Notre Dame, Ind., Sept. 11 [Special].—Notre Dame's mounting injury list made prospects for scrimmage tomorrow dubious and led Coach Frank Leahy to abandon contact work today.

A dozen players are ailing, most of them with the normal early season charley horses and sprains. Inability to put a first team together to develop timing in scrimmage sessions is seriously hampering preparations for the opener with Wisconsin in Madison Sept. 26.

Dippy Evans and Creighton Miller, probable starting half backs, still were not in uniform due to knee and ankle injuries, respectively. Bob Livingstone, Evan's alternate, was in a suit, but has not scrimmaged for a week. Angelo Betrelli, with a mild charley horse, and Jerry Cowhig with a leg strain, are also being held out of contact work, altho Bertelli threw forward passes in dummy scrimmage today.

Of the line men, Wally Ziemba and Herb Coleman, centers; Bucky O'Connor and George Tobin, right guards; Bob Neff, right tackle, and Paul Limont, right end, were on the inactive list. Dick Creevy, reserve right half, has a bad charley horse and may not skirmish for another week.

SAILORS HAVE A GAME.

The Great Lakes Naval Training station football team, which will open its 12 game collegiate schedule against Michigan in Ann Arbor Sept. 26, today will scrimmage under game regulations. The 50 players on the squad will be divided into two teams—Orange and Blues.

The game and one other scrimmage under game conditions late next week will determine the starting Bluejacket eleven to face the Wolverines. Bruce Smith holds No. 1 rating at left half back, key position in Coach Lieut. Paul D. [Tony] Hinkle's system.

Smith will lead the Blue eleven, which also will have Herman Schneidman, Iowa, quarter back; John Popov, Cincinnati, right half back, and Steve Belichick, Western Reserve, full back. The lineups:

BLUES.		ORANGE.
Preston [Neb.]	L.E.	Moeller [Wis.]
Daniell [O. St.]	L.T.	Odson [Minn.]
Zarnas [O. St.]	L.G.	Robesky [Stan.]
Nelson [Baylor]	C.	Johnson [Purdue]
Radovich [S. Cal.]	R.G.	Ramsey [So. Meth.]
Barber [San. Fr.]	R.T.	Busler [Marq.]
Mullene'x [Ut. St.]	R.E.	Kelly [Creighton]
Schneid'n [Iowa]	Q.B.	Mucha [Wash.]
Smith [Minn.]	L.H.	Cowart [Tex. Ch.]
Popov [Cin.]	R.H.	Kmetovic [Stan.]
Belich'k [W.Res.]	F.B.	Sweiger [Minn.]

SCRIMMAGE AT MICHIGAN.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Sept. 11 [Special].—Michigan will hold its first regulation scrimmage tomorrow. Special attention will be given to the line play by Line Coach Clarence Munn who is attempting to find a first string tackle as well as capable reserves for the other positions.

Paul White, right half from River Rouge, may not play tomorrow. White injured rib cartilage Wednesday which has kept him out of uniform the past two days. Another addition to the casualty list is Cecil Bovee, sophomore end candidate, who dislocated his shoulder earlier this week. White's place will be taken over by Frank Wardley, sophomore, or possibly Don Robinson. Probable first team lineup:

STRENGTHEN GOPHER LINE.

Minneaolis, Minn., Sept. 11 [Special].—An important observation in Thursday's first hand scrimmage of the year was that the Minnesota football team lacked offensive charge in the center of the line. Accordingly Coach George Hauser today replaced Guard John Billman with Wally Hollmstom and Center Don Nolander with Bob Solheim. Both Hollstom and Solheim have that punch needed to spring ball carriers thru the middle of the lines, Hauser believes.

Bob Sandberg was tried at quarter back in place of Bill Garnas, but the move was made to give Sandburg experience with the first team. Dick Kelley, 160 pound sophomore half back who has run the 100 yard dash in 9.8 seconds advanced from the fifth team to half back on the third team.

N. U. SEEKS KICKER.

Developing a place kicker to replace Dick Erdlitz, who handled this department with such skill the last three years occupied a large portion of Northwestern's football practice yesterday. Time also was spent in providing protection for both punters and place kickers.

The task of kicking field goals and points after touchdown will be shared by Bob Wallis, end; Bill Deoduic, quarter back, and Al Pick, guard. All are juniors but have had little chance to try their skill under fire because Erdlitz handled the assignment so acceptably.

Coach Lynn Waldorf said yesterday that the first week of practice would be rounded out today with a limited scrimmage.

PURDUE FACES RESERVES.

Lafayette, Ind., Sept. 11 [Special].—A light limbering-up and an extended lecture session in which Coach Elmer Burnham detailed offensive tactics comprised Purdue's preparation this afternoon for tomorrow's regulation game with the reserves.

Burnham indicated that he would start a veteran eleven with the exception of Dick Barwegen, husky sophomore, at left guard.

North Shore Title Holders Repeat in Golf

Westmoreland Country club won the North Shore Golf league championship for the second straight year by scoring 21 points in yesterday's final match at Westmoreland for a season total of 92½ points.

Edgewater, which trailed the leader by 2½ points going into yesterday's finals, was held to 16 points and wound up in second place with 85 points. Evanston placed third with 81½ points and Sunset Ridge was fourth with 71½ points. The other teams finished as follows: Skokie, 67; Park Ridge, 64; North Shore, 50, and Ridgemoor, 28½.

These Retained Title.

The six man team, which successfully defended Westmoreland's title, consisted of J. H. Buchanan, Ray Matson, J. H. Kincaid, F. M. Swirles, W. J. Marshall, and Melvin Hill.

Marshall and Hill led Westmoreland to victory by defeating Ridgemoor, 9 to 0.

The heavy rains of the last few days left the course in a soggy condition and scores soared accordingly. Three players, Paul Curtis and J. C. Cormack of Skokie, and Harry Wolf of North Shore, tied for low gross with 80.

Swirles Cards Net 74.

Leading low net shooters were: F. M. Swirles, Westmoreland, 82—8—74; J. H. Kincaid, Westmoreland, 83—7—76; W. J. Marshall, Westmoreland, 84—8—76; Melvin Hill, Westmoreland, 86—10—76, and J. C. Cormack, 80—4—76.

Charles Morrow of Sunset Ridge was elected president of the league yesterday, succeeding Ray Matson of Westmoreland. Jack Anderson of Evanston was chosen to succeed W. N. Lane of Skokie as secretary-treasurer.

CLOUT TO OPEN 7TH ARCHERY TOURNEY TODAY

A preliminary open event, the clout, will open the seventh annual Chicago city archery tournament this afternoon at the Chicago Archery club range, 59th street and Cottage Grove avenue. The remainder of the tournament competitions will be shot tomorrow in Jackson park, 63d street and Outer drive. Registration for tomorrow's shooting starts at 8:30 a. m., with the competitions, which include men's York and American; intermediate boys' Hereford and American; junior boys' National and two junior Americans; women's National and Double Columbia; intermediate girls' National and Double Columbia; and junior girls' National and Double Columbia.

Today's event, the clout, is derived from ancient battle tactics in which archers shot their arrows into the air to fall behind the enemy's defenses and shields. In modern archery competition, the target is laid flat on the ground. The women will shoot from 120 yards and the men from 180 yards. Mrs. Marion Buswell of Urbana, who holds the unofficial world's record of 300 out of a possible 324, is expected to be present at the competition to defend her title against Penette Yanke and Minerva Lanzer, who have held the honor previously.

SPILLER WINS 20 MILE RACE AT BIKE BOWL

Al Spiller of the Mazzini club won the 20 mile point race which was the feature of the bicycle program presented at the Humboldt Park Bicycle bowl under the sponsorship of the Catholic Youth Organization last night. Spiller compiled 30 points to beat Frank Brilando of the Barrett Athletic club and Evo Passaglio of the CYO who tied for second with 25 points each. Other results:

Five mile race—time 12:12.3—Jim Tolle, Indianapolis, Ind., first; Charles Wanders, unattached, second; Leo Dombroski, Bowler Athletic club, third. One mile race—time 2:49.1—Spiller, first; George Amundsen, Barrett A. C., second; Bob Farbin, Barrett A. C., third. Three-quarter mile Class C race—time 1:40.7—Pete Gadrin, unattached, first; Nick Steder, Descamps club, second; Raymond Di Pietro, Mazzini club, third. Three-quarter mile Class B race—time 1:35.9—Tolle, first; Pierre DeVise, Belgian club; Joe Koukel, Barrett A. C., third. Half mile sprint—time :59.7—Marvin Thomson, Barrett A. C., first; Brilando, second; Armando Di Pietro, Mazzini club, third.

Foreman Wins, Wagner Loses in State Golf

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Peoria, Ill., Sept. 11.—Ouster of one of the co-medalists and the survival of the other, along with two former champions and last year's runner-up, today provided the lively doings in the first two rounds of match play in the 12th annual Illinois State tournament at the Mount Hawley Country club.

The partner in medalist honors who isn't here any more is John [Pick] Wagner of Chicago's Kildeer club, who was eliminated in the second round this afternoon by Jim Frisina of Taylorville, runner-up in 1941, by a 3 and 2 count after having won a first round match that has had few parallels in the game this year.

Foreman, Mathisen Remain.

Harold Foreman, the husky Lake Shore star who split qualifying honors with Wagner yesterday by dint of matching Pick's par 72, was still very much around as a result of two victories in which he left himself a record of one under part for the tournament. So, also, were John Holmstrom, the bespectacled Rockford youth who won this same title in 1938, and Gus Moreland, home club member who captured the 1940 crown after a Texas career in which he held the western amateur title and worked on the Walker cup team.

Still another survivor was Harold Mathisen of Chicago, four time winner of the city amateur championship, who took a 20 hole match from Ray Wilbur of Dixon in the morning, and then came back to win from Jack Liston of Peoria this afternoon, 3 and 2.

Foreman, Holmstrom, Moreland, and Mathisen make up the right smart top foursome of tomorrow morning's four 18 hole quarter-finals. In the first, Harold will meet Holmstrom, while Gus will attempt to carry on the home folks' hopes in teeing off against the able Mathisen. In the lower bracket's first match Frisina will meet Amerigo Monti, a Pekin golfer who has been traveling quietly but efficiently thruout all of his trips over Mount Hawley. The final morning match sends Gus Novotny, Chicago veteran, against young Herb Chambers of the illustrious Highland Park golf clan.

Hooks Drive Into Car.

Wagner, former star at Northwestern university, hooked his first drive of the afternoon into a parked automobile and conceded the hole to Frisina. From there on Pick never was better than even with him, finally yielding on the 16th green. But the match Peorians always will remember is the morning one Pick had with Wayne Miller, home town attorney. Pick was six down after seven holes. The best he had been able to do was to halve the third. Miller, meanwhile, was going two under par with spotless golf. Pick then proved he's still a great match player by taking the next three holes.

Yet, Miller stood on the 15th tee still three up. With only four holes to go, Wagner's belated rally looked a mite short. But Pick thought otherwise, and took the last four holes for a one up victory. Still, Miller forced him to win those four with three birdies and a par.

Holmstrom had to rally to win his morning match from Jack Purdum of Dallas City, 3 and 1, after having been two down at the turn, and even tho John didn't play too sharply in the afternoon, he took a 6 to 5 decision from young Bob Rosecrance, a fellow townsman from Rockford, who has held the CDGA closed junior title these last three years. Moreland was three over par while eliminating Bill Witzleb, western junior champ from Dixon, by 5 and 4, and then hung on to a two up turning lead over Al Weaver of Peoria to win, 2 and 1.

FIRST ROUND.

Harold Foreman, Chicago, beat Charles Verkler, Peoria, 4 and 3.
Henry Wolak, Highland Park, beat Ted Payseur, Evanston, 2 and 1.
John Holmstrom, Rockford, beat Jack Purdum, Dallas City, 2 and 1.
Bob Rosecrance, Rockford, beat Ken Detweiller, Dixon, 2 up.
Gus Moreland, Peoria, beat Bill Witzleb, Dixon, 5 and 4.
Al Weaver, Peoria, beat Bob Reynolds, Peoria, 4 and 3.
Jack Liston, Peoria, beat Arnold Minkley, Chicago, 2 and 1.
Harold Mathisen, Chicago, beat Ray Wilbur, Dixon, 3 up.
John Warner, Chicago, beat Wayne Miller, Peoria, 1 up.
Jim Frisina, Taylorville, beat John Neuswanger, Oregon, 7 and 6.
Amerigo Monti, Pekin, beat Eric Laing, Peoria, 3 and 2.
George Rhenberg, Peoria, beat John Pashall, Melrose Park, 3 and 2.
George Cisar, La Grange, beat George Lundberg, Peoria, 2 and 1.
Herb Chambers, Highland Park, beat Bob McCord, Great Lakes, 1 up, 19 holes.
Pete Uzelac, Highland Park, beat Frank Ireland, Peoria, 2 and 1.
Gus Novotny, Chicago, beat William Johnson, Rockford, 3 and 2.

SECOND ROUND.

Foreman beat Wolak, 6 and 5.
Holmstrom beat Rosecrance, 6 and 5.
Moreland beat Weaver, 2 and 1.
Mathisen beat Liston, 3 and 2.
Frisina beat Wagner, 3 and 2.
Monti beat Rhenberg, 5 and 3.
Chambers beat Cisar, 1 up.
Novotny beat Uzelac, 5 and 4.

Quarter-final pairings:

Foreman vs. Holmstrom; Moreland vs. Mathisen; Frisina vs. Monti; Chambers vs. Novotny.

Stacy Osgood Hits Second Hole-in-One in a Month

Stacy Osgood fired his second hole-in-one in a month yesterday at the Riverside Country club when he made an ace with his No. 7 iron on the 147 yard 12th hole. Other members of the foursome were Russell Martin, Henry McElroy, and James Tourek.

Cubs Lose, 4-3; Bithorn Walks In Winning Run

Gillespie's debut. A big, rangy fellow, he found himself in the majors up to his ears right from the start with three Giants reaching base in the first inning, but he helped pull Bithorn thru safely. A left hand batter, Gillespie knocked a home run into the right field lower deck in the second inning.

Dick Bartell doubled in the third and Mickey Witek walked. The Giants' shortstop took third on Mel Ott's fly and scored as Mize forced Witek.

Stringer Scores Third Run.

After Bithorn got Mize on a third out fly with two aboard in the fifth, Gillespie made his third appearance in the sixth. There were two out, with Lou Novikoff and Jimmy Foxx aboard on a single and pass, respectively, when the big rookie stepped up and whacked a single to right, scoring the Mad Russian. Gillespie had grounded into a double play in the fourth.

Lou Stringer walked in the seventh, Bithorn sacrificed, and Len Merullo produced a single for the third Cub run.

The Giants tied the score in the eighth. Gus Mancuso singled and Babe Barna, batting for Feldman, also delivered. The bases were filled on a hit to Block by Bartell. Witek singled off Stringer's shins sending in the two tying tallies. Foxx speared Ott's drive for a double play.

Adams in 57th Game.

Adams faced the Cubs in the ninth, thus setting a new National league record by appearing in 57 games in a season. Christy Mathewson and Hugh Mulcahy shared the former mark of 56. The victory was Adams' eighth of the year.

Bill Werber, third baseman of the Giants, retired today because of illness. He said he planned to undergo an operation for a bursitis condition in his thigh.

Pitcher Trout Attacks Fan as Tigers Lose

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 11 (AP).—The Philadelphia Athletics today won the first game of their final two-game series with the Detroit Tigers, 5 to 4, by making good use of their scoring opportunities off Paul [Dizzy] Trout, who retired to his 17th defeat when umpires chased him for making a pass at a spectator. Trout, who yielded four runs on five hits, reached into the field boxes while returning to the dugout in the sixth inning and grabbed a spectator, who reportedly was taunting him.

General Manager Jack Zeller of the Tigers announced after the game that the club had suspended Trout for five days without pay for thumbing his nose at spectators who booed him lustily as he returned to the dugout from the box seats.

The Indians never had a chance after Ulysses Lupien doubled with the bases full in the first inning, sending three men across the plate.

SCHOOL CLEANUP LEADER CHARGES RED PURGE PLOT

Claims Foes Are Invading His District.

New York, Sept. 11 [Special].—State Senator Frederic D. Coudert, well known for his investigations of communism in New York City schools, charged today that domestic Communists are massing their forces to attempt to purge him in the Nov. 3 election in which he is seeking re-election from the 17th district.

The 44 year old Republican candidate, who is a member of the international law firm of Coudert Brothers, asserted that he had been marked for the purge because of his efforts to rid the local school system of Communists.

"It was a dirty job that had to be done—a cleaning out of ratholes," Sen. Coudert said. "It was not of my own choosing. I did it because it was my duty as set forth by the legislature which appointed me.

"If the Reds who oppose me are successful in purging me for doing no more than my duty, will other public officials dare to touch the Communist scorpion?"

No Attack on Russia.

Coudert attributed the attack on him to "domestic Communists whose primary interest in Russia and who lack loyalty to the United States." He said his remarks were not in any way aimed at Russia and had "nothing to do with our relations with the gallant Russians who are so magnificently resisting Hitler."

The senator said he had received reports of "colonizing" of the 17th district by squatters who are invading the area solely to cast purge votes. He explained that the reports came from district captains who said hotels, boarding houses, and spare rooms were filling up with "new people."

Legally only 30 days' residence in an election district is required, plus a year in the state and four months in the county. Thus squatters must move in by Oct. 3. Coudert declined to estimate the extent of migration into the area.

19 Fired, 10 Resign.

The school investigation by the Rapp-Coudert legislative subcommittee, which prompted the Communist press to accuse Coudert of being a Fascist, resulted in the discharge of 19 teachers and administrators, the resignation of 10 and the conviction of one.

Coudert's opponent is Jerry Finkelstein, 30 year old newcomer to the political arena, who has both Democratic and American Labor party support. He denounced the senator for his "anti-Red blast," claiming it "gives comfort to our enemies and distresses our allies." Finkelstein is publisher of the Civil Service Leader, a newspaper for city employés.

SEIZE BOY, GIRL STARTING HOLDUP TOUR TO BE WED

Arrested After Chase by Harvey Police.

A girl of 15 and a boy, 16, who said they planned to finance their wedding in a downstate town by robberies along the road, were held yesterday in the county jail. They were arrested early in the day after a wild police chase thru Harvey.

The girl is Betty Harvey of 4840 South Latrobe avenue. Her companion is Anthony Fiore of 6117 West 59th street. Arrested with them was William Czimira, 19, of 5112 South Rutherford avenue.

Admit Four Robberies.

Questioned by Assistant State's Attorney Andrew Schoenberger, Fiore and Czimira admitted they were part of a gang that robbed four gas stations and stole five automobiles in the last two weeks. They said the girl knew nothing of the gang's depredations, altho she acted as custodian for their weapons.

The chase which ended in the arrest of the three started at 159th and Wood streets in Harvey when their car was stopped by Policemen Frank Delnagro and Matt Romer.

When the policemen started to question the driver, he sped away, hurdling a ditch at 156th street and the Dixie highway. The police car, in pursuit, crashed into the ditch. The fugitives' car was found near by. In it were several pistols, a rifle, and a sword.

Police Search Fields.

Squads of Harvey police and others from the Homewood county highway station searched the nearby fields for the occupants of the car, who had fled on foot.

Fiore and the girl were arrested in Harvey, wearing western costumes, and Czimira was seized in the Harvey station of the Illinois Central railroad. Czimira had a revolver in his possession. He told police he was a hitch hiker who had been given a ride in the car, and that some one had given him the pistol when the police appeared.

Police of the downstate town where the young pair planned to be married have been notified to be on the lookout for the other members of the gang.

INDICT 5 IN SALE OF NEW TIRES TO MOVIE NOTABLES

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 11 (AP).—Five men were under a federal indictment today on charges of conspiracy to violate tire rationing regulations. The indictment charged that movie notables were among their customers.

Those indicted are Isadore Friedman, a tire dealer; Lawrence B. Huss, an employé of Friedman; and Donald L. Bishop, Joseph J. Fisher, and Nathan Levy, service station operators.

Howard V. Calverley, assistant United States attorney, said the government had evidence Friedman sold untold hundreds of new tires in violation of regulations. Named as among customers of the men are J. E. Jordan, identified as "Fibber McGee" of the radio, and Howard Hawkes, movie director. Calverley said the tires were represented to Jordan and Hawkes as used and that there was no indication either knowingly violated the law by making the purchases.

5 KILLED WHEN EXPLOSION ROCKS PLANT; 4 HURT

Hackettstown, N. J., Sept. 11 (AP).—Two explosions took five lives and temporarily halted war production today at the Hackettstown plant of the Essex Specialty company. Four persons were killed outright and the fifth died several hours later in Dover general hospital. Four other persons were injured, three of them seriously.

Fire followed the explosions and the army ordnance department placed property damage at $10,000. Capt. D. B. MacMaster said the former fireworks plant will reopen tomorrow.

Pay Roll Up 60% in Year at Rock Island Arsenal

Rock Island, Ill., Sept. 11 [Special].—The August pay roll at Rock Island arsenal was $2,568,213, compared with $1,583,523 for August, 1941, Brig. Gen. Norman F. Ramsey, the commandant, announced today. Gen. Ramsey said the pay roll figures for August, 1940, and 1939 were $1,081,984 and $429,467, respectively.

MYSTERY GROWS AS LAKE YIELDS MISSING WOMAN

Mrs. Imogene Schroeder, 42 years old, 800 Eastwood avenue, reported missing Wednesday by her family, was found drowned late Thursday under mysterious circumstances in Lake Michigan near Manitowoc, Wis., Chicago police were notified yesterday.

Mrs. Schroeder, the wife of Henry Schroeder, 84, a retired druggist, had been reported missing by a sister, Mrs. Ada Dehl, with whom she had made a shopping date. The family could give no reason for her appearance in Wisconsin, nearly 200 miles from Chicago.

Wisconsin authorities said Mrs. Schroeder was clad in a bathing suit but they could not find her clothing. Her car was parked near the beach. Coroner Theodore Tietgen of Manitowoc said he also was puzzled by a bruise on her forehead. Tietgen said he believed Mrs. Schroeder died about 1 p. m. Thursday. Her car was seen at the beach at 5 a. m. Thursday.

Members of the family could not explain Mrs Schoeder's disappearance. They said she had appeared jovial at a family dinner Sunday.

MOTHER WINS CUSTODY OF SON, 9, IN DIVORCE CASE

For the first time in five months Richard Dorczuk, 9 years old, went home with his mother, Mrs. Marie Dorczuk, 34, of 1550 North Oakley avenue, yesterday. Custody of the child, who had been with his father, Stanley, a machinist, since the couple separated April 3, was awarded the mother by Superior Court Judge Oscar F. Nelson in accordance with a recommendation by the county bureau of public welfare. Mrs. Dorczuk told the court yesterday that the boy had refused to leave his father, who lives at 1741 Crystal street. Judge Nelson directed the child to go with his mother, and held Dorczuk in chambers until the boy and Mrs. Dorczuk had left.

Shakedown Case Hearing Continued Until Sept. 24

The hearing of Edward Walsh and Walter Wagner, suspended Summerdale district policemen, on charges of conspiracy to extort money, was continued yesterday in Felony court until Sept. 24. Assistant State's Attorney Richard Devine told Judge John V. McCormick he planned to take the case directly before the grand jury. The two policemen are accused of extorting money from tavernkeepers.

2 Army Deserters Seized in Oak Park Home of One

Two army deserters, Robert W. Patton, 20 years old, 508 South East avenue, Oak Park, and Alvin B. Cohee of Casper, Wyo., were held yesterday at Fort Sheridan for authorities at Camp Shelby, Miss. They had been picked up Thursday in Patton's home by Oak Park police. They have been missing from Camp Shelby since Sept. 1, authorities said.

Divorced

MRS. JUNE AUBREY.

Mrs. June Larson Aubrey, 25 years old, a photographer's model who lives at 5123 Winthrop avenue, was granted a divorce by Judge Joseph Sabath in Superior court yesterday when she testified that her husband, Samuel Aubrey, 41, was quarrelsome and beat her. Her attorney, Philip L. Howard, said she met Aubrey last April in Miami, Fla., and married him after he told her he was a "big horseman." Later, he said, she learned his only connection with horses was to bet on them. Judge Sabath granted her restoration of her maiden name and made permanent an injunction restraining Aubrey from molesting her.

BOOKIE FIGHTING SUIT COMPLAINS PROFITS DECLINE

"Certain conditions" are sniping at the revenue of bookmakers, Irving Zuckerman, 36 years old, a west side bookie, alleged yesterday in opposing his estranged wife's petition for $50 weekly temporary support for herself and their 16 month old daughter.

Zuckerman said in an affidavit filed with Circuit Judge Thomas J. Lynch that his annual income from the handbooks he operates with his brothers on the west side was $7,577 in 1940 and $6,719 in 1941. This year, however, his return from his 9 per cent share in the bookie operations is averaging only $58.50 weekly, he continued.

Attorney Simon Herr said Zuckerman's business "has met with certain conditions that have caused a decline in his finances," altho he said the books were operating "full steam in a precarious business." Judge Lynch referred the petition to a special commissioner. Zuckerman's wife, Francine, 20, a former beauty contest winner, has a seperate maintenance suit pending.

SHOOTS WIFE'S MOTHER, THEN ENDS OWN LIFE

Walter J. Christensen, 34 years old, 11016 Bell avenue, shot and seriously wounded his mother-in-law, Mrs. Elsie Abbey, 58, of 2350 West 110th street, and then ended his own life with a bullet thru his temple yesterday afternoon.

Morgan Park police said that Christensen had crawled into a bedroom window in his mother-in-law's home while she was out of the house, and waited for her to return. While he was waiting he shot and killed a pet fox terrier which belonged to Mrs. Abbey.

When Mrs. Abbey, who had been shopping with Christensen's wife, Charlotte, opened the front door, Christensen shot her. She was taken to the Roseland Community hospital. Christensen's wife said that her husband had been ill some time, suffering from a brain tumor.

CURVED STREET SYSTEM IS URGED FOR CITY PLAN

Expert Sees a Further Shift to Suburbs.

The city subdivision building code must be revised if Chicago is to meet competition of its suburbs in development of residential areas, the Chicago Plan commission was told yesterday.

H. Evert Kincaid, director of the commission's master plan division, said a survey showed 18 square miles within the city limits are undeveloped, largely in the extreme northwest and southwest areas. Of these areas, 11.8 square miles have been subdivided but not developed.

If these sections are to be developed in accordance with modern planning methods, he continued, the subdivision code must be changed to permit the curvilinear, or irregular neighborhood street system.

Must Banish Grid System.

Among regulations which must be removed, he said, are those setting a minimum street width of 66 feet and providing there must be a street every ⅛ of a mile one way and 1-16 of a mile the other.

The curvilinear system not only produces a better arranged and more attractive neighborhood, but will reduce costs of a $1,600 subdivision lot by as much as $600, he said.

To illustrate, Kincaid used an area of 1.8 square miles, bounded by 77th street, the Grand Trunk Western railroad, Southwest highway, 87th street, and Cicero avenue.

Less Expensive.

He said in that area the curvilinear system, contrasted with Chicago's usual "grid type" layout, would save 7.1 miles of street and utility improvements, costing an estimated $749,760, and $234,500 worth of alleys, since alleys would be eliminated. The area thus could provide housing room for more persons, and larger areas for business, public, and semipublic buildings.

The commission approved a 1943 budget for submission to the city controler calling for a maximum expenditure of $145,954, a decline of $3,900 from the 1942 budget. It provides for 38 salaried staff members, two less than provided for this year. It was explained two present vacancies will not be filled.

The commission was told more than a fourth of the staff has been loaned to government agencies, including nine assigned to the Office of Civilian Defense.

WOMAN, 24, DIES; DOCTOR ACCUSED AS ABORTIONIST

Dr. Peter Pavluk, 40 years old, a physician with offices at 5425 South Halsted street, was charged by police yesterday with murder by abortion in connection with the death Wednesday of Miss Margaret Martin, 24, 5023 South Seeley avenue. The physician's wife, Anna, was charged with being an accessory. Both will appear Monday in Felony court. Dr. Pavluk denied performing an abortion and told police he treated the young woman for a hemorrhage. A coroner's inquest into the young woman's death was continued yesterday until Oct. 13.

SOUTH SIDE BOY, 3, KILLED NEAR HOME BY AUTO

Robert Mendez, 3 years old, of 323 Kensington avenue, was killed last night by an automobile near his home. The driver was Ray Ignasak, 29, of 12612 Wallace street.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 487 persons had been killed by automobiles in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these 378 were killed in Chicago, where 14,316 were injured during the same period.

CALIFORNIA LINE HIRES 16 WOMEN AS BUS DRIVERS

Sixteen women will take their places next Monday as regular drivers of motor buses for the Key system, which operates local transit lines in Oakland, Cal., William P. St. Sure, general manager of the system, told members of the American Transit association yesterday at the last session of a three day meeting in the Palmer House.

St. Sure said this will be the first time women have been employed as bus drivers on local transportation lines, altho women street car conductors were hired in the first World war and now are employed on street cars in Los Angeles and San Francisco. Women operators in Oakland will be paid the same wages as men, he said.

Officials of Chicago transit lines said no necessity for hiring women operators has yet arisen in this area.

Powell C. Groner, newly elected ATA president, told the convention that the transit industry faces the greatest crisis because of the increasing traffic loads in the face of a labor shortage and inability to buy new equipment.

STATE TO SHIFT 7,000 FAMILIES TO CHILD AID LIST

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 11 (AP).—Gov. Green today directed the state welfare department to start a $1,800,000 expansion of the aid to dependent children's program by transferring all eligible families from relief rolls to the ADC.

Rodney H. Brandon, welfare director, estimated that 7,000 families with needy children would be added to those receiving ADC funds, bringing the total program to approximately 30,000 families.

The governor's action followed a recommendation of the Illinois Public Aid commission to transfer $900,000 from relief funds to ADC to be spent on 3,500 relief families who are eligible for ADC. Brandon said that by transferring the funds to ADC a matching grant of $900,000 will be obtained from the Federal Security agency to care for an additional 3,500 nonrelief families whose applications for ADC funds have been held up by lack of funds.

TWO NAVY MEN DIE IN MICHIGAN PLANE MISHAP

A navy pilot and photographer were killed yesterday when their training plane from the Grosse Ile naval station crashed near Saline, Mich. Victims of the crash were Ensigns Warren T. Umbright, 21 years old, of 433 Belmont avenue, Arlington Heights, the pilot, and Robert Morlan, of Detroit, a naval photographer.

Umbright's father, Charles, an insurance adjustor who served with the marine corps in the last World war, said that his son had been training RAF pilots at Grosse Ile for the past five months.

Enlisting as a naval flying cadet in March, 1941, Umbright received his commission six months later in September. He was born in Chicago and attended Kelvyn Park High school here, and the Illinois School of Technology.

VAST G. M. LOAN EXPECTED TO BE IN 90 DAY NOTES

Can Be Discounted at Reserve Banks.

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 11 [Special].—The billion dollar bank credit that is being negotiated by General Motors corporation will probably take the form of negotiable 90 day notes which will be eligible for rediscount by the lender banks at the federal reserve banks, it was reported here today.

Final details are being worked out by the corporation and the participating banks and formal announcement of the program is expected to be made in a few days.

The credit, largest in the history of American banking, will be made under the provisions of regulation V which permits certain government agencies to guarantee part of the loans advanced by banks to finance necessary war work.

50 Per Cent Guarantee Likely.

A guarantee of 50 per cent of the first quarter billion advanced by the banks is expected to be made by the war department thru the Federal Reserve Bank of New York. Thereafter the guarantee will increase as the corporation draws on the banks for more money, reaching a maximum of 90 per cent.

More than 200 banks are expected to participate in the huge revolving credit. The banks will get interest of 2½ per cent on that portion of the credit that is used by the corporation, part of which will be remitted to the government under the guarantee arrangement. On the unused portion of the credit, it is expected that the corporation will pay a nominal rate of ⅛ of 1 per cent. However, final agreement on this point is yet to be reached, it was said.

One of Biggest War Producers.

General Motors corporation is one of the largest war contractors in the country and its operations are expanding daily. Never in its peacetime operations, however, has it gone to the banks for any loan approaching in size the one now sought.

Because of the size of the loan it was decided to borrow the money on 90 day renewable notes which the banks, if necessary, could take to the reserve banks and rediscount as they are permitted to do with eligible high grade commercial paper.

Under this arrangement the banks can have the notes rediscounted at the reserve banks at the regular rate which is 1 per cent in the New York and Chicago districts. On other paper, not eligible for rediscount, the banks are permitted to borrow from the reserve banks but must pay a higher rate.

Can Demand Loan Assumption.

Under regulation V the banks are entitled to ask the government, thru the reserve banks, to take up the guaranteed portion of the loan at any time on 10 days' notice. However, if the notes can be rediscounted at the reserve bank there will be little incentive for a bank to invoke this clause of the guarantee agreement, it was said. Instead, if a bank needs its funds for other purposes it can have the notes rediscounted without calling on the government for full payment.

The reserve authorities, it was reported, have given their approval of the tentative loan arrangements.

PROPERTY OWNER GROUPS TO TALK OVER PROBLEMS

Property owners from all parts of the United States will be in Chicago Monday and Tuesday to attend a conference on rent control, taxation, and other problems affecting their interests, sponsored by the National Federation of Property Owners associations. Sessions will be held in the Hotel Sherman.

Following are some of the speakers and their subjects: Paul A. Porter, deputy administrator, rent division, OPA, "Administration Policies on Rent Control"; Herbert U. Nelson, executive vice president, National Association of Real Estate Boards, "Our Committee Activities in Washington." Ronald J. Chinnock, president of the Chicago Real Estate board, will give a welcoming address.

War Contract Act Criticized as Inflationary

Minneapolis, Minn., Sept. 11 [Special].—The war contract price renegotiation law has turned loose in the war industries an inflationary force that cannot be controled without repeal of the law, John B. Hawley Jr., the nation's largest private producer of naval ordnance equipment, warned congress today.

John B. Hawley Jr.

Hawley, president of Northern Pump company, Minneapolis, telegraphed Sen. Walter F. George [D., Ga.], chairman of the senate finance committee, and other congressmen outlining the effects which uncertainties and risks resulting from the law are having on arms producers. He asserted:

1. Manufacturers, subject to repeated price cuts when they show a sizeable profit, can avoid ruin only by increasing their costs thru hiring thousands of workers they would not need if they could operate at peak efficiency without fear of having prices slashed.

Hiring, Costs Excessive.

2. As a result of such unnecessary hiring, men are being taken from $80 a month jobs on farms and put into industrial work at wages as high as $4,000 a year, with dangerous inflationary effects, without adding to war goods output.

3. This unnecessarily high cost production is vastly increasing the cost of the war and cuts down the production margin by which one side or the other in the conflict will win.

"Two contractors take contracts for identical material at identical contract prices," he continued, "and the efficient contractor finishes his job in half the time and at half the cost of the inefficient contractor.

Efficiency Penalized.

"Then renegotiation forces the efficient contractor to give back all the funds he has saved thru efficient operation, and then forces him to take new contracts at half the price. The inefficient contractor takes twice as long to deliver, gets his full anticipated profit, and is not renegotiated out of anything.

"Because renegotiation bases profit on cost, the highly efficient contractor can double his profit by hiring unnecessary men or merely adopting a passive attitude which automatically slows up shipments, thereby increasing his cost and protecting him against reduced prices.

Industry Confused, Hesitant.

"Private industry is all confused because of renegotiation and hesitates to take additional contract burdens, forcing contracts into inefficient, high cost government operated plants, thereby forcing further building of government owned facilities and wasting material needed for ships and guns.

"This war will require a hundred times as much ordnance machinery as the last war, and there is absolutely no possible way for any law to control inflation resulting from waste.

"Manufacturers are not opposed to high taxes or profit limitation based on sales instead of cost and imposed after paying federal taxes."

Pullman Profit Much Larger

The Pullman company, Chicago, sleeping car subsidiary of Pullman, Inc., reported yesterday that its net income for the first seven months of 1942 was nearly treble that of the corresponding 1941 period despite soaring federal taxes. The respective profit figures were $4,316,684 and $1,555,720.

Gross revenue was $50,739,760, compared with $37,809,115 a year earlier. Federal income tax provisions rose to $4,551,039 from $442,727. The company said that, according to present estimates, no excess profits tax has accrued.

Pullman company's July net income was $569,451, contrasted with $41,237 in July, 1941. Gross revenue for the month was $7,893,807, compared with $5,323,799 and tax provisions totaled $1,047,677, against $40,596.

Consumers' Gain Is Large.

The Consumers company, Chicago building materials and fuel concern, reported that net income before federal taxes in the first seven months of this year was $205,885, compared with $28,887 in the corresponding 1941 period.

Robert C. Fenner, president of Consumers, told stockholders that total sales increased about 15 per cent in the seven months, compared with a year ago. The largest gains were in pit and quarry operations. He said the company is engaged in furnishing substantial amounts of materials for war construction in the Chicago area.

"Sales from our building material yards have declined due to war restrictions on private residential and industrial construction," Fenner reported.

Coal Sales Larger.

"Sales of retail coal and fuel oil show increases due in part to our receiving orders earlier this year than usual in response to the federal government's request that all users fill their storage bins and tanks to capacity now in order to relieve transportation congestion during the coming fall and winter. Ice sales are less than a year ago due principally to our cool summer."

Fenner said the company is continuing its efforts to dispose of idle properties and equipment, realizing $326,000 on such sales so far this year for a loss of about $70,000 from book values. This loss has been charged against operating profits and proceeds from the sales are being used to retire bonds, he explained.

[Additional earnings figures are on page 22, column 8.]

Week's Sales Rise

Washington, D. C., Sept. 11 (AP).—The Federal Reserve board estimated today that department store sales in the week ended Sept. 5 were 25 per cent larger than in the corresponding week last year. However, the board said that because of a difference in Labor day dates, the week included six business days this year, but the corresponding week last year had only five business days.

In the week ended Aug. 29, sales were 13 per cent less than a year ago, and in the four weeks ended Sept. 5, they averaged 1 per cent more than a year ago.

By federal reserve districts, last week's increases over a year ago included: Boston, 28 per cent; New York, 14; Philadelphia, 23; Cleveland, 36; Richmond, 36; Atlanta, 40; Chicago, 16; St. Louis, 10; Kansas City, 43; Dallas, 22, and San Francisco, 49.

The rush of the public to pay up charge accounts before July 10, which was the first default date under the federal reserve credit regulations, caused a 23.3 per cent drop in the total charge accounts of department stores outstanding in July.

CHICAGO TENANTS TO RECEIVE OPA RENT STATEMENT

By Monday, 50,000 Chicago area tenants will have received copies of the rent registration statement filed with the OPA by their landlords, Herbert N. Lustig, registration supervisor, announced yesterday.

Lustig said mailing will be completed today of this initial allotment sent out to determine reaction of tenants. They will check the accuracy of landlord statements on rent charged and services supplied on the March 1 freeze date. Further mailings will not follow for some time.

Complete returns of the nearly 900,000 nontransient registration statements will not be completed for several weeks, Lustig said. In the process of editing are 918,000 multiple and individual forms representing 963,000 housing units. No forms will be returned to tenants of transient accommodations, such as hotels, rooming houses and dormitories.

WEST SUBURBAN LINE COMPLETES REORGANIZING

An order of final decree entered in federal court yesterday by Judge Philip L. Sullivan terminated the reorganization proceedings of the Chicago and West Towns Railways company which have been in progress for the last five years.

The order discharges the railway, which serves the western suburbs from the jurisdiction of the court and places it again on the basis of public utility. Judge Sullivan, however, retains the right to preside in any controversy which may arise from the reorganization plan.

The original petition for reorganization was filed on June 29, 1937, and the plan was approved by Judge Sullivan last April 15. The chief feature of the plan provides that the bonds of the company do not mature before 1947. The bonds originally were to mature in 1937.

SALVAGE DRIVE FOR CHEMICALS TO CENTER HERE

The WPB campaign to salvage 100 million pounds of essential chemicals will be centered Nov. 24 to 29 on the National Chemical exposition in the Hotel Sherman.

The industrial salvage section of the WPB conservation division completed arrangements yesterday with the Chicago section of the American Chemical society, sponsor of the exposition and the national conference to be held in conjunction.

The society will coöperate in arranging for an exhibit to demonstrate the reclamation, recovery and salvage of solvents, paints, toluol and chemical by-products. S. Donald Perlman, executive chemical director of the WPB conservation division, is to address the conference.

SEC Revokes Registration of Superior Investment Co.

The registration of the Superior Investment company, 9 South Kedzie avenue, was revoked yesterday by the Securities and Exchange commission on charges of violating the anti-fraud provisions of the securities act of 1933 and 1934. The SEC said the company, an over the counter broker and dealer, had filed an answer and consent. The commission's charges included failure to keep proper transaction records and failure by the company to have net capital in its business.

Debt by 1945 May Pass 166 Years' Saving

In the five years to end July 1, 1945, the United States probably will have created a debt exceeding the 265 billion dollars of capital it has saved in 166 years, and there may be a full value mortgage on everything in the nation, Sterling Morton, president of the Illinois Manufacturers association, said yesterday in a plea for an end to nonessential government spending.

Sterling Morton.

Morton asserted also that sales taxes or other levies will have to be imposed to supplement income and excise taxes if the danger of too much deficit financing, with its inflationary tendencies, is to be avoided. He outlined his views in a statement submitted to the association's board of directors.

Total confiscation of all incomes of more than $5,000 a year would finance the war for not quite seven weeks, Morton said. He warned that the nation does not have enough "real money"—savings—to finance expenditures at the scheduled rate.

Must Stop Waste.

To avoid inflationary borrowing beyond a safe limit, the government must stop waste on nonwar activities, Morton declared.

"We have no quarrel with spending which is necessary," he said, "but we must be sure that it is necessary. It is reasonable to anticipate that on July 1, 1945, the government debt will approximate the entire net capital formed in this country during all the years from the Declaration of Independence to date, which is estimated at 265 billion dollars.

"In other words, a mortgage to its full value may have been placed on every tool the mechanic uses, every implement the farmer uses, the desk and pen of the office worker, and the pots and pans of the housewife.

Wise Spending Urged.

"Must we not be sure that the money spent for war purposes is wisely spent and spent only on things necessary for victory?

"Is it unpatriotic to ask governments—whether federal, state, or local—to exercise that economy which they preach to citizens?

"Can we afford 3 million dollars of waste near Gary, to cite one instance? [He apparently referred to cancelation of a synthetic rubber plant project after millions had been spent starting it.]

"Is it wrong to urge caution when the alternative is repudiation?

"There is a bottom to the barrel. The present rate of spending can be disastrous if long continued. Every dollar wasted is an act of sabotage."

FEW WAR BONDS BEING CASHED, SAYS TREASURY

July Redemption 3% of Month's Sale.

BY JOHN FISHER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 11.—Treasury officials declare that redemptions of war bonds bought under pressure of special drives have been insignificant in volume.

In July—the latest month for which data is available—redemptions totaled $25,500,000, or less than 3 per cent of sales totaling $900,900,000 for that month. These redemptions also were equivalent to only 23/100th of 1 per of the $11,077,800,000 in redemption value of war bonds outstanding on July 31.

Each war bond carries on its face a statement that it can be redeemed for cash at any time, beginning 60 days after issue date in the case of series E bonds, and six months after the issue date in the case of the F and G series. A table of redemption values by six month periods is also printed on each bond.

Have Little Adverse Effect.

Officials said that a minute proportion of bond holders have had to turn in their bonds for cash "and intensification of the war bond sales campaign in recent months has had no appreciable effect on the amount of bonds redeemed."

The monthly totals of sales and redemptions of war bonds of all series from May 1, 1941, when the bond campaign started, thru July, 1942, are shown in the following table [in millions of dollars]:

Month.	Sales.	1941. Outstanding.	Redemptions.	% redeemed.
May	$ 349.8	$ 4,008.1	$14.0	0.35
June	314.5	4,314.0	14.8	0.34
July	342.1	4,649.4	18.0	0.39
Aug.	265.6	4,907.8	12.9	0.26
Sept.	232.3	5,131.8	14.4	0.28
Oct.	270.7	5,394.0	13.7	0.25
Nov.	233.5	5,619.7	12.8	0.23
Dec.	528.6	6,139.7	16.3	0.27
		1942.
Jan.	1,060.5	7,198.3	15.4	0.21
Feb.	703.2	7,893.4	15.8	0.20
March	557.9	8,435.9	22.0	0.26
April	530.5	8,951.0	21.3	0.24
May	634.4	9,569.0	22.1	0.23
June	633.9	10,188.2	22.8	0.22
July	900.9	11,077.8	25.5	0.23

Fewer than Before War.

According to the treasury, the percentage of redemptions, on a cumulative basis, of the E, F, and G series is less than one-half of what it was for the old "baby bonds" for a corresponding period. As of July 31, 1942, only 1.23 per cent of all E, F, and G war bonds sold from May 1, 1941 had been redeemed, the treasury reported.

Total redemptions of series A and B of the baby bonds during a similar 15 month period, from March 1, 1935, to May 30, 1936, were 2.93 per cent of the total sold, the treasury said. The redemption figures on war bonds meant that on July 31, 1942, a total of 98.77 per cent of the bonds bought by 20 million individual Americans were still held by them.

NEW 5 CENT COIN 35% SILVER; HAS NO NICKEL IN IT

Washington, D. C., Sept. 11 [Special].—Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau announced today that the new 5 cent piece authorized by congress last March will be composed of 35 per cent silver, 56 per cent copper, and 9 per cent manganese. Manufacture of the new coin will start next week at the Philadelphia mint. The nickel now in circulation is 25 per cent nickel and the remainder copper. The new coin will be in the design of the present Jefferson nickel. It will tarnish more readily than the old coin.

Tighten Rail Reservation Rule; Roads Boost Fares to Florida

Must Buy Next Day

New regulations covering the sale of tickets, put into effect to help the railroads handle the mounting volume of wartime passenger business, were announced yesterday by Hugh W. Siddall, chairman of the Transcontinental-Western Passenger associations. The new rules are designed to help the roads get maximum use from the limited supply of passenger equipment.

Siddall said that effective Tuesday if reservations are made less than 16 week days in advance the tickets must be purchased before 5 p. m. of the following business day. Where reservations are made for departure the same or the following day, tickets and reserved space must be purchased at least three hours prior to departure.

Three Days for Out of Towner.

The rules cover reservations made in the city from which any trip originates. Where advance out of town reservations are made the deadline for purchasing rail tickets and reserved space will be 5 p. m of the third business day following the making of the reservation. None, however, will be held later than three hours prior to departure.

Siddall said that altho there are only half as many passenger cars available as there were during the World war, today's passenger traffic, as measured by passengers carried one mile, is actually exceeding that of the previous all-time peak of 1920.

"In the railroads' all-out effort to provide peak efficiency in both military and civilian movements, it has become necessary to place certain time limitations on reservations," he explained. "However, any public inconvenience involved by these new regulations will be more than offset by the more efficient service they will afford."

Military Gets First Call.

Siddall said that in all cases military needs will get first attention, after which civilian business will be handled to the best of the railroads' ability.

Meantime, military travel and the heavy freight business are causing some delays in arrival time of passenger trains. Most of the nation's crack trains are doing well in maintaining their on-time records, railroad men said, but the secondary trains have been late frequently. Troop movements and freight trains loaded with essential war material are getting precedence.

Effective Oct. 1

Railroad fares to Florida and to the southeastern part of the country will go up on Oct. 1. Under the new fares to be put into effect by the southeastern railroads, 15 day return limits for coach tickets and 30 day round trip limits for first class will be discontinued, placing all round trip tickets under a 90 day return limit.

Tickets in territory served by the southeastern roads will be sold on a 2.2 cents a mile basis—the same as in other parts of the nation—for coach travel. When the increases become effective it is said that for the first time in history fares will be uniform for coach tickets thruout the country.

Comparison of Fares.

Representative fares from Chicago to several points in Florida follow:

Coach—One Way.	Present fares.	New fares.
Jacksonville	$19.85	$23.91
Miami	25.80	31.61
St. Petersburg	22.75	27.76
Coach—Round Trip.
Jacksonville	$37.62	$43.05
Miami	49.28	65.90
St. Petersburg	43.12	50.00

Fare for one way first class tickets will be practically the same as at present, there being only 1 cent difference. Fares will be as follows: Jacksonville, $35.86; Miami, $47.41, and St. Petersburg, $41.64.

Round Trip Up About $5.

Because of the elimination of the 30 day return limit for first class tickets the round trip tickets will be about the same as for the present 90 day return tickets. The prices of a 90 day round trip ticket and a present 30 day round trip first class ticket—to be discontinued—compare as follows:

	30 day ticket.	90 day ticket.
Jacksonville	$53.79	$58.25
Miami	71.12	77.50
St. Petersburg	62.40	67.87

Thus the elimination of the 30 day first class ticket raises the price of a round trip ticket by $5 or more.

I. C. C. ORDERS ROADS IGNORE STATE CURBS ON LENGTH OF TRAINS

Washington, D. C., Sept. 11 (AP).—The Interstate Commerce commission today ordered all railroads to operate trains without regard to state limitations on their length or number of cars.

Some states limit the length of freight trains to not more than one-half mile and the number of cars in a train to not more than 70 and in a passenger train to 14 or 16.

Compliance with such practices during the present emergency, the commission said, "may result in congestion on tracks and terminals, wasteful use of locomotives and interference with the free flow of traffic necessary in the present emergency."

FREIGHT TRAFFIC OFF FOR WEEK, BUT ABOVE 1941

Loadings of freight during the week ended Sept. 5 totaled 887,960 cars, the Association of American Railroads reported yesterday. This was a decrease of 11,459 cars, or 1.3 per cent, compared with the preceding week and an increase of 90,169 cars, or 11.3 per cent, compared with a year ago.

The report classified the loadings as follows:

ELECT R. E. WOOD, C. A. M'CULLOCH TO BANK'S BOARD

Gen. Robert E. Wood, chairman of Sears, Roebuck & Co., and Charles A. McCulloch, Chicago industrialist, yesterday were elected directors of the First National Bank of Chicago to fill vacancies. McCulloch was a member of the board several years ago. He declined reëlection in 1936 because of the pressure of duties in numerous corporations with which he is connected.

The bank's board also promoted Edmund Burke to controler. Burke is auditor, and will retain that title. As controler he takes the place vacated temporarily by Charles Z. Meyer, a reserve corps officer now on leave of absence for active duty in the army.

Almost Half of Rationed New Cars Gone, Says OPA

Washington, D. C., Sept. 11 (AP).—The OPA reported today that only about 210,000 passenger automobiles remain available for rationing between now and the end of February, 1943. The original stock pile was 402,077 cars for release under the rationing program.

SENATE TO GET TAX BILL NEAR END OF MONTH

Committee to Meet Again Today.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 11 (AP).—Senate consideration of the new revenue bill seemed likely tonight to be delayed until the week of Sept. 28 despite President Roosevelt's call for speed.

The senate finance committee will hold an unusual session tomorrow but some members said the bill might not be ready to go to the drafting staff until the middle of next week. Draftsmen have asked for two weeks to put it into legal language.

Chairman Walter F. George [D., Ga.] said that even after the measure was ready it would have to wait until legislation authorizing the President to stabilize wages and farm prices is passed.

No Action on Pay Ceiling.

In his recent message demanding anti-inflation legislation by Oct. 1, Mr. Roosevelt said it was essential also to have speedy action on new taxes. He urged congress to close several "loopholes" in the present law and to boost levies to the point where no one would have more than $25,000 yearly after paying his taxes.

The treasury has presented no specific proposal of this nature and the committee has taken no action to establish the $25,000 limitation. Neither has it accepted any of the treasury's recommendations to close loopholes.

It turned down another of these suggestions today, voting 12 to 6 to continue the present system of permitting oil and mining enterprises to take tax deductions for intangible development costs, in addition to percentage depletion allowances.

Revises Cigar Taxes.

The committee revised the house schedule on cigar taxes, voting for a $3 per thousand tax on two for a nickel cigars and a $4 tax on nickel smokes. The readjustment of rates, treasury officials said, lost about 3 million dollars in yearly revenue from the rates approved by the house.

Treasury tables compiled to show the total impact of the new income tax rates and the 5 per cent "victory" gross income levy show that if a married man with two dependent children earned $50,000 a year he would have to pay the government $26,636 in taxes. A man with a million dollar income would retain only $92,029, and one who had an income of $5,000,000 could keep only $349,806.

STOCKS CONTINUE RECESSION; SOME SPECIALTIES UP

Low Priced Issues Have Largest Trade.

New York, Sept. 11 (AP).—Assorted specialties were relatively strong, but stock market favorites generally extended their recent decline.

Lightening of accounts as a precaution for the week-end, plus lack of inspiration in the news of war, taxes, and the campaign against rising living costs kept most bullish forces in check. Favorable individual situations bolstered some issues.

The list loitered in a fractionally lower range at the start, and declines ran to a point or so for pivotals at the lowest time. Some losses were reduced before the close. Issues selling under $10 a share again accounted for a large portion of the volume.

Market Is Broader.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was off 0.2 of a point at 36.6. Transfers totaled 376,460 shares compared with 344,993 yesterday. It was rather a broad market, 646 issues traded.

Two 10 share trading units, Twin City Rapid Transit preferred and United States Distributing preferred, registered wide advances. The former jumped 9¾ points to its best level since 1937, and the latter was up 3½ to a new peak since 1931. Twin City common was ahead ¾ to a top since 1938. Chicago Great Western preferred edged to a new high for the year, and Market Street Railway prior preferred added to its recent recovery.

CHICAGO DROP CONTINUES.

The downward trend of prices on the Chicago Stock exchange continued yesterday in turnover of 15,000 shares. Of the 86 issues traded, 48 declined, 20 advanced, and 18 were unchanged.

Chicago corporation, the volume leader, closed 1-16 higher. Other leaders were Commonwealth Edison, up ¼; Libby, McNeill & Libby, unchanged; Middle West, down ⅛. Consumers company preferred, up 2.

Swift & Co., up ⅛, was the only stock which changed in the half hour of trading after the New York close.

STRIKERS RETURN TODAY AT ALTON CARTRIDGE PLANT

WLB Hearing to Decide Disputed Issues.

Alton, Ill., Sept. 11 (AP).—The four day paralyzing strike at Western Cartridge company's big East Alton plant was ended tonight as several thousand employés at a mass meeting gave unanimous voice of approval of an agreement to return to work at 8 a. m. tomorrow.

The agreement was reached this evening at a conference attended by company representatives, officials of the AFL Chemical Workers' union, Francis B. Murphy, director of the Illinois department of labor; Robben Fleming, War Labor board mediation officer, and William F. White, federal conciliator.

Union officials immediately left the conference, taking picketers with them, and asked the strikers assembled close to the plant to ratify the agreement.

Resume Work Today.

The agreement provided they return to work at their regular shifts beginning tomorrow morning, and that the dispute be settled by the WLB at hearings to open Sept. 21 in Washington, D. C.

The agreement came after blunt "back to work" orders had been received from William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor.

"No delay in production can be tolerated," he said. "Nevertheless, I think the public is entitled to know that the Western Cartridge company, by its arbitrary anti-union tactics, is directly responsible for this strike.

"The company discharged the president of the local union and charged him with sabotage. An official inquiry was made by an army commission which exonerated the union leader and recommended his reinstatement. This the company has refused to do. That is how this strike came about."

Object to Terms.

The union's local president, Francis Bunzy, was suspended on June 19 for allegedly entering a restricted area of the plant. Following the war department investigation, the company agreed to restore him under suspended status, subject to action by the company's disciplinary committee. The union objected to these terms.

Twelve companies of the Illinois reserve militia were mobilized to prevent possible disorders, but there was no trouble.

No trouble. The troops are expected to be dispersed tomorrow.

ILLINOIS OUTPUT OF OIL DECLINES IN EIGHT MONTHS

Restrictions on the use of steel and other wartime conditions caused a big reduction in oil drilling activities in Illinois during the first eight months of this year, the state geological survey reported yesterday at Springfield.

The survey said drilling in recent months has dropped more than 50 per cent from levels of a year earlier.

The number of producing wells completed in Illinois from January to the end of August this year was 702, compared with 1,802 in the first eight months of last year. Drilling permits in the 1942 period totaled 1,562, against 2,949 a year earlier.

The yield of petroleum from Illinois wells also showed a decline, estimated output being 74,701,000 barrels of crude for the eight months, compared with 83,894,000 barrels in the corresponding 1941 period.

Drilling permits issued in August numbered 194, compared with 338 in July.

Oil production in August was estimated at 8,190,000 barrels, against 8,506,000 in the preceding month. There were 11,196 producing wells.

RAILS ENCOUNTER PROFIT TAKING AND BONDS SLIDE

New York, Sept. 11 (AP).—The bond market lost ground today when the recently strong rails encountered profit taking. In the Associated Press averages, rails, industrials, and utilities each gave up .1 of a point. The foreign and low yields were unchanged.

Sales fell to $10,285,300, face value, from $14,385,100 on Thursday when the whole list benefited from strong demand for low priced rail bonds.

Listed United States government bonds were inactive again, with only two transactions.

Australia 4½s lost ¾ and the 5s lost 2½ points of recent gains. Other foreign loans were mixed, with some South Americans higher.

ODT APPROVES PLAN FOR CHICAGO CLEARING OFFICE FOR MOVERS

The Office of Defense Transportation, in its first order approving a coordinated conservation plan submitted by motor carriers engaged in over the road operations, yesterday authorized four moving companies to establish a Chicago office to clear information on exchange shipments and otherwise "facilitate the movement of household goods."

Firms involved in the order are the Aero-Mayflower Transit company, Greyvan Lines, United Van Lines, and North American Van Lines. They will divide the cost of the office.

W. W. Shearer, treasurer of Greyvan, said representatives of the four companies would meet Tuesday to arrange final details for setting up the office.

ODT ordered the carriers to register with the clearing office all shipments they are unable to handle because of ODT restrictions, and empty or partially loaded equipment for which no shipments are available. Each carrier thus will be advised of shipments and available truck space.

People and Events

L. F. Hampel.

L. F. Hampel, former professor of statistics and finance at the University of Akron, has joined the United Air Lines as an economist, H. E. Nourse, budget director, announced yesterday. Hampel was at one time curator of social sciences at the Museum of Science and Industry here.

George Brandenburg, Chicago representative of Editor & Publisher, will speak on "Mandatory War Alterations," at a meeting of the Industrial Editors association next Thursday noon in the Bismarck hotel.

The Womens' Roundtable of Economics was formed recently by a group of women workers on La Salle street. Officers include Miss Kathryn Coger, Northern Trust company, president; Mrs. W. E. McCollum, 7240 Paxton avenue, vice president; Miss Irene Bliss, Chicago Title & Trust company, treasurer, and Miss Julia Halasa, Zurich Insurance company, secretary.

'E' CEREMONIES HELD AT 2 MORE CHICAGO PLANTS

Two more Chicago plants, those of the Diamond T Motor Car company and the Bauer and Black division of the Kendall company, yesterday received the army-navy award for outstanding war production.

The "E" pennant was presented to Diamond T by Brig. Gen. Donald Armstrong, chief of the army's tank and automotive center in Detroit. It was accepted by Charles A. Tilt, president of the company. Lieut. Col. John Slezak presented "E" pins, which were accepted on behalf of the workers by Thomas Law, union president. The speaker was Leverett S. Lyon, chief executive officer of the Chicago Association of Commerce.

The Bauer and Black pennant presentation was made by Brig. Gen. John M. Willis, commander of the medical replacement center at Camp Grant. It was accepted by R. A. Whidden, president of the company. Commander E. J. Stein, senior medical officer of the office of officer procurement, Chicago, awarded "E" pins to the employés. They were accepted on the workers' behalf by Peter Sosovec and Helen Rokosz.

NIAGARA HUDSON UNIT PREFERRED DIVIDEND PASSED

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 11 (AP).—Directors of the Buffalo, Niagara and Eastern Power corporation today took no action with respect to dividends on either the $5 or $1.60 preferred stocks.

This is the first time that the regular quarterly dividend has been omitted on either issue.

On Aug. 28 the Securities and Exchange commission, invoking "death sentence" provisions of the holding company act, instituted proceedings against Niagara Hudson Power company and six subsidiaries, including Buffalo, Niagara and Eastern.

The company told stockholders that recent actions of the SEC and the Federal Power commission tie up the earnings of Niagara Falls Power company, which contribute substantially to earnings of Buffalo, Niagara and Eastern. The FPC in June determined that the "actual legitimate original cost" of the Niagara Falls company's fixed capital was $15,787,688 less than its book cost when given a license to use the Niagara river for power purposes in 1921.

TWO DAY BREAK IN HOGS REDUCES PRICES 40 CENTS

Continued larger shipments and the prospect of ceilings on live stock prices were factors in a drop of 15 to 35 cents a hundred pounds in hogs yesterday at the Chicago stock yards.

The average cost of hogs was $13.95, a reduction of 40 cents in two days. This is only 5 cents above the lowest daily average since April 2 and 65 cents under the 1942 high several weeks ago. A $14.40 top was given for select 220 to 247 pounders.

Chicago receipts were swelled to 22,000 head, including hogs sent direct to packers, the largest Friday total in eight months. This compared with only 11,066 hogs a week earlier.

Prices for the scant supply of cattle were mostly steady. Strong to 10 cents higher prices were paid for lambs.

State Treasurer Wright Forms New Oil Company

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 11 (AP).—State Treasurer Warren Wright and two associates, R. Morris and H. G. Allison, received articles of incorporation today for the Warren Wright Oil Company, Inc. The company was organized "to acquire, own, operate, and generally deal in and with gas, oil and mineral lands, leashold, and royalty interests."

Letters

[Letters of 200 words or less addressed to the financial editor are printed in this column from time to time.]

Helping Understand the News.

Chicago, Ill., Sept. 9.—Please allow me to congratulate you for your foresight and good judgment in printing the parity prices on your financial page, Sept. 8.

In his speech on Labor day, the President spoke of parity numerous times.

In relation to present day prices, what did parity mean?

You were the only paper giving this information and in my opinion and the opinion of others, who commented about the story, it was a scoop.

Keep up the good work. W. E. R.

JOINS RESERVE SYSTEM.

The Port Byron State bank, Port Byron, Ill., has been admitted to the Federal Reserve system. Rollo J. Mullery is president of the bank.

REPORTS TO SEC DISCLOSE MORE LARGE SALARIES

Chicago Officials Among Those in Latest List.

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 11 (AP).—A salary increase of $90,550 was received last year by Joseph F. McMahon, salesman and department manager for R. C. Williams and company, oldest food distributing house in New York, additional annual reports filed with the Securities and Exchange commission showed today.

McMahon's compensation of $127,850 for the year ended April 30 was $58,752 more than that received by Hugo Jaburg, president, treasurer and director, who received $69,098, compared with $40,070 in 1940. McMahon got $37,300 in 1940.

Patino Official Given Boost.

Patino Mines and Enterprises Consolidated, Inc., paid Percy E. Holme, general manager of mine operations in Bolivia, $32,500 in American currency and raised his remuneration in Bolivian dollars from 15,000 to 195,000. Patino also paid Miguel Etchenique, representative at La Paz and a director, $16,250 in American money and 13,000 in Bolivian dollars, against 2,600 pounds sterling and 54,600 Bolivian dollars in 1939.

JONES, LAUGHLIN PAY NEGOTIATION FAILS; UP TO WLB

Pittsburgh, Pa., Sept. 11 (AP).—President H. Edgar Lewis of the Jones & Laughlin Steel corporation announced tonight contract negotiations with the CIO United Steel Workers of America were ended without an agreement and the points at issue would be referred to the War Labor board.

"Principally, the company would not agree to a violation of the sanctity of its contract with the union on the matter of retroactive pay," the announcement said. "The maintenance of memmbership and checkoff clause are other subjects on which agreement failed."

Lewis said the company was willing to increase pay 5½ cents an hour, raising the minimum rate to 78 cents, retroactive to Aug. 9, the date on which the old contract would have expired following formal notice from the union.

Northern Pacific 7 Months' Profit Exceeds 4 Millions

Northern Pacific railroad yesterday reported its net income for seven months ended July 31 was $4,211,807, compared with $1,609,882 in the corresponding period last year. July net income was $1,376,871 compared with a net income of $1,357,228 in July, 1941.

EXPECT ADVANCE IN SALES BY 40% OF BUSINESSES

Survey Shows 30% Plan on Lower Volume.

New York, Sept. 11 (AP).—A nation-wide survey by Dun & Bradstreet disclosed today that fewer than one half of the thousands of manufacturers queried expect an increase in sales volume in the latter half of 1942 over the corresponding period last year.

Analysis of the first returns indicated that the most hopeful groups are makers of machinery, electrical equipment, food products, and chemicals. Those who believe they face the gloomiest prospects manufacture paper, men's apparel, and lumber.

Some Forced to Quit.

Grouping all industries together, the survey disclosed 40 out of every 100 canvassed expect larger sales, 30 expect about the same volume as last year, and the remaining 30 expect a decline.

In this last 30 are some who expect to be completely out of business by the end of 1942 or early in 1943. Virtually all of these said their plight was caused by inability to obtain materials and inability to convert plant facilities to war use.

"There seems to be no easy answer to the question 'what kind of a plant is convertible,'" said Dun & Bradstreet.

Some Success Stories.

"Some stories tell of successful adaptation of present equipment to war business, sometimes at a wide profit and sometimes merely a make-shift to cover overhead and keep skilled plant employés together.

"Other stories tell of discouragement and lack of ability to adapt present equipment to any useful or profitable endeavor.

"The comments reflect the imagination or lack of alert manufacturers who have helped to meet both the national crisis and their own crisis by their energetic approach to their problems.

"Others seem to have taken a negative attitude in which they consider themselves casualties of the war production program."

LAW PREVENTING SALE TO EMPLOYE IS RULED INVALID

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 11 (AP).—An Illinois law that prohibits employers from selling tools or other merchandise to their employés was held unconstitutional today by Attorney General George F. Barrett.

The opinion was asked by John Lord O'Brien, WPB counsel, who had contended the statute was hampering war production. He explained that employers, with high priorities on tools and equipment, can obtain them while most employés cannot.

Barrett's opinion held the Illinois statute, forbidding firms from selling merchandise not ordinarily handled in the regular course of their business, violated the due process of law sections of the state and federal constitutions.

REPUBLIC STEEL SUED FOR PAY OF FORMER OFFICIAL

Cleveland, O., Sept. 11 (AP).—A suit to compel Republic Steel corporation to return to the stockholders, in the form of a judgment, pension funds and annual salaries paid to Myron A. Wick, retired director and vice president, has been filed in Common Pleas court by Mrs. Hannah S. Holmes, a Cleveland stockholder.

Declaring she was acting for other stockholders as well as herself, Mrs. Holmes' petition charged Republic paid "excessive, unconscionable, and unlawful" salaries to Wick in the last 10 years, reaching a peak of $58,750 for 1939. It asked the court to cancel a pension plan contract of April 15, 1937, under which it said Wick received in 1940 annuity funds totaling $12,500.

ALLOY.

Please provide a report on Climax Molybdenum company and the importance of its product to the steel industry. Are there any large stockholders?—G. F. Y.

Answer: Owning a large ore deposit in Colorado, this company produces 70 to 85 per cent of the world's annual output of molybdenum, a metal important as an alloy in steel production and as a raw material in the manufacture and processing of various chemicals.

Molybdenum is marketed in three principal forms, ferro-molybdenum, calcium molybdate, and molybdenum trioxide. The first two are used in alloying steels to impart strength. Molybdenum trioxide is used in the manufacture of insoluble colors, as a catalyst agent and in the production of several chemical compounds.

The company's mine is the largest molybdenum deposit in the world. Proved and probable ore reserves have been estimated by the company to be sufficient for more than 55 years of operation at capacity. A record of recent financial results follows:

	Sales.	Net income.	Dividends.
1941	$20,070,025	$ 8,054,105	$3.20
1940	12,920,982	6,039,373	2.20
1939	20,475,374	10,309,586	3.20
1938	15,377,537	7,873,141	2.20
1937	17,037,586	7,173,796	1.70

The company was incorporated in Delaware in 1918. Sole capitalization at the end of 1941 was 2,520,000 shares of no par common stock outstanding. The shares ranged from 27 to 44½ on the New York Stock exchange last year.

Net income in the first six months of 1942 was $5,494,530, compared with $3,975,026 in the 1941 period. Two dividends of 30 cents each have been paid this year.

At the end of 1941, the American Metal Company, Ltd., owned 225,000 shares of Climax Molybdenum, or about 9 per cent of the outstanding stock.

OMIT DIVIDEND.

Did Basic Refractories omit its common dividend last month?—T. L.

Answer: Yes.

EQUITABLE LIFE.

What percentage of assets of Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States is invested in bonds? What was the yield on all the company's assets last year?—G. K.

Answer: At the end of 1941, the company had 73 per cent of its assets invested in bonds. The yield on all investments was 3.1 per cent.
